

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight and Sunday; possibly rain Sunday night. Moderate westerly winds.

THE LOWELL SUN

5 O'CLOCK

ESTABLISHED 1878

LOWELL MASS. SATURDAY NOVEMBER 19 1910

PRICE ONE CENT

40,000 PEOPLE

Gathered at New Haven to Watch Great Football Game

Much Speculation on the Result of the Contest — Both Sides Confident as Usual — Men in Good Trim for Battle

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 19.—The eyes of forty thousand intensely enthusiastic spectators, the minds of the American sporting world in general, and the college world in particular, were focused today on some 9000 square yards of chalked turf on Yale field, where Yale and Harvard struggled once more for the football championship of the country.

Seldom in the history of the game which these two colleges introduced into this country in the early seventies has interest been aroused to such a degree, and never have there been quite so many questions to be settled as in today's game.

Of course there was the all-important one of winning a contest toward which both teams have bent their energies and thought for more than two months. But fully as important to the minds of many was the question whether the latest modifications of the game are practical and shall stand.

From the Yale side of the field came the query whether a team such as has been turned out at New Haven this year suffered many bitter reverses, could gather sufficient speed and football knowledge in its later days to wrest victory in its supreme test.

Friends of Harvard were equally eager to see whether an aggregation like that proposed at Cambridge this year and which through its preliminary training without defeat could continue its victorious career.

Fans of football came here today, eager for a glimpse of new formations, new lines of strategy, new problems to be met and mastered in a few seconds. While from another viewpoint, it was that was mostly feminine. It was the picture, the excitement and the thrill of seeing thousands of wildly enthusiastic collegians singing and cheering, that proved the attraction.

All these and many more brought thousands upon thousands into the city today, sent them streaming through the streets amid waving blue and crimson flags and finally massed them, tier upon tier, as the afternoon sun began to decline.

It was ideal football weather, both for players and spectators. The November breeze had a cooling crispness, an incentive to active exertion, while, bundled up in heavy clothing, it

Thirst for Soda

People take prescriptions to druggists they know.

They buy soda at the most attractive stores.

Electric light makes soda sales grow. Other trade follows.

Lowell Electric Light

50 Central Street

$20 Convertible Collar Overcoats

TODAY

$15.00

MERRIMACK CLOTHING CO.

Across from City Hall

TICKETS AND TAGS

Lawler Printing Co., 29 Prescott St.

4 3/4 Per Cent is the Average Interest Paid

BY THE

MIDDLESEX CO-OPERATIVE BANK

FOR THE PAST YEAR

Assets of the Bank.....$461,052.75

Gain in Assets during the year.....$ 43,453.30

Shares in the new series will be on sale for the next ten days at the office of the bank, 88 Central Street.

liberal array of stunning fall finery worn by the thousands of fair society enthusiasts on their way to the big football function of the year.

Not all of the crowd went by train, however, for along the eastward route south of the city all morning practically continuous processions of automobiles, loaded with holders of game tickets, speeded New Havenward.

CROWDS LEAVE BOSTON

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Burdened under a weight of furs, ulsters and sweaters, a great throng filled the trainshed of the South terminal station, ready to board a dozen or more specials that carried them to New Haven as spectators of the annual football classic—the Harvard-Yale game. Railroad officials declared that today's crowd was the largest that had ever called on them for transportation.

From early morning till almost midnight the football crowds poured into the station. Some came individually, while others came with their clubs and fraternities, which had chartered special coaches and, in some instances, entire special trains.

Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston, accompanied by a party of friends, arrived at the station at 8 o'clock and a few minutes later left on a special train.

Harvard square in Cambridge presented a Sunday appearance, hardly anyone being in sight except a few shopkeepers and the janitors of the university buildings.

SEASON'S CLIMAX

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Harvard vs. Yale at New Haven claims almost a monopoly of attention from football enthusiasts in the east today, while partisans of the two big institutions all over the land will watch the record of play with absorbing interest. The season reaches a climax with today's big game.

The remainder of today's program was somewhat short in comparison with that of recent Saturdays, indicating the waning season. The Trinity Army and Navy-New York university games will attract attention as giving lines on the development of the two rivals, the Army and the Navy, for honors at Philadelphia next week. Johns Hopkins vs. Carleton at Baltimore is another game on the day's schedule.

FOOTBALL INJURIES FATAL

TEKAMAH, Neb., Nov. 19.—Carl Nelson, aged 17 years, of this place, died last night of injuries caused by playing football. He was a member of the high school team.

The Thompson Hardware Co. are offering their all steel corn poppers for 25c.

MISS S.F. MORRILL

Her Condition at Hospital Quite Hopeful.

Miss Stella F. Morrill, who suffered a fracture of the skull Wednesday night as a result of jumping from a carriage in which she was riding, is resting comfortably today. Shortly after the accident she was removed to St. John's hospital where everything possible in the way of medical and surgical aid was done for her. At first it was thought that her recovery was out of the question, but the hospital officials today she is conscious at times and her attendants are very hopeful that she will recover.

Boys' Long Military Overcoats $5.00

Merrimack CLOTHING COMPANY

Across from City Hall

REMEMBER F. H. Rourke

WHEN ORDERING COAL

Liberty Square Tel. 1177-1

ORDER of OWLS

Members of the Lowell Nest are "Hooting" long and loud. The Lowell Nest Charter Restored. All insurgent members reinstated by the Home Nest. The Order is now recognized in every state in the Union, and conforms to all Insurance Laws.

Big Meeting of the Lowell Nest at Elks' Hall, Middle Street, Thursday Evening, December 1st.

Eight hundred Owls are expected to be present and pay up their dues and receive the New Pass-words. Members will pass the word down along the line. All state laws lived up to. All bans removed. The field is now clear for the Order under charter from the home nest at South Bend, Ind.

HECTOR TURNBULL, Rec. Sec.

E. M. BOWERS, President.

49c and This Coupon

ENTITLES THE HOLDER TO ONE OF OUR $1.50 FOUNTAIN PENS. SOLD GOLD PENS AND GUARANTEED. BE SURE TO GET ONE.

Geo. H. Wood Either Store, 137-151 Central Street, 64 Merrimack Street.

SHEDD SKATING PARK

Will be Ready for Use This Winter, Says Supt. Whittet

About 70 Men at Present Hard at Work on the Job—Proposition to Put Great Tungsten Light on Top of High Concrete Column

Unless the unforeseen happens, the Shedd park skating rink will be ready for use this winter and it bids fair to be one of the very best skating places in or about the city. That part of the park to be used for skating is the level and the work of putting it in shape to be flooded is being pushed with all possible speed.

Supt. Whittet of the parks department has between 60 and 70 men working at the park and if you want Mr. Whittet between the hours of 7 a. m. and 5 p. m., you will find him at the park. The work of putting the park into shape for flooding included the cutting away of underbrush and a general leveling up. Part of the six acres to be flooded was burned over but portions of it were too green to burn and the twigs had to be moved down.

In order to prevent the water from flowing out into Boylston street a dam of gravel and sand has been built for a distance of several yards and at the lower end of the rink, or the end nearest the cemetery, a sluiceway is being built to carry the water off into the old stone culvert that empties into the Concord river.

In connection with this sluiceway a concrete foundation must be laid and drains dug and sheathed. The water at this point and for a short distance from the mouth of the sluiceway will be five or six feet deep. The water covering the rest of the skating area will be less than a foot in depth.

The sluiceway, of course, will not be used until the water is released in the spring. In order to flood the rink, it will be necessary to run a ten inch water main from the corner of Rogers and Boylston streets to the rink at the most available point and the pipe will be installed in time for use as soon as the ground is frozen sufficiently hard to warrant the flooding.

The park at the present time does not present a very attractive appearance and many years will have elapsed before it has been rounded into shape. The original plans call for but three acres for a skating rink, but the chances are that skaters will have six acres of glassy surface over which to glide for several years to come. There is a great deal of work to be done there and it will take several years to do it.

The beautiful granite gateway to the park is nearing completion, the masonry has been started out and the work of building it begun in a small way. Entering the gate the road turns to the right, then to the left and again to the right, skirting the hill and continuing to the cemetery fence, and again to the left of Boylston street. The building of the road is a big job in itself, and the work of grading and cutting away is enormous. In the leveling process the gravel from the hills will be used on the road.

When Shedd park has been finished or as time goes on Shedd park will develop into a place of beauty as well as recreation. It is splendidly located for park purposes and when beautified by the plans as submitted by Mr. Shedd it will compare very favorably with the best parks in this section of the country.

The question of lights, especially those to be installed near the beautiful gateway, has already been discussed, and Supt. Whittet is very favorably impressed with the description of light that is being used at Bellevue park, Harrisburg, Pa., a tungsten lamp on concrete column. It is a 60 watt tungsten lamp mounted in a roughed inside 14-inch ball globe. The globe is mounted upon a cast iron urn which surmounts the post. The urns and other cast iron parts are shrouded to prevent rusting and the consequent discoloration of the concrete.

The concrete is composed of a mixture of white Portland cement, white marble dust and crushed Quincy granite. Each column is reinforced with four 3-4 inch twisted iron rods which run the entire length of the post and protrude 12 inches from the base, in order to secure a firm bond with the sub-base or foundation of rough concrete, upon which the post stands. The shaft is further reinforced by a 2 1-2 inch galvanized iron pipe which passes completely through it and provides ample space for the necessary wires.

The lights are switched on and off at stated periods by automatic time switches. Each lamp may also be controlled by a snap switch in the base of the column. The switch boxes are locked so that only those carrying keys have access to them.

WRIGHT—The funeral services for the late Nahum H. Wright were held yesterday afternoon and were largely attended by relatives, neighbors, townsmen and friends from the surrounding cities and towns who gathered to pay their last respects to one of Westford's leading citizens. The parlor of the home where the body rested was which was a beautiful floral tribute, held. There were 41 eulogistic addresses. A large delegation of citizens attended the services, every lodge being represented at the gathering. Mr. Wright was a member of William North lodge, A. F. of A. M., Royal Arch chapter, Ahasuerus council, and P. M. commandery, all of which were represented by delegations. A large grave the Masonic ritual services were held. Rev. David Wallace, pastor of the Union Congregational church, conducted the services. There was singing by the Mendelssohn quartet of Lowell, "The Homeland," "Auld With Me," and the "Christian's Good Night" being rendered. The bearers were Capt. Sherman H. Fletcher, Oscar H. Spalding, W. H. H. Burbeck and Edward Fisher. Burial was at Fairview cemetery. Undertaker David L. Greig was in charge.

The following is a list of the floral offerings: Willow, inscribed "Father," from H. L. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Wright; pillow, Elgin Commandery; wreath, Mt. Horeb R. A.

Preserves the Complexion, softens the hands, best for all weather effects on the skin—so all people say that use Hood's Lotion. Try it. 50c.

PHENOMENAL SUCCESS

DYSPEPLETS FOUND TO HAVE SINGULAR MERIT AS A REMEDY FOR ALL DYSPEPTIC TROUBLES

HE DROPPED DEAD

Fred B. Reed Postal Clerk, Fell on Gorham Street

Frederick B. Reed, a mailing clerk at the local post office dropped dead at the corner of Gorham and Elm streets about 11.45 o'clock this morning. Death is supposed to have been due to heart failure.

Reed was about 35 years of age, and was one of the most popular employees at the post office. He was on his way home, 9 Elm street, when he was taken with the attack and dropped to the street. The ambulance was called but upon arriving the driver found that there is no necessity for his services. The body was taken to his home in Elm street.

chapter; square and compass, William North lodge, A. F. of A. M.; wreath, Ahasuerus council; wreath, Mrs. Albert J. Richardson; spray, Mrs. Edward Prescott and Mr. Charles O. Prescott; spray, the Rogers family; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hildreth; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blodgett; spray, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Day; spray, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Watson and Mrs. I. E. Day; spray, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hartford and Hazel; wreath, Mrs. Elram Whitney; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Morrill; bouquet, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Abbott; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Prescott Wright; spray, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Wall; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Wright; spray, Mrs. Alvan Fisher, Miss Ruth Fisher and Miss Fisher; spray, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Sargent; spray, Dr. and Mrs. O. V. Wells; spray, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Hildreth; spray, Mr. W. E. Garlin and another; wreath, Mrs. Prichard and family; spray, J. P. Wright and family; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Fletcher and family; spray, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sutherland; spray, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Wheeler and Mrs. W. J. Wheeler; spray, Mr. and Mrs. L. Woods; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fisher; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar R. Spalding; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Day; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fisher; cherry, anthurums, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fletcher; wreath, Mr. G. F. Wright and H. N. Wright; spray, Mr. and Mrs. H. Greenwood; spray, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wright; Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Marshall and Miss Rachel L. Marshall.

GAUTHIER—The funeral of Mr. Gauthier took place yesterday morning from his home, 35 Wiggin street. A solemn funeral service was sung at St. Joseph's church. Rev. Fr. G. Berniche, Racette and Denzot, O. M. I. officiated. The bearers were Napoleon Burton, Absolon Goudreau, David Roy, Philippe Roy, Louis Racette and Phelipa Gauthier. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, and Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. I., officiated at the grave. Undertaker Joseph Albert had charge.

ARVISAIS—The funeral of Alphonse Arvisais took place yesterday morning from his home, 17 Joliffe avenue, with funeral services at St. Jean Baptiste church, Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. I. officiated. The bearers were P. Morin, M. Barolet, E. Gagnon and E. Leclerc. Among those present at the funeral was Romeo Arvisais of Thorne, North Dakota. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, and Rev. Fr. Baron officiated at the grave. Undertaker Joseph Albert had charge.

GAUTHIER—The funeral of Mr. Gauthier took place yesterday morning from his home, 35 Wiggin street. A solemn funeral service was sung at St. Joseph's church. Rev. Fr. G. Berniche, Racette and Denzot, O. M. I. officiated. The bearers were Napoleon Burton, Absolon Goudreau, David Roy, Philippe Roy, Louis Racette and Phelipa Gauthier. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, and Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. I., officiated at the grave. Undertaker Joseph Albert had charge.

ARVISAIS—The funeral of Alphonse Arvisais took place yesterday morning from his home, 17 Joliffe avenue, with funeral services at St. Jean Baptiste church, Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. I. officiated. The bearers were P. Morin, M. Barolet, E. Gagnon and E. Leclerc. Among those present at the funeral was Romeo Arvisais of Thorne, North Dakota. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, and Rev. Fr. Baron officiated at the grave. Undertaker Joseph Albert had charge.

FUNERAL NOTICES

MASON—Died Nov. 17, Clarence W. Mason, aged 6 years, 3 months and 20 days. The funeral of Clarence W. Mason will take place Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the home of his parents, 106 Rock street. Friends invited. Funeral in charge of C. M. Young.

ABBOTT—Died, Nov. 18, in this city, Edward A. Abbott, aged 26 years, at the home of his parents, C. Arthur and Mary Abbott, 30 Livingston avenue. Funeral services will be held at his late residence, Sunday afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock. Sunday invited without further notice; burial private. It is the earnest request of the family that no flowers be sent. The funeral arrangements are in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

WHITTAKER—Died Nov. 17 at the Massachusetts General hospital, Mrs. Clara Whittaker, aged 43 years. She was the wife of J. J. Whittaker of the Mohair Cricket club. Funeral services will be held at her late residence, 25 Cornell street, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Friends are invited without further notice. A short service will be held at 3.30 for the benefit of those who are unable to attend the service at the house. Funeral arrangements in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

CHINA

DIRECT IMPORTERS OF THE FINEST PORCELAINS IN EUROPE

We are now showing the latest designs from the factories of Caxton, Minton, Adderley, Wedgwood, Crown Derby, Royal Worcester, Coalport, Crown Staffordshire, Royal Doulton and Sevens.

Breakfast Sets of English China.....$10 to $50

Dinner Plates, per dozen $7 to $250

Tea Cups.....$1 to $25

Bread and Butter Plates, per dozen.....$8.50 to $60

Dresden China Plates, Bowls, Compotes, Centerpieces, etc. Goods sent on approval. Photographs and prices on request.

BIGELOW KENNARD & CO. 511 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

Mechanics Savings Bank

QUARTER DAY

Saturday, Dec. 3

This Coupon and $12

Buy a $15.00 Diamond Ring at GEO. H. WOOD'S. This is an actual saving of $3.00. You must have the coupon.

MERRIMACK CLOTHING CO. Across from City Hall

WELCH BROS. 51-53 Middle Street

VICTIM OF MURDER

Was Placed in Trunk While He Was Still Alive

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—An autopsy at the morgue yesterday settled positively that a body found crushed and bent and thrust into a hermetically sealed casing, inclosed in an ordinary cheap trunk, in the cellar of the double apartment house at 450 West Fifty-fourth street was that of a man, and disclosed the probability that the victim of the mysterious murder had been put into the trunk while still alive.

Professor John A. McAllister of Bellevue Medical college and Dr. J. C. Lebane, the coroner's physician, performed the autopsy, and said afterward that they were fairly certain that the man had met death from asphyxiation, there being no marks of violence on the body which it was possible to discover.

The murder victim probably was unconscious when he was put in the trunk, according to the physicians, whose examination of the body necessarily was greatly restricted, because of the decomposed condition in which it was found.

The man's lungs were the only vital organs sufficiently preserved to permit of microscopic examination, which disclosed the probable cause of death.

So far as could be judged, the man was of German extraction; his hair was red and his moustache sandy.

Nothing was found inside the "death trunk" by which the identification of the victim could be made. Only several newspapers bearing dates in April, 1902, were found packed around the body.

Some of the papers contained articles about the Albert T. Patrick trial for the murder of William M. Rice, the millionaire. Others had accounts of the McAuliffe case, in which the victim was supposed to have been beaten to death by police.

The physicians found that one tooth of the victim had been broken and another had been filled with gold.

The faintest and only possible clue discovered by the closest scrutiny of the trunk and its contents, except, perhaps, what may be learned from the name "W. Lewis" in black letters on one side of the trunk, is disclosed by the finding of a flannel night shirt which inclosed the body.

On the inside of the collar of this shirt, faintly discernible, appeared letters which look like "R. H. M." These letters will be subjected to microscopic examination before the detectives will be entirely satisfied of their correctness.

No chemicals of any kind were found in the trunk.

Philip Meagher, who lives in the house where the body was found, and had stored the trunk in the cellar more than seven years ago at the request of a boarder, gives the latter's name to the police as William Lewis.

Although Lewis made his home with the Meaghers nearly two years, Meagher says his boarder was not communicative and therefore the family learned little about him, except that he said on one occasion that he was employed as a waiter.

The Meaghers held a conference at the district attorney's office with Assistant District Attorney Rubin who is in charge of the case.

Meagher told Mr. Rubin that he and Lewis were from the same town in Ireland, Roscora, Tipperary county. He said he left there and came to this country in 1889 and that Lewis followed him two years later.

At that time, Meagher said, he lived at No. 536 West Forty-seventh street, where he had a room. He said he saw Lewis there, frequently during the six or seven years he lived in the house. At that time, Meagher said, Lewis worked as a waiter.

Meagher said he moved to the Fifty-fourth street address, where the murder was discovered, and that about six years ago Lewis asked him to take care of a trunk which, he said, belonged to an old friend of his and contained plaster casts.

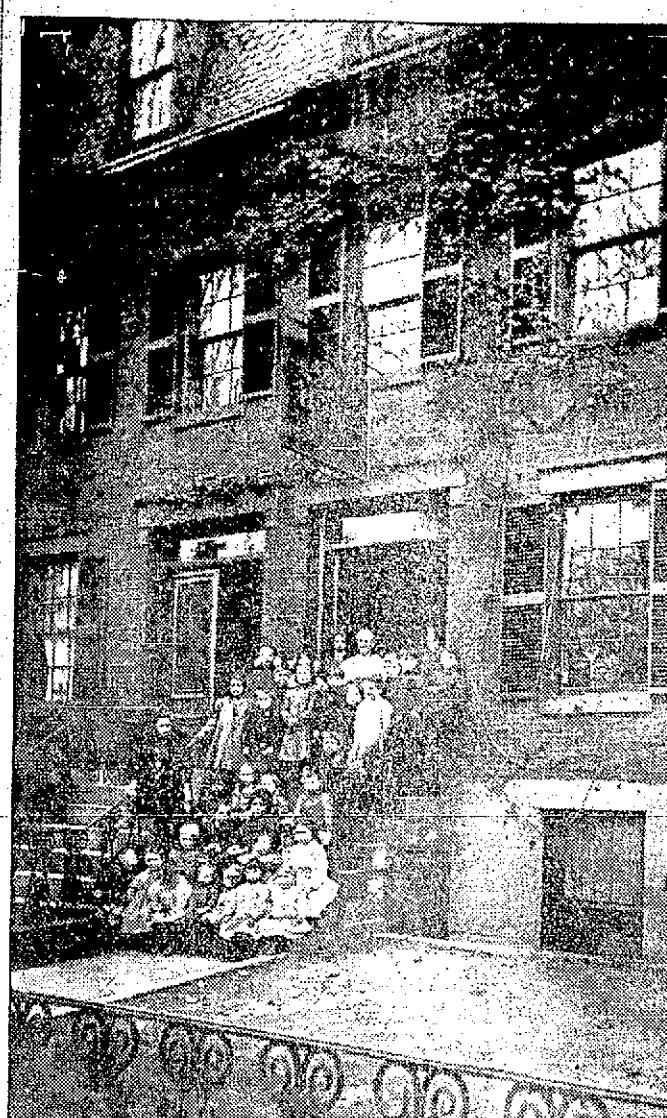

About six months later, Meagher said, Lewis moved from the house. He said that Lewis, he understood, worked in a restaurant at the time, and when he left the house he went to live in One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street, near Eighth avenue.

The restaurant, Meagher said, he thought was in Cortlandt street. Later, Meagher said, he understood Lewis worked as a waiter in a Thirty-third street cafe, and the last he saw of him was in 1905, when Lewis told him he was going to work in a hotel at Manhattan Beach for the summer.

Meagher, tired of caring for the trunk, and wishing to determine whether it contained anything of value that would make it necessary to keep it any longer, decided to break it open.

On opening it he found it filled with plaster of Paris. He was mystified and notified the police. Lieutenant Charles H. McKinney and Policeman William D. O'Grady and William A. Murphy, of the Fourth Branch detective bureau appeared. The police battered the plaster of Paris to pieces and found an ax. Under the plaster they found a skeleton.

The covering of the lid was removed and a skeleton was found incased. The bones and skull were in such a position that it was evident great force had been used in forcing the victim within the limited space of the box.

THE CHILDREN'S HOME ON KIRK STREET

SCARED BY BLAZE

Fire Broke Out in Chelsea's Danger Zone

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Chelsea had a fire scare last night that brought hundreds on the street, fearing another big conflagration, and for a time there was much excitement.

The alarm was from box 26, followed one minute later by a second alarm, bringing the entire fire department to the big lumber yard of Pope & Cottle on Carter street, in the danger district.

The fire was in a pile of lumber and caught fire from sparks from the engine of a pile driver at work near by, which set fire to the lumber. The fire was quickly quenched by the department, the loss being small.

Just an hour later the firemen were again called out for a fire in the three-story dwelling, 112 Winnimmet street, where a lively blaze was in progress in the store of Moses Coffsky, dealer in dry goods. This fire was extinguished after an hour's hard work by the fire department. The loss was $600 on the goods of Coffsky and $300 on the building, which is owned by H. Spurling of Marlboro.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the undersigned, take this means of expressing our thanks to our friends for their kind words of consolation to us, in the bereavement of our husband and brother, and to the employees of the Lowell Machine Shop foundry for their floral offerings and the marks of kindness.

Mrs. John J. O'Rourke,
James O'Rourke,
Thomas O'Rourke.

A GRAND SUCCESS

Pound Party in Aid of St. Peter's Orphanage

The Ladies' Sewing guild of St. Peter's parish gave a pound party in aid of St. Peter's orphanage in the Shaw house, Chelmsford street, yesterday afternoon, and the affair was a grand success and netted a substantial sum for the orphanage.

The party was a pound party in name only, for the guests came with bundles of many pounds, while cash and checks amounting to many pounds and shillings poured in.

From 2 to 5 o'clock the house was crowded and all were received and shown through the house by the sister superior. Later the ladies of the guild served tea.

Mrs. Charles M. Williams had general charge of the affair. She was assisted by the ladies of the guild.

The ladies of the guild who assisted Mrs. Williams were: Mrs. William P. Barry, Mrs. E. B. Kerwin, Mrs. Edward Gallagher, Mrs. John M. Murphy, Mrs. William M. Murphy, Miss Donohoe, Miss Sarah Dempsey, Mrs. George A. Leahy, Mrs. Henry L. Rourke, Miss Emma Cook, Mrs. J. J. McCarthy, Mrs. Constantine O'Donnell, Mrs. P. F. Sullivan, Mrs. Robert E. Crowley, Miss Adelaide Crowley, Miss Pauline, Mrs. P. Conaton, Mrs. McCarthy, Mrs. Daniel Crowley, Miss Alice Owens, Miss Esther Owens, Mrs. Hugh Walker, Mrs. E. P. McCosker, Miss Annabelle Costello, Mrs. J. J. Hennessy, Mrs. Andrew Halpin, Mrs. John W. McFady, Mrs. Annie P. Coffey, Mrs. P. W. Reilly, Mrs. George A. Green, Mrs. Margaret Morrison, Mrs. George M. Harrigan, Mrs. A. L. Paul and Mrs. P. Putnam.

Those not members of the guild who rendered valuable assistance were: Miss Susie Flynn, Miss Lizzie M. Allen, Mrs. P. Gilbride, Miss Gulliford and Miss Jennie Maguire. The children were dressed in blue and white during the afternoon.

Thanks of the Sisters

The children in their blue and white dresses sang at intervals during the afternoon for the entertainment of the visitors.

The Sisters and Sewing Guild take this opportunity to thank all who contributed to the success of the affair.

AWARDS MADE

FROM SACRED HEART BAZAAR TABLES

Further awards to winners of prizes at the recent Sacred Heart church bazaar were announced last night as follows:

Holy Rosary table: Water set, Mrs. Elmer J. Wheeler, R. F. D. Muncho, ter road, Newbury, N. H.; silver spoon, Robert Kenniston, 26 Agawam street; table linen, Louise Gault, 382 Lincoln street; sofa pillow, A. T. Hanley, 477 Mammoth road; hand made shawl, Marion Bailey, 28 Morton street; tablecloth, D. P. Lynch, 87 Agawam street; bedspread, Mary Halliday, 34 Maple street; handpainted bag, Mrs. Burton Stockham, 319 Lawrence street; suit of clothes, Marguerite Cook, 113 Graham street; small framed picture of the Sacred Heart, Josephine

the needs of the institution are imperative and she is a firm believer in the advantages of a home in the heart of the city. To illustrate why she so believes, she states that several concerns like the D. L. Page company, Putnam's restaurant, F. M. Hill and others offer her food and necessities of life if she will send for them as they haven't the time to give their conveyances to the delivery of the goods and with a home situated in the heart of the city she is enabled to send the larger children to these places for their offerings. That Kirk street has agreed with the children is evidenced by the fact that seldom is it necessary to send for a physician to attend any of the inmates. The entertainment which was arranged to be given at Colonial hall on November 22 for the children's home in Kirk street has been postponed till Nov. 30. A fine musical program will be provided.

McDermott, 87 South Highland street; pair of shoes, F. A. Callahan, Rosedale orchestra; shoe bag, William Kane, 6 Griffin street; tub of butter, William Neilligan, 148 Crosby street; water set, Mrs. Josephine Mahan, 18 Griffin street.

Holy Angels table: Sofa pillow, Mrs. John Sullivan, 38 Corbett street.

Children of Mary table: Woolen blanket, Miss M. E. Dacey, 155 Fayette street; picture of Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., Kate McPhillips, 19 Barnside street.

$1.50 Underwear

TODAY

$1.00

MERRIMACK CLOTHING CO.

Across from City Hall

ANY PART OF THE

Universal or

Enterprise

Food Cutters

That becomes worn with use can be replaced at small cost

One of the Machines is a Necessity in Every Home.

Very Simple in Operation.

Bartlett & Dow

216 Central Street.

Allan Line Royal Mail Steamers

Only DIRECT Service between BOSTON AND SCOTLAND

Only DIRECT Service between Galloway and Glasgow

Only DIRECT Service between Galloway and Glasgow

Only DIRECT Service between Galloway and Glasgow

HELD IN $10,000 SON CONFESSED

Two Arrests in Customs Fraud Case

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Isaac and Manning Phillips, members of the firm of I. and M. Phillips, Importers, in business at No. 18 West 18th street, were arrested late yesterday, charged with having defrauded the government out of duty on woolen wearing apparel imported from France by means of false consular invoices. As the government claims to be in possession of evidence concerning a number of alleged fraudulent importations by the firm, the prisoners were held for examination in $10,000 bail each. A surety company furnished bonds and they were released.

Assistant United States District Attorney C. C. Whitney, who has charge of the prosecution, says the Phillips firm has been acting as an importer since 1907, and that the total of the duties out of which the government has been defrauded will reach $50,000. The case follows quickly on the proceedings against Joseph Brooke & Co., English woolen goods importers, whose branches in this country have been seized. No arrests were made in the Brooke case, as the members of the firm reside abroad, but the government has attached the stock and brought suit to recover $200,000.

To the Murder of His Father

MUNCIE, Ind., Nov. 19.—"I thought he was dead. I loaded the body into the buggy and started for the old well. I had the body propped upon the seat. On the way father revived a little and threw his arms around my neck. Then I beat him over the head again until he was quiet. Just as I was about to throw the body into the well, he groaned and gave a long sigh."

Climax of Recital

This, according to the police, is part of the signed confession of Benjamin Smith, 22 years old, a farmer now in the Muncie jail. It was the climax of a remarkable recital of murder.

Thursday night, Smith, his hands smeared with blood, staggered into the home of Oscar Shaw and told a story of having been attacked by highwaymen.

Smith's father was mysteriously missing, and suspicions were aroused which led to his arrest. Under examination, he finally said he would show the police where his father's body could be found.

He led the way to an abandoned well and pointing said: "The body is here. From the old well, the police took the body of Charles Smith, the father."

THE DEMOCRATS

Are Making Plans to Beat Lodge

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—The democratic legislative campaign committee met yesterday at Chairman Thomas P. Riley's office, 6 Beacon street, and a thorough canvass of the members-elect of both branches of the legislature was made looking to the possibility of organizing one or both branches upon a democratic basis, with a further possibility of electing a democratic United States senator, or, if not a democrat, some other candidate to succeed Senator Lodge.

It was voted that Chairman Riley be directed to communicate with the members of the incoming legislature with a view to obtaining thorough and systematic organization, so that the fullest possible advantage may be taken of the present conditions, and that Massachusetts may, by organized effort, soon be placed in the column of democratic states.

It was further voted that the committee should organize upon a permanent basis and prepare a list of bills to be introduced incorporating the platform pledges of the state convention.

FAMOUS GELDING

WAS ORDERED OFF THE TAN BARK

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Lord Baltimore, the brown gelding that has won so many prizes both here and abroad for C. W. Watson of Baltimore and the Fairmount Farms, West Virginia, was ordered off the tan bark again yesterday by the judges of the ground that he was lame. The famous gelding has had a series of setbacks in this year's national horse show.

There were two bad spills yesterday afternoon and one yesterday morning, but nobody was seriously injured. In the Corinthian jumping contest, U. D. Denner of Washington, W. Va., was pitched over the head of his bay mare, Sans-a-Tout, when she smashed into a fence. He remounted and pluckily took the remaining obstacles. Herbert C. Cox of Toronto, Can., had a similar experience.

It was announced yesterday that Louis W. Winans of Brighton, Eng., had sold the famous Kentucky Futurity winner Silco, by Astro-Silco, to John E. Madden, from whom Mr. Winans bought him. Mr. Madden would not name the price he paid, but said it was "a few thousand more than I got for him."

That price was $34,000. Under the Winans colors, Silco established a mark of 2.084 over a five furlong track in Austria, and it was that performance that decided Madden to buy him back.

FR. JOACHIM

IS RENEWING OLD ACQUAINTANCES IN LOWELL

Rev. Joachim Georges, one of the first Greek priests in this city, is visiting friends in this city after an absence from the city of five years.

It was during his pastoral here that the land where now stands the Greek Orthodox church was purchased by the Greek community. Fr. Joachim did not remain here to see work start on the church, and the present visit here is the first opportunity he has had to see the new church.

Fr. Joachim left this city and went to Athens and from there to Jerusalem. Later he went to Australia and since returning to America he has had charge of the Greek Orthodox church in Charleston, S. C.

FOUGHT OVER A GIRL

MOUNT KISCO, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Two men were killed in a roadhouse near here last night in a battle over a girl. One is an unidentified Irishman and the other James McCann, a relative of the proprietor of the roadhouse. Beyond the fact of the battle, the police have as yet few facts.

INDIANS DIE OF SMALLPOX

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 19.—Ninety-three Indians died of smallpox within four days. The disease has manifested itself in its most malignant form. Officers in charge of the reservation are fighting vainly to stay the pestilence.

TRUE'S ELIXIR

Established 1861.
Best for the world for constipation, biliousness, headache, loss of appetite, nervousness, etc.
Keeps you in good health and cures all ailments.
25c, 50c, $1.00

DRAWING INSTRUMENTS

FOR TEXTILE AND DRAWING SCHOOL

W. T. S. Bartlett

Up-Town Hardware Store
653-659 MERRIMACK ST.

You Will Miss It

If you do not place your order for your weather strips for your doors before the cold weather comes on, now is the time and the place to go to J. B. Goodwin's, 11 Thorndike st. You will find this the most sensible investment for a small sum of money that you ever made. More than 5000 homes and stores in the city and suburbs have these coal bill savers attached to the doors, and they never wear out. You save money every day they are on. Call and see the greatest device of the century for keeping out cold air and dust.

J. B. GOODWIN

11 THORNDIKE STREET

WE CARRY A COMPLETE LINE OF

Household Furnishings

AT LOWEST PRICES, AND ARE SOLE AGENTS IN LOWELL FOR THE CELEBRATED

Crescent Range

PETER DAVEY, 134 Market Street

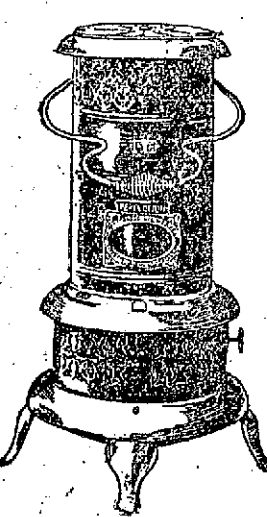

Telephone Connection 79-2

Furniture Dealer

Undertaker

Funeral Director

For Business Use

There are a great many places and occasions when the possibility of getting extra heat immediately effects an economy by decreasing the discomfort of the worker. In the office, in the early morning or late at night, before or after the steamheat is on, it is of importance to have extra heat. In the builder's outside office, in the shipping room, in the checker's shack, on exposed lofts, in railroad stations, in studios, the

PERFECTION
SMOKELESS
OIL HEATER
Absolutely smokeless and odorless

is often a necessity. It is safe, smokeless and odorless. Apply a match, and it gives heat quickly. With four quarts of oil it burns nine hours. Has automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be cleaned in an instant.

It has a cool handle and a damper top. An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap it is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for reworking.

The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in japan or nickel. It is strong, durable, well made, built for service, yet light and ornamental.

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the

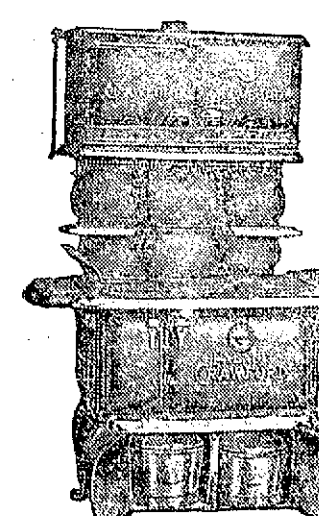

Standard Oil Company
(Incorporated)

Combination Coal and Gas

Crawford Ranges

The Crawford Gas Ovens are safe. They are lighted in a new way; there is no dangerous pilot light and explosions are impossible. This improvement is patented and very important.

The Damper is automatically opened by opening oven door to light the burners, which cannot be lighted until the door is opened.

In these Gas Ovens there is an extra set of burners at the top for broiling; a great advantage over the ordinary gas oven, insuring better broiling and great convenience.

The Oven Bottoms and Racks are cast iron, and the outer walls are triple—an interlining of asbestos between two sheets of iron, which assists to retain the heat.

The use of these Gas Ovens does not interfere in any way with the operation of the coal range—both can be used at the same time.

Double Oven above or Single Oven at end of range.

Circulars Free.

Walker & Pratt Mfg. Co., Boston

For Sale by A. E. O'Heir & Co., Lowell Agents

JURORS RELEASED

Appeal to be Made to the Supreme Court

SALEM, Nov. 18.—As a result of the action of Chief Justice Aiken in allowing a jury empanelled to try the case of Erisos Tsapas of Haverhill, who is charged with the murder of Constantino Tinoschaidos, to separate and go to their homes, the supreme court of Massachusetts will be called upon to decide whether or not it is in accordance with the constitution of the commonwealth for jurors in capital cases to be so released.

To Highest Court

Chief Justice Aiken's announcement that he would release the jurors brought Attorney J. P. S. Mahoney of Lawrence, who is caring for the interests of Tsapas, to his feet with a start and he immediately saved an exception and announced his intention of having the question decided by the supreme court. This is said to be the first case in Massachusetts where the jurors in a murder trial have been so released.

The entire time of the court session yesterday was occupied in the empanelling of the jury, of which Charles Y. Parrott of Gloucester is foreman. After the jury was full, Justice Aiken told the men that they might go home but to report at the courthouse at 9 this morning, when a special car was on hand to take them to the scene of the murder. On returning from Haverhill, the jury will again be released to report Monday morning, when the taking of evidence will be commenced.

Erisos Tsapas and Constantino Tinoschaidos were roommates at Haverhill. On the night of Sept. 3, 1909, they left the house together, apparently by the best of friends. Tsapas returned alone, and six days later his roommate's body was found in some bushes a considerable distance away with two bullet holes in it.

The police sought Tsapas to secure his aid in unravelling the mystery, but he was missing. Later he was arrested in Boston with a grip sack in his hand and a ticket to Europe in his pocket. Tinoschaidos was known to have between $50 and $80 on his person a short time before his death and according to the authorities, a sum nearly equal to this was found on Tsapas when he was taken into custody.

SENATOR TRAVIS

Says That He Was Offered Bribe of $100,000

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—One hundred thousand dollars to vote against the anti-race track bill in 1908 was offered to State Senator Eugene M. Travis of Brooklyn, so he swore on the stand yesterday, testifying before the legislative graft committee. A mysterious man, whose name he does not recall, made the offer in the lobby of the senate, he said, on behalf of former Senator Frank J. Gardner. And Gardner, he added, confirmed it in a subsequent telephone conversation.

Gardner is now under indictment, charged with having attempted to influence Otto G. Foelker of Brooklyn, now a congressman, but then a state senator. Foelker voted for the bill, as did Travis, and it was passed notwithstanding the efforts of the race track interests and the alleged use of a fund which previous testimony has placed at $200,000.

Travis' testimony and the committee's efforts to subpoena James R. Keene and Harry Payne Whitney, two millionaires whose hobby is horse racing, were the most interesting developments of yesterday's hearing, resumed after adjournment on Oct. 22. Efforts

TEX RAMSDELL, SPEEDIEST PLAYER IN FOOTBALL

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Pennsylvania will end its football season here on Thanksgiving day, when the Red and Blue meets Cornell in their annual combat on the gridiron. Penn coaches have stated that they are not looking for an easy victory, but will probably have a hard battle. The Ithacans have excellent material, and, according to Mike Murphy, the famous trainer, "they have worked up from nothing to a powerful team." At the start of the season the Ithacans were very weak, but have braced up wonderfully within the last few weeks, as the recent 18 to 0 victory over Chicago shows. Penn has one of the strongest teams in the country. In Scott, Sommer, Ramsdell and Mercer the Red and Blue this year has one of the finest backfields since the days of Williams, Knipe, Osgood and Brooker, a quartet that has been claimed the fastest, strongest combination of the year. Scott, Sommer and Ramsdell were injured in the game with Michigan, and the two former men may not be able to play against Cornell. Ramsdell hurt his knee, but will be able to play. The latter is one of the greatest men that ever appeared on a football field. He has been injured more times this and last season than any other player. Ramsdell is the speediest man in football today. Besides being one of the greatest halfbacks of the year, he is the best halfback yard sprinter in the country.

ANTI-DIAZ PARTY RESPONSIBLE FOR WAR TALK BETWEEN MEXICO AND UNITED STATES

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 19.—You can walk down the principal streets of the capital of Mexico and hear natives between puffs of cigarettes discussing war and what would happen if the United States and Mexico should clash. The two countries are not going to clash; that is almost a sure thing. The uprising on the borders, the lynching and burning of Mexicans in Texas, is material for the anti-Diaz party, which seems to grow each day. That is the real secret of the talk, but the natives—that is, the majority—are yet to learn the secret. Diaz has long ruled Mexico with an iron hand—wisely, his friends say; like a tyrant, his enemies declare. For more than a year there

HENRY M. HOYT

Is Reported to be Seriously Ill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Henry M. Hoyt, counselor of the department of state, is lying seriously ill at his home in this city. While he was in Canada engaged in the reciprocity negotiations as a representative of the American government he was attacked with an intestinal trouble from which he had suffered in the past, and although he was able to make the return trip from Montreal to Washington, he was obliged to take to his bed as soon as he reached his home here.

HENRY M. HOYT

BOXING GOSSIP

Matty Baldwin went to Highland lake yesterday to do a little training. His broken arm is sufficiently mended for light work, but it will be some weeks before his manager, Aleck McLean, will tie him up in any matches, and when he does it will not be with any hard game.

Billy Nixon has backed out of his match with Johnny Glover at the Armory A. A. Boston, next Tuesday night, and Mickey McIntyre of St. John will take Nixon's place. The change will make the bout the most rugged. The other four bouts scheduled for the same evening will give the fans a program of hot boxing.

Promoter McCarry of Los Angeles has signed Jim Flynn, the Quilbo heavy-weight, to box Dec. 10, and he is trying to get Jim Stewart or Frank Klaus for his opponent. It will be quite a while before Stewart will be ready to return to the ring, on account of his manager and seconds lacking good sense when Stewart boxed Jim Hurry here this week.

The reason given for the postponement of the bout between Abe Attell and Pat Moore in New York next Tuesday night to Nov. 29 is that Attell wants more time to train. The real reason is, perhaps, that the advance sale is not big enough to give the promoters reason to believe that the receipts would reach the guarantee promised the boxers.

Tommy Burns, the ex-heavyweight champion must have cleaned up a lot of money since he has been in the game, for he has just paid $50,000 for real estate in Calgary, Manitoba. He also has opened a haberdashery store in the same city. He says that he is undecided about continuing in the game, but so long as Tommy sees where he can earn good money in it there is no danger that he will quit it.

A New Orleans promoter is negotiating with Jim Barry to box Tony Ross in that city the middle of next month. The promoter states that he has Al Kaufman's name on a contract to box anyone in New Orleans in January, and that if Barry defeats Ross he will get the chance against Kaufman. As Barry has some bouts on in Oklahoma next month he may not take on the Ross match.

SEC. CHAS. NAGEL

Addressed Kansas City Commercial Club

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 19.—Active and rational co-operation between the national and state authorities is absolutely essential to a successful solution of the common problems with which they both are confronted. This was the opinion expressed last night by Charles Nagel, secretary of commerce and labor, in an address delivered at the 15th annual banquet of the Kansas City Commercial Club. He declared himself a believer in both state and national authority, saying that he "read the constitution to mean that the integrity of both was guaranteed."

In the practical affairs of life, however, he asserted, "substantially no one adheres to the old doctrine of restricted power of the national government."

"The old restriction upon federal authority and federal appropriations have been swept away," he said. "Generally in all directions the old barrier has been broken down and it is admitted in practice, if not in platform, that national authority is absolutely essential to meet national problems as they now present themselves. If this is true at home with respect to domestic affairs, it is infinitely more true with respect to foreign affairs."

Mr. Nagel dealt in his speech with the question of the relation between national and state authority, particularly as it pertained to commerce. As to foreign commerce he declared that he was "absolutely to say that only one authority can be consulted and that is the national power."

As to domestic commerce he said: "So far we have practically no commercial corporations that base their authority upon anything but state authority. The inconvenience of that system, even in our interstate commerce, has been sufficiently demonstrated. I am persuaded, for one, that the conflicts, the inconsistencies, and the embarrassments with respect to interstate commerce alone are enough to call for the organization of corporations under federal charters."

"I am not oblivious to the fact," he added, "that if the national government does authorize the organization of commercial companies to be employed in foreign business, these same organizations may, and perhaps must, by degrees, engage in domestic commerce as well. On the contrary, I believe this to be an inevitable result of the first step. But there is no cause for alarm."

He said it would only be a repetition of the story of the national bank, "heralded at one time as the enemy of the state, but which has become a 'business men's bank,' enjoying the confidence of every village and town," although in theory the fiscal agent of the national government.

"Commerce in the United States," he said, "is not measured by state boundaries and cannot be successfully controlled by state authority. Interstate commerce and traffic have outgrown the state in every respect and the ill from which we have suffered in the past, insofar as they have been met, were relieved by the interposition of national authority."

The secretary declared that there is pressing necessity for the development of foreign commerce and that "we are proceeding, as it were, oblivious to it."

"We speak of the tariff," he continued, "as though it concerned only the cost of the consumer at home, and yet we have entered the international arena; we have entered it politically, and we must maintain it commercially. Notwithstanding all the campaign controversy, the free list has now been increased. It is the 15th annual banquet of the Kansas City Commercial Club. He declared himself a believer in both state and national authority, saying that he "read the constitution to mean that the integrity of both was guaranteed."

In the practical affairs of life, however, he asserted, "substantially no one adheres to the old doctrine of restricted power of the national government."

"The old restriction upon federal authority and federal appropriations have been swept away," he said. "Generally in all directions the old barrier has been broken down and it is admitted in practice, if not in platform, that national authority is absolutely essential to meet national problems as they now present themselves. If this is true at home with respect to domestic affairs, it is infinitely more true with respect to foreign affairs."

Mr. Nagel dealt in his speech with the question of the relation between national and state authority, particularly as it pertained to commerce. As to foreign commerce he declared that he was "absolutely to say that only one authority can be consulted and that is the national power."

As to domestic commerce he said: "So far we have practically no commercial corporations that base their authority upon anything but state authority. The inconvenience of that system, even in our interstate commerce, has been sufficiently demonstrated. I am persuaded, for one, that the conflicts, the inconsistencies, and the embarrassments with respect to interstate commerce alone are enough to call for the organization of corporations under federal charters."

"I am not oblivious to the fact," he added, "that if the national government does authorize the organization of commercial companies to be employed in foreign business, these same organizations may, and perhaps must, by degrees, engage in domestic commerce as well. On the contrary, I believe this to be an inevitable result of the first step. But there is no cause for alarm."

He said it would only be a repetition of the story of the national bank, "heralded at one time as the enemy of the state, but which has become a 'business men's bank,' enjoying the confidence of every village and town," although in theory the fiscal agent of the national government.

"Commerce in the United States," he said, "is not measured by state boundaries and cannot be successfully controlled by state authority. Interstate commerce and traffic have outgrown the state in every respect and the ill from which we have suffered in the past, insofar as they have been met, were relieved by the interposition of national authority."

The secretary declared that there is pressing necessity for the development of foreign commerce and that "we are proceeding, as it were, oblivious to it."

"We speak of the tariff," he continued, "as though it concerned only the cost of the consumer at home, and yet we have entered the international arena; we have entered it politically, and we must maintain it commercially. Notwithstanding all the campaign controversy, the free list has now been increased. It is the 15th annual banquet of the Kansas City Commercial Club. He declared himself a believer in both state and national authority, saying that he "read the constitution to mean that the integrity of both was guaranteed."

In the practical affairs of life, however, he asserted, "substantially no one adheres to the old doctrine of restricted power of the national government."

"The old restriction upon federal authority and federal appropriations have been swept away," he said. "Generally in all directions the old barrier has been broken down and it is admitted in practice, if not in platform, that national authority is absolutely essential to meet national problems as they now present themselves. If this is true at home with respect to domestic affairs, it is infinitely more true with respect to foreign affairs."

Mr. Nagel dealt in his speech with the question of the relation between national and state authority, particularly as it pertained to commerce. As to foreign commerce he declared that he was "absolutely to say that only one authority can be consulted and that is the national power."

As to domestic commerce he said: "So far we have practically no commercial corporations that base their authority upon anything but state authority. The inconvenience of that system, even in our interstate commerce, has been sufficiently demonstrated. I am persuaded, for one, that the conflicts, the inconsistencies, and the embarrassments with respect to interstate commerce alone are enough to call for the organization of corporations under federal charters."

"I am not oblivious to the fact," he added, "that if the national government does authorize the organization of commercial companies to be employed in foreign business, these same organizations may, and perhaps must, by degrees, engage in domestic commerce as well. On the contrary, I believe this to be an inevitable result of the first step. But there is no cause for alarm."

He said it would only be a repetition of the story of the national bank, "heralded at one time as the enemy of the state, but which has become a 'business men's bank,' enjoying the confidence of every village and town," although in theory the fiscal agent of the national government.

"Commerce in the United States," he said, "is not measured by state boundaries and cannot be successfully controlled by state authority. Interstate commerce and traffic have outgrown the state in every respect and the ill from which we have suffered in the past, insofar as they have been met, were relieved by the interposition of national authority."

The secretary declared that there is pressing necessity for the development of foreign commerce and that "we are proceeding, as it were, oblivious to it."

"We speak of the tariff," he continued, "as though it concerned only the cost of the consumer at home, and yet we have entered the international arena; we have entered it politically, and we must maintain it commercially. Notwithstanding all the campaign controversy, the free list has now been increased. It is the 15th annual banquet of the Kansas City Commercial Club. He declared himself a believer in both state and national authority, saying that he "read the constitution to mean that the integrity of both was guaranteed."

In the practical affairs of life, however, he asserted, "substantially no one adheres to the old doctrine of restricted power of the national government."

"The old restriction upon federal authority and federal appropriations have been swept away," he said. "Generally in all directions the old barrier has been broken down and it is admitted in practice, if not in platform, that national authority is absolutely essential to meet national problems as they now present themselves. If this is true at home with respect to domestic affairs, it is infinitely more true with respect to foreign affairs."

Mr. Nagel dealt in his speech with the question of the relation between national and state authority, particularly as it pertained to commerce. As to foreign commerce he declared that he was "absolutely to say that only one authority can be consulted and that is the national power."

As to domestic commerce he said: "So far we have practically no commercial corporations that base their authority upon anything but state authority. The inconvenience of that system, even in our interstate commerce, has been sufficiently demonstrated. I am persuaded, for one, that the conflicts, the inconsistencies, and the embarrassments with respect to interstate commerce alone are enough to call for the organization of corporations under federal charters."

"I am not oblivious to the fact," he added, "that if the national government does authorize the organization of commercial companies to be employed in foreign business, these same organizations may, and perhaps must, by degrees, engage in domestic commerce as well. On the contrary, I believe this to be an inevitable result of the first step. But there is no cause for alarm."

He said it would only be a repetition of the story of the national bank, "heralded at one time as the enemy of the state, but which has become a 'business men's bank,' enjoying the confidence of every village and town," although in theory the fiscal agent of the national government.

"Commerce in the United States," he said, "is not measured by state boundaries and cannot be successfully controlled by state authority. Interstate commerce and traffic have outgrown the state in every respect and the ill from which we have suffered in the past, insofar as they have been met, were relieved by the interposition of national authority."

The secretary declared that there is pressing necessity for the development of foreign commerce and that "we are proceeding, as it were, oblivious to it."

"We speak of the tariff," he continued, "as though it concerned only the cost of the consumer at home, and yet we have entered the international arena; we have entered it politically, and we must maintain it commercially. Notwithstanding all the campaign controversy, the free list has now been increased. It is the 15th annual banquet of the Kansas City Commercial Club. He declared himself a believer in both state and national authority, saying that he "read the constitution to mean that the integrity of both was guaranteed."

In the practical affairs of life, however, he asserted, "substantially no one adheres to the old doctrine of restricted power of the national government."

"The old restriction upon federal authority and federal appropriations have been swept away," he said. "Generally in all directions the old barrier has been broken down and it is admitted in practice, if not in platform, that national authority is absolutely essential to meet national problems as they now present themselves. If this is true at home with respect to domestic affairs, it is infinitely more true with respect to foreign affairs."

Mr. Nagel dealt in his speech with the question of the relation between national and state authority, particularly as it pertained to commerce. As to foreign commerce he declared that he was "absolutely to say that only one authority can be consulted and that is the national power."

As to domestic commerce he said: "So far we have practically no commercial corporations that base their authority upon anything but state authority. The inconvenience of that system, even in our interstate commerce, has been sufficiently demonstrated. I am persuaded, for one, that the conflicts, the inconsistencies, and the embarrassments with respect to interstate commerce alone are enough to call for the organization of corporations under federal charters."

"I am not oblivious to the fact," he added, "that if the national government does authorize the organization of commercial companies to be employed in foreign business, these same organizations may, and perhaps must, by degrees, engage in domestic commerce as well. On the contrary, I believe this to be an inevitable result of the first step. But there is no cause for alarm."

He said it would only be a repetition of the story of the national bank, "heralded at one time as the enemy of the state, but which has become a 'business men's bank,' enjoying the confidence of every village and town," although in theory the fiscal agent of the national government.

"Commerce in the United States," he said, "is not measured by state boundaries and cannot be successfully controlled by state authority. Interstate commerce and traffic have outgrown the state in every respect and the ill from which we have suffered in the past, insofar as they have been met, were relieved by the interposition of national authority."

The secretary declared that there is pressing necessity for the development of foreign commerce and that "we are proceeding, as it were, oblivious to it."

"We speak of the tariff," he continued, "as though it concerned only the cost of the consumer at home, and yet we have entered the international arena; we have entered it politically, and we must maintain it commercially. Notwithstanding all the campaign controversy, the free list has now been increased. It is the 15th annual banquet of the Kansas City Commercial Club. He declared himself a believer in both state and national authority, saying that he "read the constitution to mean that the integrity of both was guaranteed."

In the practical affairs of life, however, he asserted, "substantially no one adheres to the old doctrine of restricted power of the national government."

"The old restriction upon federal authority and federal appropriations have been swept away," he said. "Generally in all directions the old barrier has been broken down and it is admitted in practice, if not in platform, that national authority is absolutely essential to meet national problems as they now present themselves. If this is true at home with respect to domestic affairs, it is infinitely more true with respect to foreign affairs."

Mr. Nagel dealt in his speech with the question of the relation between national and state authority, particularly as it pertained to commerce. As to foreign commerce he declared that he was "absolutely to say that only one authority can be consulted and that is the national power."

As to domestic commerce he said: "So far we have practically no commercial corporations that base their authority upon anything but state authority. The inconvenience of that system, even in our interstate commerce, has been sufficiently demonstrated. I am persuaded, for one, that the conflicts, the inconsistencies, and the embarrassments with respect to interstate commerce alone are enough to call for the organization of corporations under federal charters."

"I am not oblivious to the fact," he added, "that if the national government does authorize the organization of commercial companies to be employed in foreign business, these same organizations may, and perhaps must, by degrees, engage in domestic commerce as well. On the contrary, I believe this to be an inevitable result of the first step. But there is no cause for alarm."

He said it would only be a repetition of the story of the national bank, "heralded at one time as the enemy of the state, but which has become a 'business men's bank,' enjoying the confidence of every village and town," although in theory the fiscal agent of the national government.

"Commerce in the United States," he said, "is not measured by state boundaries and cannot be successfully controlled by state authority. Interstate commerce and traffic have outgrown the state in every respect and the ill from which we have suffered in the past, insofar as they have been met, were relieved by the interposition of national authority."

The secretary declared that there is pressing necessity for the development of foreign commerce and that "we are proceeding, as it were, oblivious to it."

"We speak of the tariff," he continued, "as though it concerned only the cost of the consumer at home, and yet we have entered the international arena; we have entered it politically, and we must maintain it commercially. Notwithstanding all the campaign controversy, the free list has now been increased. It is the 15th annual banquet of the Kansas City Commercial Club. He declared himself a believer in both state and national authority, saying that he "read the constitution to mean that the integrity of both was guaranteed."

In the practical affairs of life, however, he asserted, "substantially no one adheres to the old doctrine of restricted power of the national government."

"The old restriction upon federal authority and federal appropriations have been swept away," he said. "Generally in all directions the old barrier has been broken down and it is admitted in practice, if not in platform, that national authority is absolutely essential to meet national problems as they now present themselves. If this is true at home with respect to domestic affairs, it is infinitely more true with respect to foreign affairs."

Mr. Nagel dealt in his speech with the question of the relation between national and state authority, particularly as it pertained to commerce. As to foreign commerce he declared that he was "absolutely to say that only one authority can be consulted and that is the national power."

As to domestic commerce he said: "So far we have practically no commercial corporations that base their authority upon anything but state authority. The inconvenience of that system, even in our interstate commerce, has been sufficiently demonstrated. I am persuaded, for one, that the conflicts, the inconsistencies, and the embarrassments with respect to interstate commerce alone are enough to call for the organization of corporations under federal charters."

"I am not oblivious to the fact," he added, "that if the national government does authorize the organization of commercial companies to be employed in foreign business, these same organizations may, and perhaps must, by degrees, engage in domestic commerce as well. On the contrary, I believe this to be an inevitable result of the first step. But there is no cause for alarm."

He said it would only be a repetition of the story of the national bank, "heralded at one time as the enemy of the state, but which has become a 'business men's bank,' enjoying the confidence of every village and town," although in theory the fiscal agent of the national government.

"Commerce in the United States," he said, "is not measured by state boundaries and cannot be successfully controlled by state authority. Interstate commerce and traffic have outgrown the state in every respect and the ill from which we have suffered in the past, insofar as they have been met, were relieved by the interposition of national authority."

The secretary declared that there is pressing necessity for the development of foreign commerce and that "we are proceeding, as it were, oblivious to it."

"We speak of the tariff," he continued, "as though it concerned only the cost of the consumer at home, and yet we have entered the international arena; we have entered it politically, and we must maintain it commercially. Notwithstanding all the campaign controversy, the free list has now been increased. It is the 15th annual banquet of the Kansas City Commercial Club. He declared himself a believer in both state and national authority, saying that he "read the constitution to mean that the integrity of both was guaranteed."

In the practical affairs of life, however, he asserted, "substantially no one adheres to the old doctrine of restricted power of the national government."

"The old restriction upon federal authority and federal appropriations have been swept away," he said. "Generally in all directions the old barrier has been broken down and it is admitted in practice, if not in platform, that national authority is absolutely essential to meet national problems as they now present themselves. If this is true at home with respect to domestic affairs, it is infinitely more true with respect to foreign affairs."

Mr. Nagel dealt in his speech with the question of the relation between national and state authority, particularly as it pertained to commerce. As to foreign commerce he declared that he was "absolutely to say that only one authority can be consulted and that is the national power."

As to domestic commerce he said: "So far we have practically no commercial corporations that base their authority upon anything but state authority. The inconvenience of that system, even in our interstate commerce, has been sufficiently demonstrated. I am persuaded, for one, that the conflicts, the inconsistencies, and the embarrassments with respect to interstate commerce alone are enough to call for the organization of corporations under federal charters."

"I am not oblivious to the fact," he added, "that if the national government does authorize the organization of commercial companies to be employed in foreign business, these same organizations may, and perhaps must, by degrees, engage in domestic commerce as well. On the contrary, I believe this to be an inevitable result of the first step. But there is no cause for alarm."

He said it would only be a repetition of the story of the national bank, "heralded at one time as the enemy of the state, but which has become a 'business men's bank,' enjoying the confidence of every village and town," although in theory the fiscal agent of the national government.

"Commerce in the United States," he said, "is not measured by state boundaries and cannot be successfully controlled by state authority. Interstate commerce and traffic have outgrown the state in every respect and the ill from which we have suffered in the past, insofar as they have been met, were relieved by the interposition of national authority."

The secretary declared that there is pressing necessity for the development of foreign commerce and that "we are proceeding, as it were, oblivious to it."

"We speak of the tariff," he continued, "as though it concerned only the cost of the consumer at home, and yet we have entered the international arena; we have entered it politically, and we must maintain it commercially. Notwithstanding all the campaign controversy, the free list has now been increased. It is the 15th annual banquet of the Kansas City Commercial Club. He declared himself a believer in both state and national authority, saying that he "read the constitution to mean that the integrity of both was guaranteed."

In the practical affairs of life, however, he asserted, "substantially no one adheres to the old doctrine of restricted power of the national government."

"The old restriction upon federal authority and federal appropriations have been swept away," he said. "Generally in all directions the old barrier has been broken down and it is admitted in practice, if not in platform, that national authority is absolutely essential to meet national problems as they now present themselves. If this is true at home with respect to domestic affairs, it is infinitely more true with respect to foreign affairs."

Mr. Nagel dealt in his speech with the question of the relation between national and state authority, particularly as it pertained to commerce. As to foreign commerce he declared that he was "absolutely to say that only one authority can be consulted and that is the national power."

As to domestic commerce he said: "So far we have practically no commercial corporations that base their authority upon anything but state authority. The inconvenience of that system, even in our interstate commerce, has been sufficiently demonstrated. I am persuaded, for one, that the conflicts, the inconsistencies, and the embarrassments with respect to interstate commerce alone are enough to call for the organization of corporations under federal charters."

"I am not oblivious to the fact," he added, "that if the national government does authorize the organization of commercial companies to be employed in foreign business, these same organizations may, and perhaps must, by degrees, engage in domestic commerce as well. On the contrary, I believe this to be an inevitable result of the first step. But there is no cause for alarm."

He said it would only be a repetition of the story of the national bank, "heralded at one time as the enemy of the state, but which has become a 'business men's bank,' enjoying the confidence of every village and town," although in theory the fiscal agent of the national government.

"Commerce in the United States," he said, "is not measured by state boundaries and cannot be successfully controlled by state authority. Interstate commerce and traffic have outgrown the state in every respect and the ill from which we have suffered in the past, insofar as they have been met, were relieved by the interposition of national authority."

The secretary declared that there is pressing necessity for the development of foreign commerce and that "we are proceeding, as it were, oblivious to it."

"We speak of the tariff," he continued, "as though it concerned only the cost of the consumer at home, and yet we have entered the international arena; we have entered it politically, and we must maintain it commercially. Notwithstanding all the campaign controversy, the free list has now been increased. It is the 15th annual banquet of the Kansas City Commercial Club. He declared himself a believer in both state and national authority, saying that he "read the constitution to mean that the integrity of both was guaranteed."

In the practical affairs of life, however, he asserted, "substantially no one adheres to the old doctrine of restricted power of the national government."

"The old restriction upon federal authority and federal appropriations have been swept away," he said. "Generally in all directions the old barrier has been broken down and it is admitted in practice, if not in platform, that national authority is absolutely essential to meet national problems as they now present themselves. If this is true at home with respect to domestic affairs, it is infinitely more true with respect to foreign affairs."

Mr. Nagel dealt in his speech with the question of the relation between national and state authority, particularly as it pertained to commerce. As to foreign commerce he declared that he was "absolutely to say that only one authority can be consulted and that is the national power."

As to domestic commerce he said: "So far we have practically no commercial corporations that base their authority upon anything but state authority. The inconvenience of that system, even in our interstate commerce, has been sufficiently demonstrated. I am persuaded, for one, that the conflicts, the inconsistencies, and the embarrassments with respect to interstate commerce alone are enough to call for the organization of corporations under federal charters."

"I am not oblivious to the fact," he added, "that if the national government does authorize the organization of commercial companies to be employed in foreign business, these same organizations may, and perhaps must, by degrees, engage in domestic commerce as well. On the contrary, I believe this to be an inevitable result of the first step. But there is no cause for alarm."

He said it would only be a repetition of the story of the national bank, "heralded at one time as the enemy of the state, but which has become a 'business men's bank,' enjoying the confidence of every village and town," although in theory the fiscal agent of the national government.

"Commerce in the United States," he

IN POLICE COURT "CAESAR" IS DEAD

Cash Register Agent Not Guilty on Larceny Charge

Alfred Moehenger appeared before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with the larceny of $10 from Wilfred Blouin. The case was tried during the early part of the week but disposition was continued until today, in order that the reliability of the testimony of the defendant might be heard. Lawyer James E. O'Donnell appeared for the defendant and after two witnesses had been examined the court found the defendant not guilty and ordered that he be discharged.

The case was brought before the court on the fact that it was alleged that the defendant sold the complainant a cash register, Moehenger claiming to be a representative of the American Cash Register company. It was testified to in court that the complainant gave the defendant a check for $25 and the latter gave the complainant $10 in cash. It is stated that the check was cashed but that the cash register did not appear in Blouin's store.

George S. Knowles, a salesman for the American Cash Register Co., when placed on the stand, said that he knew the defendant and had done business with him. He said that he had had a talk with Blouin after attempting to negotiate for sales in this city.

The court after considering the evidence in the case found the defendant not guilty and ordered him discharged.

He Came Back

John Cushing, who appeared before the court yesterday morning, was back in the dock again this morning, but he will not appear in the dock again for several months for he will spend the next few months at the state farm in Bridgewater. Cushing blew into Lowell, or rather came in on a train, the day before yesterday and at that time he had $90 in his pocket. The night before last when he was placed under arrest it was found that he had but forty dollars. When he appeared in court yesterday morning he explained to the court that he had been in northern New Hampshire and promised if given a chance he would leave Lowell, and on that condition he was placed on probation, but it seems that he was so elated over his temporary discharge that he bumped up against the first swinging door he came across and as a result of what followed he was arrested last night. While he waited to talk to the court this morning after it was found that the prisoner had spent $11 from the time he left

The Best 50c Underwear
IN LOWELL, AT THE
Merrimack CLOTHING COMPANY
Across from City Hall

Winter Prescription Service

Just as at all other times—only the best. Our ever-growing prescription trade has brought this department of our store to the point of perfection. Physicians feel confident that we give the patient exactly what the prescription calls for. Our prices are moderate and reasonable, and often far below the prices charged elsewhere.

F. J. CAMPBELL
Prescription Druggist
Two Stores—Tower's Cor. Drug Store, and 333 Dutton, Cor. Fletcher St.

W. A. LEWIS

Steam Dying and Cleansing Works
FOR MEN AND WOMEN
49 John St. Morris Block

F. W. Cragin & Co.
MANUFACTURERS OF
Cabinet Work of All Kinds to Order
Stores and offices fitted up. Wood turning, jobbing and repairing. Old furniture repaired and finished, new furniture made to order.

R. J. FLYNN, Auctioneer,
104 Central Street.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF STOCK AND FIXTURES OF THE GROCERY AND BUTCHER SHOP, LOCATED AT 33 FRONT STREET, ON TUESDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 22, AT 2 O'CLOCK.

I will sell at public auction the stock and fixtures of the above mentioned shop to the highest bidder. The stock consists of canned goods, groceries, meat, boned, and every necessary fixture and supply of a first-class grocer and butcher shop.

Sale will be held rain or shine.
Per order STANISLAW SURDERSKI, Mortgagee.

DR. TEMPLE'S TREATMENT

For Chronic and Nervous Diseases of Men and Women.

Dr. Temple's Treatment has cured thousands of people; among them were the worst cases of Cancer, Tumors, Catarrh, Chronic Diseases of the Lungs, Nerves, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bladder and Rectum, that it is possible to meet. Unfortunately, suffering people, many who had practically given up all hope of ever being cured, those who had doctored and doctored and were still sick, were cured by Dr. Temple's Treatment.

Acute and Chronic Blood and Nervous Diseases of Men and Women, Syphilis, Gonorrhea, Kidney, Bladder, Prostate Diseases, Piles, Hemorrhoids, Ulcers and All Rectal Diseases. Without the Use of the Knife. Diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat and Skin, Epilepsy and all Nervous Diseases except Insanity.

97 CENTRAL ST., MANSUR BLOCK, LOWELL, MASS.
Hours: Wednesdays, 2 to 5, 7 to 8. Sundays, 10 to 12.
FREE—Consultation, Examination, Advice—FREE.

GREAT DANE "CAESAR" VICTIM OF POISONING.

A Prince Among Dogs Has Been Poisoned

"Caesar," Bob Paradis' big Great Dane, the best known and perhaps most popular dog in Lowell, is dead, as the result of strychnine poisoning, supposed to have been administered by some person who was either afraid of the animal or whose garbaggio barrel had been upset a few times.

Mr. Paradis would give something to learn the identity of the poisoner, but doubtless never will find out who laid poor "Caesar" low.

"Caesar" was one of those dogs, undoubtedly that inspired the celebrated eulogy of Senator Vest, on a dog, for he was a most companionable brute and though one of the largest dogs in Lowell, was one of the most harmless. Children could maul and haul him to their hearts' content and he never showed anger, while he was the beloved of all the cats in the neighborhood for he protected them from the assaults of other dogs and would never forget his gentlemanly bearing in his presence.

Last Sunday "Caesar" suddenly became violently ill and developed paralysis of the lower jaw. Mr. Paradis summoned Dr. Eaton, the well known veterinary to diagnose the case and the latter after an examination stated that the dog was suffering from either strychnine or gelsemium poisoning. "Caesar" was unable to eat and that was the best evidence in the world that he was ill. He was kept at home and tenderly nursed until Tuesday when he appeared to feel good and was permitted to leave the house. Mr. Paradis supposed that the dog would make for his down town haunts.

But from the time he left the house, "Caesar" was never seen again alive. When he didn't appear home that night, Mr. Paradis notified the police and all patrolmen were notified to be on the lookout for him. None ever saw him for it appears that upon leaving home he wandered out into the country. Tuesday evening he appeared in Dunstable running along the road with his head almost touching the ground and the people who saw him imagined that he was suffering with the rabies and gave him a wide berth. He ran into the yard of a man named Curtis. The latter offered him food and something to drink but he couldn't take them and wagging his tail appreciatively started away again in the direction of Pepperell.

On Wednesday evening he appeared in Pepperell at the home of Miss Ruth Wilson. It was seen that the animal was suffering great pain and the members of Miss Wilson's family probably attracted by the unusual size and extreme docility of the dog gave him every attention, remaining up most of the night to attend to him and giving him a good bed and the homely remedies that suggested themselves to them. Thursday morning "Caesar" wagged his tail vigorously at his new found friends and started off through the fields. Later in the day a farm hand found his dead body in the field.

Everything in Lowell knew "Caesar" and although he was only a dog he was an exceedingly good fellow as dogs go and he will be genuinely mourned and missed by his immediate friends.

"Caesar" was a Great Dane of the fawn type. He was over two years old, and during that time no dog was seen as often or attracted as much attention in Lowell as "Caesar." "Caesar" was sired by "Sport 11" owned by Joseph Gagnon in Draught.

JUDGE J. J. FEELY

Addressed Company K, Sixth Regiment

The members of Co. K, Sixth regiment held a stag party at the armory last evening that was the most enjoyable affair that has been held there in a long time. A hustling entertainment committee consisting of Corporal S. R. Waller, chairman, Private Ralph Hickey and Private Taylor had full charge of the affair and they "did themselves proud" in arranging the program.

The guest of the evening was Judge Advocate Joseph J. Feely, of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery of Boston who spoke on "The History of the Militia of Massachusetts Colony and State," and he traced the growth of the organization from the time of its inception in 1638 to the present.

Judge Feely spoke of the difficulties attending early efforts at organization and mentioned some of the objections advanced by the opponents of the military idea.

"Too much frolicking," was given as one reason, while a more serious objection to the militia was that advanced by farmers and manufacturers that it took up too much time of their employees.

Judge Feely emphasized the fact that the Massachusetts militia has enjoyed the distinction of leading all other states in the Union.

One of the most enjoyable features of the evening was the first appearance of Co. K's new orchestra, which made a pronounced hit. Co. K probably enjoys the distinction of being the only military company in the state to have its own orchestra. The orchestra consists of Corp. S. R. Waller, leader and piano; Warren White, 1st violin; Priv. Frank Huntley, 2d violin; 1st Sgt. Sheldon, flute; Musician Jefferson, 1st cornet; Corp. Edgar Luce, 2d cornet; Musician W. Corliss, drums. Mr. White gave several acceptable violin solos.

A lunch was served.

Judge Feely was present when the members of Company K were put through a drill by Capt. James N. Greig, and at the close of the drill, Judge Feely said the company conducted favorably with other companies that he had seen in manual tactics in Massachusetts.

REP. THOMAS RILEY

WILL ADDRESS CELTIC ASSOCIATES TOMORROW

Rep. Thomas P. Riley of Malden, the leader of the democratic minority in the legislature, and who made such a favorable impression in this city as a lecturer before the Knights of Columbus and as a campaign speaker in the recent Fox rally, will lecture in the guest of the Celtic Association in Matthews hall, Dutton street, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. All are welcome.

LOTUS QUARTET

ENTERTAINED LOWELL TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

The Lowell Teachers association held a meeting in High school last evening after the teachers enjoyed an excellent program by the Lotus Male quartet. This quartet sang at the recent teachers' convention in Boston, and made a tremendous hit. The personnel of the quartet is as follows: Robert Martin, first tenor; William Hicks, second tenor; Ned Raymond, baritone; Frank Canell, basso; and Helene Perley, accompanist.

The following program was given, and augmented by many encores:

"Away" Brackets
"Song of the Soul" Brackets
"The Lotus Quartet" Arens
"Gloria" Buzzi-Secola
"Misere" (from "Il Trovatore") Verdi
"Conquered" St. Quentin
"Remember Now 'Thy Creator'" Rhodes
"Lotus Quartet"

Mr. A. L. Bacheller, who was a delegate from the association to meet with a committee in Boston representing the state federation of teachers, now being formed, recommended that the Lowell teachers' organization join the state federation. The recommendation was accepted.

SEN. ELKINS IMPROVED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Senator Elkins of West Virginia, who was brought here recently suffering from severe illness, was reported today as being improved. Mrs. Elkins and Miss Katherine Elkins, their daughter, who was with the senator at their West Virginia home, are now in Washington and expect to remain here until there is a change in the senator's condition.

LOST AND FOUND

ROLL OF BILLS containing couple of tens and the remainder in ones and twos, and in all amounting to $33 lost Saturday morning, Nov. 19, between 6 Stackpole st. and Talbot st. probably stolen from F. N. A. Burtchaw, 100 Fort Hill ave.

PAIR OF RYE GLASSES lost between 16 Albion st. and 14½ St. Richard st. Return to McSorley's, 34½ Bridge st.

SUM OF MONEY found near Davis square. Owner can have same by proving property and paying for this ad. at 35 Butler ave.

SMALL BLACK POCKETBOOK lost Tuesday night between Gorham st. and Oaklands. Reward at 679 Gorham st. or tel. 1567-4.

FOX TERRIER, four mon. old, lost white body with black head. Strayed from 12½ Fletcher st. Reward for its return.

AUTOMOBILE HOOD lost Monday night, Nov. 7, on Stevens st., between Belmont and Jephthah sts.; made of sheet iron, painted red. Reward for its return to F. N. A. Burtchaw, 100 Fort Hill ave.

FOUND—The place is not your baby carriage tires put on while you wait. Each. At 355 Bridge st. Q. P. Pringle.

QUICK LOANS

To Housekeepers and Workingmen

HOUSEHOLD LOAN CO. Wyman's Exchange, Cor. Merrimack and Central Sts.
Fifth floor. Take Elevator. Rooms 503 and 505
MON. FRI. AND SATURDAY EVENINGS UNTIL 9 O'CLOCK

$5 THE $10 LOANS at
EQUITABLE LOAN
$15 CO. $25

$1 Less for.....$5.00
$2 Less for.....$10.00
$3 Less for.....$15.00
$4 Less for.....$25.00

Than any other loan company is Lowell.

MILL OPERATIVES, CLERKS, MECHANICS AND HOUSEKEEPERS MAY BORROW MONEY.

Lent without security. No waits, no investigations or red tape. Business strictly confidential. Two private offices; most liberal terms of any company in Lowell. Payable in small weekly payments. Offices 37 Hildreth Building, or one flight, at head of stairs. Open every evening. 45 Merrimack street.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE

FORTE DE FRANCE, Martinique, Nov. 19.—A severe earth shock moving from the north southwest was experienced here last night. No damage was done.

COUNT TOLSTOI IMPROVED

ASTAPOVA, Russia, Nov. 19.—At noon the physicians attending Count Leo Tolstois issued the following statement:

"The condition of Count Tolstois improved during the night. His temperature is 98.9; respiration good, but the patient continues weak."

ROYAL ARCANUM BOWLERS

The opening game of the Royal Arcanum bowling league will take place next Monday night, when Lowell council and Rochambeau council meet on the Vesper Boat club alleys. It is expected that there will be a large attendance.

HELP WANTED

TWO EXPERIENCED TABLE GIRLS wanted. Apply Quincy House, 53 Lee st.

THREE DRESSER TENDERS wanted for night work. Apply Musketquad Mills, 131 Davidson st.

MAN WANTED on level bed glazing machine. Apply Lowell Leather Co., Lawrence st.

YOUNG LADY or gentleman wanted to work in restaurant. Must be of neat appearance. Address D. B. Sun Office.

FIRST CLASS BOSS STANCHION wanted for a blacksmith and finishing work. Must have experience in back filling. Address S. B. Sun Office.

FINE Handsome 18 piece set decorated dishes. Sell 15 10c bottles Violet Perfume. Address Perfume, Sun Office.

CARPENTER, brick and stone mason wanted for 4-tenement house. Must be of neat appearance. Address S. B. Sun Office.

EXPERIENCED BURLERS wanted on plain and fancy worsteds. Call or write, Sidney Elmhurst & Co., Mill No. 2, Shelton, Conn.

870 MONTH—Customs, internal revenue, railway mail clerks wanted. List of spring examinations in Lowell now ready. Preparation free. Franklin Institute, Dept. 144 A, Rochester, N. Y.

EXPERIENCED GIRL, wanted for general housework in family of two; must be a good cook. Apply at Sun Office.

YOUNG MAN wanted to work in market and on delivery team. State age, experience and where you are employed. Address S. B. Sun Office.

ABLE BODIED MEN wanted for the U. S. marine corps between the ages of 19 and 35. Must be native born or have first papers. Monthly pay $16 to $23. Additional compensation possible. Food, clothing, quarters and medical attendance free. After 30 years' service can retire with 75 per cent of pay and allowances. Service on board ship and ashore in all parts of the world. Apply at U. S. Marine Corps, Recruiting Office, Room 18, Russell Bldg., Lowell, Mass.

Wanted

Closers-on, Stayers, Closers, Women's Shoes. Millar & Wolfer, Webster Ave., Chelsea, Mass.

WANTED

I WISH TO BUY a good square piano at once. W. F. Trumbull, 101 Westford st., from whom comes all great bargains in high grade upright pianos. Call at once.

WANTED TO BUY all kinds of new and old furniture in large or small lots. Come and see me before going elsewhere. It will pay you. F. J. Green, 72 Middlesex st. Phone 291-1.

SEAMSTRESS—Will go out by the day or take work home. Children's clothes, hats, underwear and babies' layettes made. Reasonable prices. Mrs. J. C. Crawford, Room 49, Bon Marche block.

SECOND HAND FURNITURE wanted. Highest cash prices paid at P. J. Custy's furniture store, 458 Central st.

FOR SALE

ONE TWO-SEATED CARRIAGE, a demerit wagon and Concord wagon for sale. Inquire 1403 Lakeview ave.

COMPLETE ELEGANT FURNISHING of 6-room modern tenement, bargain, as a whole or by piece. Good location for parties desiring a home. Low rent. Address X. T. Sun Office.

BOARDING HOUSE for sale, 15 chambers, at 93 John st.

LOGGING HOUSE of 14-rooms for sale; all full; good location; steam heat. Call 321 Appleton st.

RESTAURANT and lunch for sale; the best in the state; better location; doing good business; best location; reasonable offer will buy it. Call 191 Main st., Nashua, N. H.

CUSTOM MADE HARNESSES for sale. Address C. M. H. Sun office.

$10 and Upwards

Settle Those Annoying Bills POSITIVELY NO FUGITIVITY GET A LOAN FROM US—LOWEST RATES

Small Weekly or Monthly Payments Accepted.

Courteous employees. Private rooms for free consultation. If you cannot call we will send an agent.

HOUSEHOLD LOAN CO.

Wyman's Exchange, Cor. Merrimack and Central Sts.
Fifth floor. Take Elevator. Rooms 503 and 505
MON. FRI. AND SATURDAY EVENINGS UNTIL 9 O'CLOCK

$5 THE $10 LOANS at

EQUITABLE LOAN
$15 CO. $25

$1 Less for.....$5.00
$2 Less for.....$10.00
$3 Less for.....$15.00
$4 Less for.....$25.00

Than any other loan company is Lowell.

MILL OPERATIVES, CLERKS, MECHANICS AND HOUSEKEEPERS MAY BORROW MONEY.

Lent without security. No waits, no investigations or red tape. Business strictly confidential. Two private offices; most liberal terms of any company in Lowell. Payable in small weekly payments. Offices 37 Hildreth Building, or one flight, at head of stairs. Open every evening. 45 Merrimack street.

MONEY TO LOAN

NOTES OF SALARIED PEOPLE and women keeping house and others, bought without security. Easy payments. Offices in 60 principal cities. Don't be deceived by misleading advertisements. Investigate actual terms of others, then save money by trading here. D. H. Taiman, Room 48, 48 Merrimack st.

$10 Loans

AND UPWARD

Housekeepers—Workingmen—and Salaried Employees

You will find the AMERICAN a surprisingly different institution from the ordinary loan company you hear or read about. Confidential dealings, quick service, courteous employees, bright, efficient officers, considerate treatment, rates you can afford to pay, make us different. If you have never borrowed, or if your experience with other companies has not been entirely satisfactory, please call on us.

Let us explain the AMERICAN system. It will please you.

Call, Write or Phone 2434.

American Loan Co.

45 MERRIMACK ST.
Room 10, Hildreth Bldg.
THIRD FLOOR.

WHY

Borrow money and pay high rates of interest when you can get any reasonable amount from a reliable company at

ONE PER CENT.

per month on Pianos, Furniture, etc.

Write on day of application. Quick service and confidential methods. Convenient to call, write or phone, and we will have our representative call on you.

Merrimack Loan Co.

Room 5, 81 Merrimack St. or 17 John Street
Hours: 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.; Monday and Saturday until 5 p. m.

MISCELLANEOUS

SURGICAL INSTRUMENTS, knives and scissors sharpened; also recent saw filing and key fitting at Harry Gonzalez, 128 Gorham st. Tel. 352-2.

DRINK GLORIA for health. Sold everywhere.

MOTHERS—Rent's Destroyer kills lice on children, and all insects; cures dandruff and itching scalp; prevents falling hair; harmless. Sold only at Falls & Burkinshaw's, 418 Middlesex st.

SITUATIONS WANTED

GENERAL HOUSEWORK or kitchen work desired by middle aged woman. Address N. Sun Office.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

FIVE HOUSE LOTS for sale on Tenth and Mt. Pleasant sts. John Keefe, 216 Tenth st.

Dry Hard Bobbin WOOD

Walter L. Parker Co.
731 DUTTON STREET
Telephone 1580

5 baskets coarse wood.....$1.00
11 baskets coarse wood.....$2.00
6 baskets fine wood.....$1.00
14 baskets fine wood.....$2.00

LEGAL NOTICES

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. Probate Court. In the Probate Court of the County of Middlesex, ss. Probate Court. Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Warren E. Lewis, of Chelmsford, in said County, deceased, intestate.

Whereas a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Warren E. Lewis, of Chelmsford, in the County of Middlesex, without giving a surety on his bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-ninth day of November, A. D. 1910, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to publish this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

W. E. ROGERS, Register.

LEGAL NOTICES

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. Probate Court. In the Probate Court of the County of Middlesex, ss. Probate Court. Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Warren E. Lewis, of Chelmsford, in said County, deceased, intestate.

Whereas a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Warren E. Lewis, of Chelmsford, in the County of Middlesex, without giving a surety on his bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-ninth day of November, A. D. 1910, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to publish this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

W. E. ROGERS, Register.

TO LET

GOOD BARN to let, for horses or autos, at 389 High st. M. J. Cahill.

FURNISHED FRONT ROOM to let; furnace heat. Inquire at 207 Appleton st.

TENEMENT of 7 rooms on Methuen st. to let; bath, hot water, furnace; good room for auto. Henry Miller & Son, 999, 910 Wyman's Exchange.

5-ROOM DOWN STAIRS FLAT to let at 33 Park street. Modern improvements. Inquire Hogan Bros, 92 Concord st.

LARGE SUNNY FRONT ROOM to let; also suite of sunny rooms to let. Gas, bath, hot and cold water, 687 Fletcher st. Lower right hand bell.

STORE TO LET. Apply 84 Alken ave.

FIRST CLASS TABLE BOARD and rooms to let; steam heat; walk from Westford st. car line. Mrs. Nettie Saunders, 641 st.

FURNISHED ROOMS to let, under new management; steam heat, bath, electric light if desired; also separate rooms for light housekeeping, stove and refrigerator. Inquire 75 East Merrimack st.

HOUSE AND BARN to let, on car line, house has 55 rooms, heated by steam and equipped with modern improvements. Inquire in the mill district. Address S. B. Sun Office.

7-ROOM TENEMENT to let, 10 Lombard st.; up-to-date; 1 1/2 bath, pantry, hot water. Inquire 38 Second ave. or Rhordike st.

5-ROOM TENEMENT to let at 53 Church st. Modern, reasonable. Apply Mrs. Cole, 33 North st.

NICE WARM TENEMENTS to let at 145 Cushing st. 4-3-room flats. 1-7-room tenement, all new, cheap rents. Inquire 155 Elm st. or 168 Elm st. $1.75 per week. Inquire Joseph Flynn, 71 Chapel st.

BLACKSMITH SHOP to let; a long established stand. Apply 324 Market st. Suitable for a carp

TRAINS TO AND FROM BOSTON

SOUTHERN DIV. WESTERN DIV.

To Boston	From Boston	To Boston	From Boston
Lve. Arr.	Lve. Arr.	Lve. Arr.	Lve. Arr.
4:45 7:41	8:15 11:11	8:04 8:57	7:30 8:23
6:30 7:18	7:55 8:07	9:00 10:05	9:24 10:44
10:44 7:53	8:15 8:27	10:50 11:55	10:55 11:24
12:10 8:00	9:00 9:12	12:05 1:10	11:50 12:54
7:11 8:05	10:51 11:04	1:10 2:17	2:14 3:20
8:11 8:45	10:50 10:58	3:10 4:18	3:20 4:30
9:38 8:55	11:50 12:07	4:30 5:34	4:59 6:35
9:48 9:55	12:09 1:01	5:08 6:35	6:05 7:01
9:58 9:55	12:09 1:07	7:00 8:00	6:53 7:45
10:00 10:20	1:09 1:37	9:44 10:40	9:35 10:31
9:45 10:28	2:00 2:49		11:25 12:21
9:59 11:04	3:00 3:23
10:43 11:20	10:51 11:02
11:15 12:00	4:00 4:39
12:19 1:00	6:14 6:30
1:46 2:25	6:00 6:37
2:41 3:20	10:51 11:02
3:57 4:40	5:38 6:29
4:28 5:27	10:51 11:02
5:20 6:15	10:51 11:02
10:10 11:10	7:30 8:08
6:13 7:00	8:30 9:08
7:58 8:20	10:30 11:34
9:40 10:30	11:17 12:00

SUNDAY TRAINS

To Boston	From Boston
Lve. Arr.	Lve. Arr.
6:29 7:18	9:00 10:00
7:21 8:05	10:00 10:28
7:55 8:39	11:30 12:07
8:48 9:31	1:00 1:37
9:20 10:15	4:00 4:39
10:25 11:24	7:30 8:08
11:15 12:00	8:30 9:08
12:19 1:00	10:30 11:34
1:46 2:25	11:17 12:00

References:

X Run to Lowell Saturdays only.
a Via Lawrence Junction.
b Via Bedford.
c Via Salem Jct.
d Via Wilmington Junction.

LOCAL NEWS

Political printing at Tobin's Printery. J. F. Donohoe, Donovan bldg., real estate and insurance. Telephone.

SHORT OF COAL

BALTIMORE, Nov. 19.—A despatch to the local maritime exchange says that the British steamer Trongate has arrived at Bermuda short of coal. The Trongate sailed from Boston for Baltimore Nov. 10 and her non-arrival at this port caused anxiety for the vessel's safety.

$20 Convertible Collar Overcoats
TODAY
$15.00
MERRIMACK CLOTHING CO.
Across from City Hall

CELTIC ASSOCIATES
Will commemorate the 43rd Anniversary of the Manchester Martyrs
IN MATHEW HALL, DUTTON ST.
Sunday Afternoon
Nov. 20, at 2.30

THOMAS P. HILLEY, Secy., of Malden will deliver the address. Tickets, for men only, may be procured from members.

Cook, Taylor & Co.
CENTRAL STREET

Ladies' Coats Suits Throws Scarfs And Muffs
A LARGE STOCK TO SELECT FROM NEVER UNDERSOLD INSPECTION INVITED

Cook, Taylor & Co.
231 to 237 Central Street.

CURTIN & SPILLANE
Plumbers, Steam and Gas Fitters
Estimates Cheerfully Given
26 ANDOVER ST. TEL. 2429

D. F. CONNORS' Dancing School
RUNNELS HALL, MERRIMACK SQ.
Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays
—Private Lessons by Appointment—
Telephone 1272-2.

SCHOOL CENTERS

Are to be Opened in Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The many five-cent theatres and moving picture shows of Chicago will face keener competition when the school "centres" which the board of education has established have opened. The date of the opening of the eight schools probably will be set within a fortnight.

"There will be the best class of moving pictures," said John D. Shoop, assistant superintendent of schools, last night. Large phonographs will give out patriotic songs and other music. "Then there will be gymnasium and singing classes, illustrated lectures, dates and locum programs. The 'centres' will be opened three nights a week."

KING EMMANUEL

SAID TO HAVE GIVEN CONSENT TO MARRIAGE

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Despite the fact that Miss Katherine Elkins arrived in New York on Oct. 4 last and, according to cable advice, is now in Washington, some of the continental papers claim to print stories to the effect that she is stopping at Lugano, Switzerland, intimating that the Elkins family, with the exception of the senator, recently returned to Europe incognito.

A despatch received here from Lugano today states that Miss Elkins is there arranging with the bishop of Ticino for conversion to Catholicity and that she was visited last Monday by the Duke of the Abruzzi.

Another despatch from Milan, Italy, quotes the Secolo as follows: "The Secolo has made an inquiry at Lugano, where Miss Katherine Elkins is stopping and has discovered that the duke motored to that place on Monday, incognito. On Wednesday Miss Elkins' brother, Davis, arrived. On that day the bishop called at her hotel and later was visited by Miss Katherine at the bishop's house, who sought to arrange for her conversion to the Catholic faith."

"The marriage of Miss Elkins and the Duke of the Abruzzi is likely to take place in December or early in January," King Victor Emmanuel has given his consent to the match and all difficulties with Senator Elkins have been removed.

"Miss Elkins will take the name of the Duchess of Teramo. The Elkinses are expected to leave soon for Nervi, Italy. The duke has made Miss Elkins a gift of jewels and has presented her brother with a superb hunting rifle."

"It is thought here that the Lugano correspondents have mistaken another party for the Elkins family."

Special sale of nut picks and crackers at The Thompson Hardware Co., 100 per cent, regular 25c goods; just what you need for Thanksgiving day.

SAVE
The price of your Thanksgiving dinner by making your purchases AT THE Merrimack Clothing Co
Across From City Hall

THEY DO COME BACK
TO THE EMPIRE THEATRE
The Home of Family Vaudeville and Moving Pictures
Entire change of bill commencing Nov. 17.

LA VINE AND CRENIER
THE DUC
ROBERT MILLO
"A Study in Physical Culture."
Refined Singing, Dancing and Instrumentalists.
SEATS 5 AND 10 CENTS
Coming "DIXIE" with The original fallbreaker.

PRESIDENT TAFT
Is on His Way to Panama

JAPANESE PARTY
DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR AT THE KIDNEY CHURCH
The Japanese Church, 100 Park Street, is giving a delightful affair for the benefit of the church. Every one is invited. The program will consist of a Japanese play, a Japanese song, a Japanese dance, a Japanese lecture, a Japanese address, a Japanese prayer, a Japanese benediction, a Japanese offering, a Japanese collection, a Japanese communion, a Japanese dismissal.

C. B. COBURN CO.
63 MARKET ST.
Free City Auto Delivery
Pyrography Blanks
Priced... 10c to $1.10
Outfits... 98c to $4.25
ART DEPT.

OUR GRAMMAR SCHOOLS

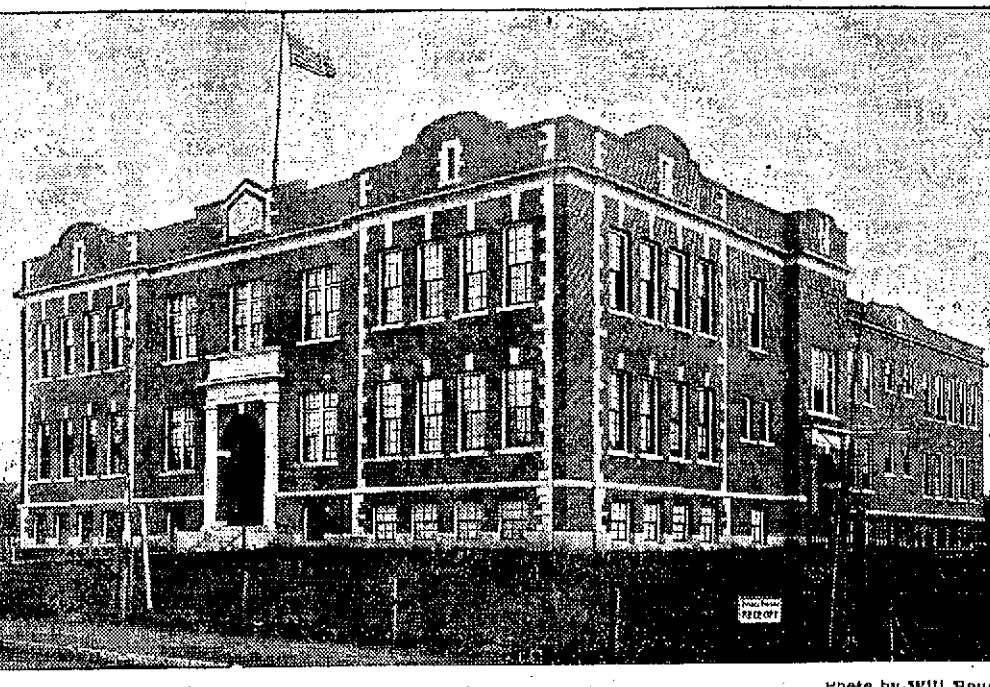

THE GREENHALGE

Sketch of the School and Its Principal

The Greenhalge Grammar school was opened in the fall of 1906, with the ten rooms all occupied, half of them by primary children and half by grammar school children. The highest grade that year was the seventh. The next year the school had an eighth grade, and the following year, 1908-9, there was a ninth grade, or in other words the school had become a full-fledged grammar school. Only two classes, of course, have been graduated. The members of these two classes were as follows:

Walter F. Coburn, Geo. T. Booth, Percy Caragher, Chas. G. Brosseau, Harold M. DeLong, Norman T. Burke, Frederick M. Gure, Joseph A. Dillon, Herbert J. Howard, Francis J. Griffin, Lester C. Merrill, Harold F. Giver, Lawrence Rogers, Francis J. McCann, Nathan P. Smith, Ralph H. Smith, Allen Davenport, John H. Tweed, Beatrice Brudrau, Hazel E. Ashion, Helen A. Bagley, Edith M. Caddell, Beatrice Deland, Laura A. Callahan, Frances L. Low, Margarette Casey, Josephine Cliff, Jennie M. Connors.

Photo by Will Rounds

THE GREENHALGE SCHOOL

Chloro C. Gendreau, Grace E. Conrad, Alice Handley, Laura B. Deane, Lillian H. Hill, Anna M. Egan, Mathilda P. Holmes, Mayetta E. Kelley, Margaret McCann, Florence Morrill, Helen M. Mack, Elsie H. Smith, Lillian H. Peck, Selma J. Smith, Helen M. Thesley, Margaret Tucker.

The school building contains ten class rooms, an assembly hall, a teachers' room, offices for the master and the school physician, Dr. Archibald

DARING ROBBERS
Set Fire to New York Church

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Burglars slept complacently through the night in the German Presbyterian church in Brooklyn and, after looting the edifice early today, set it afire. The church was totally destroyed.

NOL PROSSED

CASES AGAINST GOV. HASKELL DISPOSED OF

CHICKASHA, Okla., Nov. 19.—All cases against Governor Haskell were not prosessed yesterday.

This action ends the legal fight against Haskell and others in connection with the Muskogee lot charges which had been waged in the federal courts for several years.

DEATHS

THOMPSON.—Mary Jane Bradley Thompson died at her home in Centralville last Tuesday.

Mrs. Thompson was born in Dracut, February 7, 1822. She was the last living of the children of the late Dr. Peleg Bradley of Dracut, one of the old-time residents of that town and also one of the old-time members and ornaments of his profession. There were nine children in the family, five daughters and four sons.

In 1840, Mary Jane was married to Charles W. Thompson of Dayton, Ohio, and went there to live until the death of her husband in 1882, when she returned to Lowell, and had made her home with her sisters ever since.

Dr. Bradley lived in that part of Dracut which subsequently became a part of Lowell and is still known as Centralville. His son Henry, also a physician, married and lived and a number of years ago died in Chicago, but the daughters for more than two score years made their home at 62 Fourth street. Up to the time of her death, Miss Louise, the eldest, was the housekeeper, while Miss Miranda and Miss Harriet taught school. The former died several years before Miss

Gardner, a supply room, and several emergency rooms. The seating capacity is 480. At present seven of the ten rooms are occupied by grammar grades, and three by primary grades. The average attendance is about 400.

The school is fortunate in the amount of land surrounding the building. The yard is the largest of public school yards in Lowell and is large enough for a baseball diamond, and the home of the Greenhalge team in the Grammar school league are played in the school yard. The boys of the school also have room enough in the yard to play the old-fashioned style of football.

To give the best satisfaction in the way of sports the yard needs grading, but that doubtless will be done in time.

The front yard is separated by fences from the playground, and will be made as attractive as possible. The opportunity for ornamentation is unusual. The building has a pleasing exterior, and the lawn is broad and sloping. Thanks to the interest of the park commission, this lawn is being put into excellent shape. The grading is carefully done and the basis of a smooth and excellent surface has been laid. A hedge has been planted along the edges, and maple trees stand at intervals. The park commission has done a good piece of work for the beautification of the exterior of the school.

The school is too young of course, to have had a notable history. Its work is much like that of the other grammar schools. Perhaps it is worth mentioning that a branch of the Lowell Five Cents Savings bank is in operation in the school. About 175 deposits at present make up this provision for depositing weekly savings.

Frederick A. Wood, principal of the Greenhalge school, laid the foundation for his education in the Lowell schools. He is a graduate of Dartmouth college. He also took a post graduate course in Whittaker.—Mrs. Clara Whittaker, aged 43, died yesterday at the Massachusetts General hospital. She was the wife of J. J. Whittaker of the Mohair Cricket club. Deceased lived at 25 Cornhill street.

Opera House
JULIUS CABIN, Prop. and Manager
MONDAY, NOVEMBER 21
George Barr McCutcheon's
GRAUSTARK
(A Love Upland a Throne.)
Presented by a Cast of Excellence.
Prices, $1, 75c, 50c, 25c. Seats now
600 ORCHESTRA AND 50c
BALCONY SEATS

Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 22-23
DIRECT FROM BIG BOSTON RUN
THE MESSRS. SHUBERT Present Greatest Homepun Play of Decade

THE MOTHER IS THE HEART OF THE FAMILY

By ROBERT H. DAVIS
With JOHN WESTLEY and Strong Cast
Prices—Orchestra $1.50, $1.00, 75c.
Balcony, 75c, 50c.
Gallery, 25c.
400—Choice Seats at $1.00—400

BARGAIN MAT. WEDNESDAY
50c—Entire Orchestra—50c
25c—Entire Balcony—25c
Seats now selling. Telephone orders delivered free.

Days, Starting Thursday, Nov. 24
Matinee Daily
THE FINAL SETTLEMENT
Prices—15c, 25c, 35c and 50c.
Seats now

Week Nov. 21
Every Afternoon
Every Evening
A Thanksgiving Feast

ONE BIG SCREAM
THE ELLIS--NOWLAN TROUPE
12 PEOPLE IN THE SCREAMING FARCE
"Fun in a Fire House"

DOHERTY & POODLES FOR THE CHILDREN
JERGE and HAMILTON
PLENTY OF NONSENSE

FOUR GROHVINIS EUROPEAN NOVELTY ACT
PRINCESS MIROFF
AN ARTIST'S OFFERING

J. A. O'BRIEN & CO. IN "MY WIFE'S BUTLER" HATHASCOPE
LATEST NOTION PICTURES

DONALD and CARSON
Presenting The Inimitable Scotch Act,
"Alex McLean's Dream"

Don't Forget the Ladies' Bargain Matinees 10c
Pianos from Stenett's.
TICKETS ORDERED FOR THANKSGIVING DAY MUST BE CALLED FOR NOT LATER THAN MONDAY NIGHT

ORIENTAL RUGS
DILLEY
BOSTON 5 PARK ST.
NEW YORK 225 FIFTH AVE.
BOOK 30 ILLUSTRATIONS 50c

BRUNSWICK RIFLE RANGE
OVER THEATRE VOYONS
Prize Thanksgiving Turkey Shoot
Now On—A Penny a Shot

THIS COUPON IS WORTH $2 TO YOU
If you bring it to our store and present it when buying ONE OF OUR WATCHES of $10.00 or over, which are already marked down at this sale.

GEORGE H. WOOD

Notice to Dancers
Dancing Every Monday Evening
ASSOCIATE HALL
5c Check, 7 for 25c - Admission Free

The management has secured the services of one of Lowell's best orchestras, Kittredge's Orchestra. Our aim is to give our patrons the best.

MONDAY NIGHT SPECIALS
At 8 o'clock sharp there will be an Exhibition Prize Waltz. Two handsome prizes will be given to the winning couple. The winning couple to be determined by the applause. 8 o'clock sharp, early.

BEST HALL, BEST FLOOR, BEST MUSIC.

Millard Fillmore Wood
JEWELER
104 Merrimack Street. Opposite John Street

Announcement
Special Inducements to Early Buyers
Our annual display of Thanksgiving and Christmas goods is complete. All fresh and new. At lowest prices. Articles of large or small value reserved if you so desire. No trouble to show goods. Our window display will help you to decide. Sterling flat ware, every description, etc. Just received, Dainty Sterling Creamers and Sugars. Special values in Cut Glass Baking Dishes, Tea Sets. Everything in Plated Ware at best prices. Fine assortment of Umbrellas for gifts.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Continuous Performance
1 P. M. to 10.30 P. M.
SUNDAY NIGHT
SIX TOP-LINE ACTS
FIVE FEATURE FILMS
Grand Sacred Concert
Two Performances, 7 and 9 P. M.
ALL NEXT WEEK
Kenney and Hollis
Just out of College
3 Ross Sisters
Clever Comedians
Tom Bateman
The Sailor Boy
The Rosess
Vaudeville's Sweetest Singers
Beauvais, Maridor & Co.
Presenting
"THE WILDFLOWER"

MOVING PICTURES
Matinee Daily. All Seats 10c
Excepting Saturdays and Holidays
Evening Admission 10c
A Few Reserved Seats, Including Admission, 25c

THEATRE VOYONS
Ralph Johnstone in the Feats That Wrecked His Machine

ACADEMY OF MUSIC
TODAY AND TOMORROW
Gravatt & Pratt, Novelty Impersonating Offering. William Lister, the Italian Politician. Green & Lewis, in a screaming oddity, "Neatly Soldier". Three "Brassie Sisters, Europe's most daring and sensational wire artists, direct from the Winter Garden, Berlin.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

C. F. KEYES, Auctioneer
Office, Old Boston & Maine Depot. Storehouse and Commission Rooms, Green Street. Tel. 1485.

Saturday, November 26th, at 3 P. M.
A TWO-STORY HOUSE OF NINE ROOMS AND ABOUT 4820 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT 74 ELM STREET

On the premises, regardless of any condition of the weather, I shall offer for sale this two-story house of nine rooms. On the first floor there is parlor, sitting-room, dining-room, kitchen, chamber, pantry and toilet. On the second floor are four large, airy and well lighted chambers. The house is very conveniently laid out and the rooms are all good sized. There are front and back stairs, good cellar, gas lighting and heat of sewerage. The interior of the house is in good condition, having recently been papered and painted throughout. The lot, which has a good frontage on Elm street, contains about 4820 square feet of land and is all fenced in, giving a good yard. The location is one of the very best in this section of the city. This parcel is located about opposite the court house, within short walking distance of many industries, close to schools, churches and cars, and handy to the center of the city. Now this is a grand opportunity for a large family who are looking for a home, or it would be a good proposition for someone who wished to rent rooms as it is an excellent location for lodgings.

The present owner of this property purchased the same but a short time ago with intentions of residing there, but has since decided to remain in her present home, and rather than have the care of renting the property will offer it for absolute sale on the day and hour advertised.

Terms: $300 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off. A good liberal mortgage can remain at 5 per cent.

C. F. KEYES in charge.

NIGHT EDITION

40,000 PEOPLE

Gathered at New Haven to Watch Great Football GameMuch Speculation on the Result of the Contest—Both Sides Confident as Usual—Men in Good Trim for Battle

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 18.—The eyes of forty thousand intensely enthusiastic spectators, the minds of the American sporting world in general, and the college world in particular, were focused today on some 9000 square yards of chalked turf on Yale field, where Yale and Harvard struggled once more for the football championship of the country.

Seldom in the history of the game which these two colleges introduced into this country in the early seventies has interest been aroused to such a degree, and never have there been quite so many questions to be settled as in today's game.

Of course there was the all-important one of winning a contest toward which both teams have sent their energies and thought for more than two months. But fully as important to the minds of many was the question whether the latest modifications of the game are practical, and shall stand.

From the Yale side of the field came the query whether a team such as has been turned at New Haven this year preserves the complexion, softens the hands, best for all weather effects on the skin—so all people say that use Hood's Talcum. Try it 50c.

PHENOMENAL SUCCESS

DYSPEPTICS FOUND TO HAVE SINGULAR MERIT AS REMEDY FOR ALL DYSPEPTIC TROUBLES

A Product of the C. I. Hood Co., Leaders in Modern, Up-to-Date Pharmacy.

The makers of Dyspeptics have reason to believe that the success of these new digestive tablets is not only remarkable but phenomenal. They are receiving letters from people in all walks of life, which are highly commending the success of these tablets in cases of sour stomach, heartburn and nausea and in cases of sleeplessness caused by indigestion or slight disturbance of the stomach. Many keep Dyspeptics within reach at the bedside, as Mr. Hood himself does, having found that when sleep is elusive, one or two of these tablets are all that is needed although they contain no narcotic.

"I like Dyspeptics very much. They act like magic in case of heartburn with which I am very much troubled," Mrs. Chas. A. Holmes, Route 1, Box 95, Hopkinton, N. H.

"Dyspeptics have done wonders for me. I was troubled with dyspepsia for three years and could not get anything that would make me feel as well as I feel now. Dyspeptics are a quick and agreeable remedy, and came to me like a godsend, my stomach having been in such a bad condition that I could not eat anything without great distress. I recommend Dyspeptics to all I know as well as to all who read this letter, which I am willing to have published." Miss Sadie Finchbaugh, R. F. D., No. 1, Feltton, Pa.

"I have been suffering from indigestion for five years, and have spent lots of money trying to get well. I found that little red pill I began to take Dyspeptics. Since then my stomach has not been so puffed up with gas, nor so sour, and I have not spit so often as before. I am feeling well now." J. R. Brookery, Sparta, Ga.

Dyspeptics are elegantly put up in three sizes. Get a 10c, 50c, or $1 size today on your way home. Remember the name, Dyspeptics.

Boys' Long Military Overcoats $5.00

Merrimack CLOTHING COMPANY
Across from City Hall

ORDER of OWLS

Members of the Lowell Nest are "Hooting" long and loud. The Lowell Nest Charter Restored. All insurgent members reinstated by the Home Nest. The Order is now recognized in every state in the Union, and conforms to all Insurance Laws.

Big Meeting of the Lowell Nest at Elks' Hall, Middle Street, Thursday Evening, December 1st.

Eight hundred Owls are expected to be present and pay up their dues and receive the New Pass-words. Members will pass the word down along the line. All state laws lived up to. All bans removed. The field is now clear for the Order under charter from the home nest at South Bend, Ind.

HECTOR TURNBULL, Rec. Sec.
E. M. BOWERS, President.

snatching a hasty bite, headed for the game.

The last contest on Yale field, two years ago, Harvard won by a single field goal 4 to 0. This was the first Crimmon victory since 1901 at Cambridge. Harvard also won here in 1898 and at Springfield in 1890, but the other games have all gone to Yale.

The colleges did not play in 1895 and 1896, while in the 1907 and 1909 games neither scored.

The lineup in today's games was as follows:

Yale
Kilpatrick lc
Sully lt
Fuller rg
Morris c
Paul rt
McDevitt rg
Brooks re
Howe qb
Field lb
Daly rfb
Kistler fb

Harvard
Le Felton
McKay
Minnot
Perkins
Withington
Fisher
re lb qb Wigglesworth lb Corbett
rb T. Frothingham
fb Leslie

Officials: Referee—W. S. Langford, Trinity. Umpire—David L. Fultz, Brown. Field judge—J. B. Pendleton, Bowdoin. Head linesman—W. N. Morrice, Pennsylvania. Time—15-minute periods.

Harvard Men Entertained

Yale did the honors at lunch today with almost boundless hospitality. Nearly all the clubs were thrown open to the Crimmon spectators and special dining rooms afforded ample opportunity for a quiet repast before the game. Every student had guests and strangers with only the slightest evidence of a Crimmon party were made as welcome as those more gorgeously arrayed. All these facilities, as well as those for the rest and comfort of the older graduates and their families, were on a far more extensive scale than ever before.

Perhaps the most picturesque sight of the hours before the game was the advance on the city of the automobile contingent with flying colors. There was scarcely a car in New Haven today that did not flaunt a Blue or Crimmon banner, while many were decorated as if for a fête.

Fakers piled a lively trade along Chapel street with banners, miniature footballs, sleevebands and gilt bulldozers. While violets and red chrysanthemums soared up to the top prices.

The Red and Blue tide turned fieldward at noon but the gates to the stadium were kept closed until 12:30 o'clock.

Betting was lively during the morning. Yale men being willing to cover the odds of 2 to 1. Other wagering was on the result of the score and Harvard men took even bets that Yale would not score. Harvard men later forced up the figure to 8 to 5 that Yale would not score.

Harvard was the first to dash on the field at 1:37 and immediately the Crimmon stands burst into cheers and waving of flags. After a cheer for the team and its captain there was an exchange of compliments. Harvard cheering their opponents and then Yale cheered Harvard.

The players felt a stiff breeze blowing from the north, giving the team on that side of the field considerable advantage. This was somewhat counteracted by the players on the other side of the field having the sun in their eyes. Yale came on the field at 1:50 and was greeted by tremendous bursts from the Blue side of the stand. The two captains then met in the center of the field to call the turn of the coin.

Harvard Won Toss

Harvard won the toss and took the north goal and the wind, giving Yale the kickoff.

Howe kicked off to Corbett on Harvard's five yard line and the halfback dashed it back fifteen yards before he was down. After Frothingham had made five yards through center, Pelton kicked to Yale's 50 yard line. Then came a Yale fumble but the Blue kept the ball. Yale tried Harvard's center for no gain and then Howe kicked to Corbett, who ran it back 35 yards to the center of the field before he was thrown. Leslie tore Yale's center for 15 yards and then Pelton kicked over the baseline. Yale lost five yards on the first down after the ball had been brought out and kicked to the center of the field. Corbett made 12 yards outside of tackle, and Leslie followed by planting the ball on Yale's 42 yard line. Wigglesworth made an inside kick which rolled outside on Yale's seven yard line. Yale kicked on the first down and Wigglesworth furnished it on Yale's 45 yard line, the ball going to Yale. Fields made four yards through center and then Yale tried a wing shift which Harvard stopped at a gain of one yard. Howe immediately kicked out of bounds on Harvard's 40 yard line, the ball being partially blocked. Frothingham made five yards inside of tackle, then Pelton kicked to Yale's 20 yard line, where there was another Yale fumble but the Blue kept the ball after a hard scramble. Fields was slightly hurt, but resumed play.

Yale tried another wing shift but there came a penalty which sent Blue back 15 yards for use of hands. Howe kicked from behind his own goal line to the 50 yard line and Wigglesworth fumbled, but managed to fall on the ball.

Harvard Loses

On the first down Harvard was sent back 15 yards for holding. Pelton kicked to Howe on the 30 yard line and the quarterback ran it back seven yards. There came a tackleback play for Yale which gained only a yard. Then Howe kicked to Frothingham on Harvard's 38 yard line. Leslie failed to gain and Wigglesworth furnished off-side play. Harvard lost 5 yards for Yale's 20 yard line. The halfback ran it back 15 yards in a marvelous dodging. Fields made five yards and then came a kick to Wigglesworth on Harvard's 38 yard line. Wigglesworth made several yards on a through center and put the ball on Harvard's 54 yard line. Corbett made a yard and then Pelton kicked over the base line. The ball was brought out to the 25 yard line and Yale, by one of her wing shifts, gained 8 yards on a fine dash by Fields.

Howe, by a quarterback run, made a first down on the 25 yard line. Howe then kicked to Corbett on Harvard's 38 yard line. Frothingham made three yards through center. The period ended with the ball in Harvard's possession on her 45 yard line.

In the first period Harvard reached Yale's 47 yard line but Yale was nearer than 50 yards from the Crimmon goal. The teams changed sides for the second period, Yale having the benefit of the breeze.

Wendell's Great Gains

It was Harvard's ball on her 47 yard line and Pelton immediately kicked to Howe on the 25 yard line, the ball being run back 7 yards. Howe kicked to Wigglesworth on Harvard's 45 yard line. Corbett made a fine dash through center but dropped the ball and it was Yale's ball in the center of the field. Then came a Yale penalty of 15 yards for holding. Fields dashed around for Harvard's right yard and 25 yards and planted the ball on Harvard's 45 yard line for a first down. Daly could not gain but dropped the ball and it was Harvard's ball on the 46 yard line. Wendell took Frothingham's place.

Wendell plunged through the Yale team for 8 yards. Wendell was given the ball again and made it a first down on Yale's 33 yard line. Corbett more Wendell was given the ball for a five yard gain. For a fifth time Wendell made the run, this time for a first down on Yale's 33 yard line. Corbett made five yards outside of tackle and Wendell made 10 yards but the ball was brought back to the 45 yard line on a Harvard holding penalty.

Wendell's Great Playing

Wendell made 3 yards. Then Wigglesworth made an inside kick to Yale's 14 yard line, where Howe was thrown without gain. How Harvard's 45 yard line. Wigglesworth on Harvard's 38 yard line. Corbett, on a fake kick, made two yards around left end. A forward pass to the center of the field failed and the ball went to Yale. Howe punted to Corbett on Harvard's 20 yard line. A Harvard man was nailed without gain. Corbett made a yard through center. Then Wendell, on a fake kick, plunged through to the 30 yard line for a first down.

See Next Edition.

MANY SPECIAL TRAINS

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Every outgoing train to New Haven this morning was jammed with the largest crowd of football enthusiasts believed ever to have left this city for a Yale-Harvard game. Special after special was backed into the Grand Central station and sent off loaded to capacity while the regular express trains, with added coaches, had all they could carry. Two whole trains had been chartered by the Harvard club and several special cars were filled with Yale club enthusiasts. The scene around the station was a most animated one, giving high color by the profuse display of bright college flags and banners and the liberal array of stunning fall finery worn by the thousands of fair society enthusiasts on their way to the big football function of the year.

CROWDS LEAVE BOSTON

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Burdened under a weight of furs, ulsters and sweaters, a great throng filled the trainshed of the South terminal station, ready to board a dozen or more specials that carried them to New Haven as spectators of the annual football clash of the Harvard-Yale game. Railroad officials declared that today's crowd was the largest that had ever called on them for transportation.

From early morning till almost mid-forenoon the football crowds poured into the station. Some came individually, while others came with their clubs and fraternities, which had chartered special coaches and, in some instances, entire special trains.

Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston, accompanied by a party of friends, arrived at the station at 8 o'clock and a few minutes later left on a special train.

Harvard's attention from football enthusiasts in the east today while participants of the two big institutions all over the land will watch the record of play with absorbing interest. The season reaches a climax with today's big game.

SEASON'S CLIMAX

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Harvard vs. Yale at New Haven claims almost a monopoly of attention from football enthusiasts in the east today while participants of the two big institutions all over the land will watch the record of play with absorbing interest. The season reaches a climax with today's big game.

The remainder of today's program was somewhat short in comparison with that of recent Saturdays, indicating the waning season. The Trinity, Army and Navy-New York university games will attract attention as giving lines on the development of the two rivals, the Army and the Navy, for honors at Philadelphia next week.

Johns Hopkins vs. Carlisle at Baltimore is another game on the day's schedule.

FOOTBALL INJURIES FATAL

TEKAMAH, Neb., Nov. 18.—Carl Nelson, aged 17 years, of this place, died last night of injuries caused by playing football. He was a member of the high school team.

The Thompson Hardware Co. are offering their all steel corn poppers for 25c.

THE LOWELL OWLS

THE LOCAL NEST NOW RESUMES OPERATIONS

To say that the business meeting of the Lowell Nest of Owls Thursday evening was enthusiastic is putting it mildly. It was an old fashioned "Owl" love feast. The "Hoo-Hoo's" of the birds were long and loud.

The cause of all this rejoicing was that the Order of Owls was recognized by every state in the Union as one of the great fraternal and beneficiary orders of the English speaking world.

Nests have been instituted in nearly every state and territory in the United States.

During the last eight months nests have been instituted in nearly every town and hamlet in the states of Maine and New Hampshire.

The order's progress in this state has been rather slow on account of our rigid insurance laws but now that the laws have been practically removed new nests will be formed. Established nests will now open their doors, and invite new members to come in. Intending members are requested to find out for themselves.

The Order of Owls, whose home nest is at South Bend, Ind., John W. Talbot, president, is doing business in every English speaking country, and all others using the word "Owl" have been enjoined and either have been reinstated in the home nest or have gone out of business.

The Lowell nest which was installed Dec. 19, last, with Edward M. Bowers as president is now reinstated and is under the protecting wing of the home nest at South Bend.

A conference consisting of Pres. Bowers, Dr. M. A. Tighe, John A. Bailey and Hector Turnbull representing the Lowell nest of Owls was held last night at the home nest, at the office of Dr. M. A. Tighe early Thursday evening last, when all matters pertaining to the Lowell nest were straightened out to the satisfaction of all.

An enthusiastic meeting of the local nest followed, and rising voices of thanks were tendered the conference committee. Much routine business was done at this meeting.

President Bowers and Dr. M. A. Tighe spoke at some length on the death of Brother Frank Maguire, a popular member of the nest who passed away Monday last, after a brief illness.

It was unanimously voted that the treasurer send a check for $100.00 to the sorrowing widow of the deceased member. The charter was ordered draped, a memorial prayer set apart, and a committee on resolutions appointed.

The anniversary committee reported

REMEMBER

F. H. Rourke

WHEN ORDERING

COAL

Liberty Square Tel. 1177-1
50 BOSTON & LEXINGTON STS.
Reward for return to Boston & Northern St. R. H. office.

GAS FIXTURES, LAMPS, DOMES

Welch Bros.

01-103 Aldie Street

HE DROPPED DEAD

Fred B. Reed Postal Clerk, Fell
on Central Street

Frederick B. Reed, a mailing clerk at the local post office dropped dead at the corner of Central and Elm streets about 11:45 o'clock this morning. Death is supposed to have been due to heart failure.

Reed was about 35 years of age, and was one of the most popular employees at the post office. He was on his way home, 9 Elm street, when he was taken with the attack and dropped to the street. The ambulance was called but upon arriving the driver found that there is no necessity for his services. The body was taken to his home in Elm street.

SCHOONER IS MISSING

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Thirty-nine days out of New York, the stout four-masted schooner, John Twohey, bound for San Juan, P. R., is still unreported and grave fears are felt today for Captain Willard, his crew of nine men, and Frederick Dean, a dramatic and musical critic, who sailed as a guest of Captain Willard for a sea trip.

The Twohey was laden with a general cargo and put out of New York on October 11. Last month a West Indian hurricane ravaged the seas of the gulf of Mexico and the storm may have swept the path of the vessel. Her agents, J. C. Gregory & Co., are apprehensive over the safety of the schooner but still hope to hear some word of her. The Twohey was built in 1891 at Newburyport and the schooner's home port is Boston.

FOUR MEN KILLED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Four men were killed today by the premature explosion of a five-inch fifty-one calibre gun at the Indianhead proving grounds of the navy. The breech block of the gun, which was being tested, blew backward into the crew which was firing the gun. Lieut. Arthur Caffee, who was in charge of the gun, was one of the men killed.

BARKENTINE IN DISTRESS

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 19.—The American barkentine Archer is in distress off Tatoosh island at the entrance to the strait of San Juan de Fuca. A tug has gone to her assistance. The Archer is an iron vessel of 900 tons and is bound from San Francisco for Roche harbor.

that the anniversary of the nest would be held in Associate hall on Dec. 20th. A delightful program is prepared. It will be a "Ladies' Night" and every member is to be invited.

There will be a roving meeting of the nest at Elks' hall, Thursday evening, Dec. 1st. All members are expected to attend. See advertisement elsewhere.

FINE RESIDENCE

WILL BE BUILT BY CHARLES SHEPARD

A garage as a part of a splendidly appointed dwelling is not very common in Lowell, though it is understood that the arrangement is more or less common in other cities.

Mr. Charles S. Shepard of the Middlesex Machine company will build a $7000 residence in Hanks street, near Rogers street, and on the first floor and directly beneath the billiard room there will be a garage equipped with automatic sprinklers.

The house will be 52 by 39 feet, two and one-half stories, 12 rooms, pantry, three bath rooms, sun room and garage. The plans were prepared by Willard F. Davis and James Whittey is the builder.

PRES. TAFT COMING HOME

On board the U. S. S. Montana, Nov. 19, by wireless to the U. S. S. Tennessee and to Key West, Florida.—The cruiser Tennessee, upon which President Taft is returning from his visit to the Panama canal zone, and the cruiser Montana sailed abreast Friday, five miles apart, while the crews, who are training for the delayed battle practice, sighted their guns at each other. Column formation was resumed at night.

The weather is pleasant and the seas are moderate, though a strong northeast trade wind is blowing. The vessels are headed for Guantanamo, where they are due at noon today.

COUNSELLOR HOYT ILL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Henry M. Hoyt, counsellor of the senate department, who has been seriously ill for several days, showed no improvement in his condition today.

ATTACK NOT MADE

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 19.—The anticipated attack on Marathon an armed body of Mexican invaders had not materialized at a late hour last night. The scouts sent out Thursday night to locate the supposed hostiles had returned during the day but were unable to confirm the report of an invasion. A report was current last night that a store had been looted and burned at Terlingua, an isolated town near the Rio Grande, south of Alphon, Texas, but no confirmation can be secured. It is believed that a marching band of Mexicans is operating along the Rio Grande, preying on ranchers on both sides.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

TRANS-ATLANTIC COMMERCE

PLYMOUTH, Nov. 13.—The possibility of developing this historic harbor as a port for trans-Atlantic commerce has so appealed to Colonel Frederick V. Abbott, the army engineer officer stationed in Boston, that he will recommend an appropriation by congress to carry out some projected harbor improvements. Colonel Abbott has notified Captain Dolan, harbor engineer of this town, that the harbor improvement plans have been submitted to the war department, which looks so favorably on the matter that a survey has been ordered. The survey is expected to include about one square mile, bounded by Goose Point channel on the north, Broad channel on the south, and reach from the harbor front of the town across the water to Long Beach. The survey may also include an anchorage basin for small craft inside of Beach Point.

CHINA

DIRECT IMPORTERS OF THE FINEST PORCELAINS IN EUROPE

We are now showing the latest designs from the factories of Caugh, Minton, Aulds, Wedgwood, Crown Derby, Royal Worcester, Coalport, Crown Staffordshire, Royal Doulton and Sevres.

Breakfast Sets of English China

China.....$10 to $50

Dinner Plates, per dozen

$7 to $250

Tea Cups.....$1 to $25

Bread and Butter Plates, per dozen

.....$8.50 to $60

Dresden China Plates, Baskets, Compotes, Centerpieces, etc.

Goods sent on approval. Photographs and prices on request.

BIGELOW KENNARD & CO.

321 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

Mechanics Savings Bank

QUARTER DAY

Saturday, Dec. 3

About 70 Men at Present Hard at Work on the Job—Proposition to Put Great Tungsten Light on Top of High Concrete Column

ENTITLES THE HOLDER TO ONE OF OUR $1.50 FOUNTAIN PENS, SOLID GOLD PENS AND GUARANTEED. BE SURE TO GET ONE.
Geo. H. Wood Either Store, 137-151 Central Street,
64 Merrimack Street.

JOHN HARMANS IN THE ANIMAL STRUGGLE WITH THE MAN WHO DIED

This Coupon and $12
Buys a $15.00 Diamond Ring at GEO. H. WOOD'S. This is an actual saving of $3.00. You must have the coupon.

VICTIM OF MURDER

Was Placed in Trunk While He Was Still Alive

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—An autopsy at the morgue yesterday settled positively that a body found crushed and bent and thrust into a hermetically sealed coffin, enclosed in an ordinary cheap trunk, in the cellar of the double apartment house at 450 West Fifty-fourth street was that of a man, and disclosed the probability that the victim of the mysterious murder had been put into the trunk while still alive.

Professor John A. McAllister, of Bellevue Medical college, performed the autopsy, and said afterward that they were fairly certain that the man had met death from asphyxiation, there being no marks of violence on the body which it was possible to discover.

The murder victim probably was unconscious when he was put in the trunk, according to the physicians, whose examination of the body necessarily was greatly restricted, because of the decomposed condition in which it was found.

The man's lungs were the only vital organs sufficiently preserved to permit of microscopic examination, which disclosed the probable cause of death.

So far as could be judged, the man was of German extraction; his hair was red and his moustache sandy.

Nothing was found inside the "death trunk" by which the identification of the victim could be made. Only several newspapers bearing dates in April, 1902, were found packed around the body.

Some of the papers contained articles about the Albert T. Patrick trial for the murder of William M. Rice, the millionaire. Others had accounts of the McAuliffe case, in which the victim was supposed to have been beaten to death by police.

The physicians found that one tooth of the victim had been broken and another had been filed with gold.

The faintest and only possible clue discovered by the closest scrutiny of the trunk and its contents, except, perhaps, what may be learned from the name "W. Lewis" in black letters on one side of the trunk, is disclosed by the findings of a flannel night shirt which enclosed the body.

On the inside of the collar of this shirt, faintly discernible, appeared letters which look like "R. H. M." These letters will be subjected to microscopic examination before the detectives will be entirely satisfied of their correctness.

No chemicals of any kind were found in the trunk.

Philip Meagher, who lives in the house where the body was found, and had stored the trunk in the cellar more than seven years ago at the request of a boarder, gives the latter's name to the police as William Lewis.

Although Lewis made his home with the Meaghers nearly two years ago, Meagher says his boarder was not communicative and therefore the family learned little about him, except that he said on one occasion that he was employed as a waiter.

The Meaghers held a conference at the district attorney's office with Assistant District Attorney Rubin who is in charge of the case.

Meagher told Mr. Rubin that he and Lewis were from the same town in Ireland, Roscora, Tipperary county. He said he left there and came to this country in 1899 and that Lewis followed him two years later.

At that time, Meagher said, he lived at No. 536 West Forty-seventh street, where he had a room. He said he saw Lewis there frequently during the six or seven years he lived in the house. At that time, Meagher said, Lewis worked as a waiter.

Meagher said he moved to the Fifty-fourth street address, where the murder was discovered, and that about six years ago Lewis asked him to take care of a trunk which, he said, belonged to an artist friend of his and contained plaster casts.

About six months later, Meagher said, Lewis moved from the house. He said that Lewis, he understood, worked in a restaurant at the time, and when he left the house he went to live in One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street, near Eighth avenue.

Meagher said, he thought was in Cortlandt street. Later, Meagher said, he understood Lewis worked as a waiter in a Thirty-third street cafe, and the last he saw of him was in 1905, when Lewis told him he was going to work in a hotel at Manhattan Beach for the summer.

Meagher, tired of caring for the trunk, and wishing to determine whether it contained anything of value that would make it necessary to keep it any longer, decided to break it open.

On opening it he found it filled with plaster of paris. He was mystified and notified the police. Lieutenant Charles H. McKinney and Policeman Murphy, of the Fourth Branch detective bureau appeared. The police battered the plaster of paris to pieces with an ax. Under the plaster they found a zinc lid.

The covering of the lid was removed and a skeleton was found incased. The bones and skull were in such a position that it was evident great force had been used in forcing the victim within the limited space of the box.

Meagher, tired of caring for the trunk, and wishing to determine whether it contained anything of value that would make it necessary to keep it any longer, decided to break it open.

On opening it he found it filled with plaster of paris. He was mystified and notified the police. Lieutenant Charles H. McKinney and Policeman Murphy, of the Fourth Branch detective bureau appeared. The police battered the plaster of paris to pieces with an ax. Under the plaster they found a zinc lid.

The covering of the lid was removed and a skeleton was found incased. The bones and skull were in such a position that it was evident great force had been used in forcing the victim within the limited space of the box.

Meagher, tired of caring for the trunk, and wishing to determine whether it contained anything of value that would make it necessary to keep it any longer, decided to break it open.

On opening it he found it filled with plaster of paris. He was mystified and notified the police. Lieutenant Charles H. McKinney and Policeman Murphy, of the Fourth Branch detective bureau appeared. The police battered the plaster of paris to pieces with an ax. Under the plaster they found a zinc lid.

The covering of the lid was removed and a skeleton was found incased. The bones and skull were in such a position that it was evident great force had been used in forcing the victim within the limited space of the box.

Meagher, tired of caring for the trunk, and wishing to determine whether it contained anything of value that would make it necessary to keep it any longer, decided to break it open.

On opening it he found it filled with plaster of paris. He was mystified and notified the police. Lieutenant Charles H. McKinney and Policeman Murphy, of the Fourth Branch detective bureau appeared. The police battered the plaster of paris to pieces with an ax. Under the plaster they found a zinc lid.

The covering of the lid was removed and a skeleton was found incased. The bones and skull were in such a position that it was evident great force had been used in forcing the victim within the limited space of the box.

Meagher, tired of caring for the trunk, and wishing to determine whether it contained anything of value that would make it necessary to keep it any longer, decided to break it open.

On opening it he found it filled with plaster of paris. He was mystified and notified the police. Lieutenant Charles H. McKinney and Policeman Murphy, of the Fourth Branch detective bureau appeared. The police battered the plaster of paris to pieces with an ax. Under the plaster they found a zinc lid.

The covering of the lid was removed and a skeleton was found incased. The bones and skull were in such a position that it was evident great force had been used in forcing the victim within the limited space of the box.

Meagher, tired of caring for the trunk, and wishing to determine whether it contained anything of value that would make it necessary to keep it any longer, decided to break it open.

On opening it he found it filled with plaster of paris. He was mystified and notified the police. Lieutenant Charles H. McKinney and Policeman Murphy, of the Fourth Branch detective bureau appeared. The police battered the plaster of paris to pieces with an ax. Under the plaster they found a zinc lid.

The covering of the lid was removed and a skeleton was found incased. The bones and skull were in such a position that it was evident great force had been used in forcing the victim within the limited space of the box.

Meagher, tired of caring for the trunk, and wishing to determine whether it contained anything of value that would make it necessary to keep it any longer, decided to break it open.

On opening it he found it filled with plaster of paris. He was mystified and notified the police. Lieutenant Charles H. McKinney and Policeman Murphy, of the Fourth Branch detective bureau appeared. The police battered the plaster of paris to pieces with an ax. Under the plaster they found a zinc lid.

The covering of the lid was removed and a skeleton was found incased. The bones and skull were in such a position that it was evident great force had been used in forcing the victim within the limited space of the box.

Meagher, tired of caring for the trunk, and wishing to determine whether it contained anything of value that would make it necessary to keep it any longer, decided to break it open.

On opening it he found it filled with plaster of paris. He was mystified and notified the police. Lieutenant Charles H. McKinney and Policeman Murphy, of the Fourth Branch detective bureau appeared. The police battered the plaster of paris to pieces with an ax. Under the plaster they found a zinc lid.

The covering of the lid was removed and a skeleton was found incased. The bones and skull were in such a position that it was evident great force had been used in forcing the victim within the limited space of the box.

Meagher, tired of caring for the trunk, and wishing to determine whether it contained anything of value that would make it necessary to keep it any longer, decided to break it open.

On opening it he found it filled with plaster of paris. He was mystified and notified the police. Lieutenant Charles H. McKinney and Policeman Murphy, of the Fourth Branch detective bureau appeared. The police battered the plaster of paris to pieces with an ax. Under the plaster they found a zinc lid.

The covering of the lid was removed and a skeleton was found incased. The bones and skull were in such a position that it was evident great force had been used in forcing the victim within the limited space of the box.

Meagher, tired of caring for the trunk, and wishing to determine whether it contained anything of value that would make it necessary to keep it any longer, decided to break it open.

On opening it he found it filled with plaster of paris. He was mystified and notified the police. Lieutenant Charles H. McKinney and Policeman Murphy, of the Fourth Branch detective bureau appeared. The police battered the plaster of paris to pieces with an ax. Under the plaster they found a zinc lid.

The covering of the lid was removed and a skeleton was found incased. The bones and skull were in such a position that it was evident great force had been used in forcing the victim within the limited space of the box.

Meagher, tired of caring for the trunk, and wishing to determine whether it contained anything of value that would make it necessary to keep it any longer, decided to break it open.

On opening it he found it filled with plaster of paris. He was mystified and notified the police. Lieutenant Charles H. McKinney and Policeman Murphy, of the Fourth Branch detective bureau appeared. The police battered the plaster of paris to pieces with an ax. Under the plaster they found a zinc lid.

The covering of the lid was removed and a skeleton was found incased. The bones and skull were in such a position that it was evident great force had been used in forcing the victim within the limited space of the box.

Meagher, tired of caring for the trunk, and wishing to determine whether it contained anything of value that would make it necessary to keep it any longer, decided to break it open.

On opening it he found it filled with plaster of paris. He was mystified and notified the police. Lieutenant Charles H. McKinney and Policeman Murphy, of the Fourth Branch detective bureau appeared. The police battered the plaster of paris to pieces with an ax. Under the plaster they found a zinc lid.

The covering of the lid was removed and a skeleton was found incased. The bones and skull were in such a position that it was evident great force had been used in forcing the victim within the limited space of the box.

Meagher, tired of caring for the trunk, and wishing to determine whether it contained anything of value that would make it necessary to keep it any longer, decided to break it open.

On opening it he found it filled with plaster of paris. He was mystified and notified the police. Lieutenant Charles H. McKinney and Policeman Murphy, of the Fourth Branch detective bureau appeared. The police battered the plaster of paris to pieces with an ax. Under the plaster they found a zinc lid.

The covering of the lid was removed and a skeleton was found incased. The bones and skull were in such a position that it was evident great force had been used in forcing the victim within the limited space of the box.

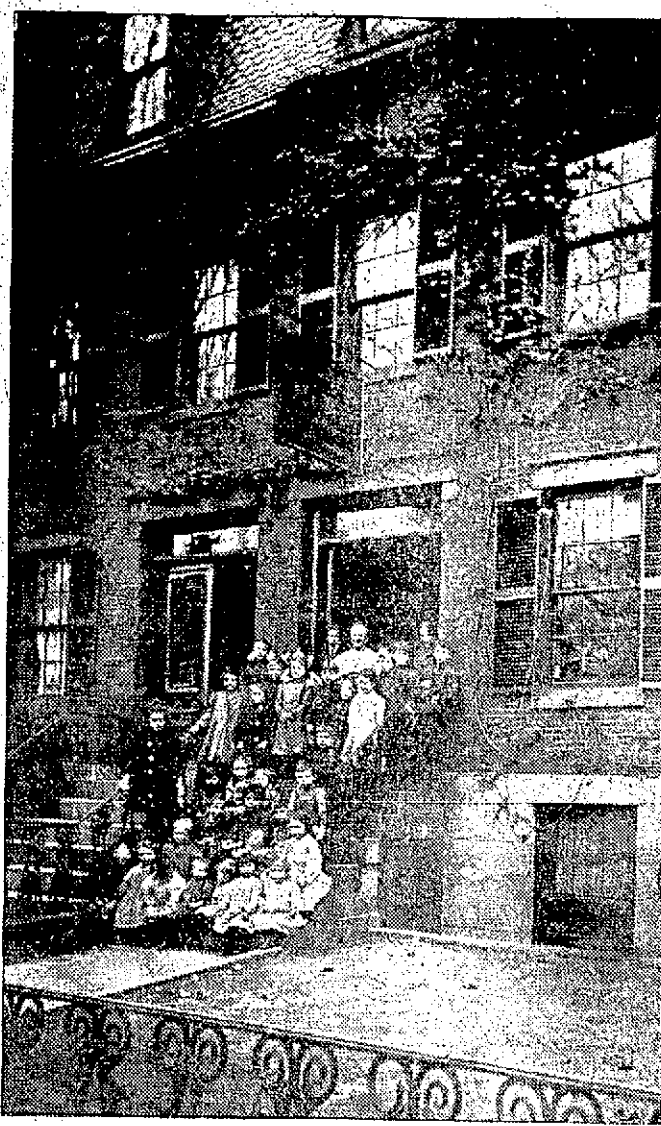

Meagher, tired of caring for the trunk, and wishing to determine whether it contained anything of value that would make it necessary to keep it any longer, decided to break it open.

On opening it he found it filled with plaster of paris. He was mystified and notified the police. Lieutenant Charles H. McKinney and Policeman Murphy, of the Fourth Branch detective bureau appeared. The police battered the plaster of paris to pieces with an ax. Under the plaster they found a zinc lid.

The covering of the lid was removed and a skeleton was found incased. The bones and skull were in such a position that it was evident great force had been used in forcing the victim within the limited space of the box.

Meagher, tired of caring for the trunk, and wishing to determine whether it contained anything of value that would make it necessary to keep it any longer, decided to break it open.

On opening it he found it filled with plaster of paris. He was mystified and notified the police. Lieutenant Charles H. McKinney and Policeman Murphy, of the Fourth Branch detective bureau appeared. The police battered the plaster of paris to pieces with an ax. Under the plaster they found a zinc lid.

THE CHILDREN'S HOME ON KIRK STREET

SCARED BY BLAZE

Fire Broke Out in Chelsea's Danger Zone

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Chelsea had a fire scare last night that brought hundreds on the street, fearing another big conflagration, and for a time there was much excitement.

The alarm was from box 26, followed one minute later by a second alarm, bringing the entire fire department to the big lumber yard of Pope & Cottle on Carter street, in the danger district.

The fire was in a pile of lumber and caught fire from sparks from the engine of a pile driver at work near by which set fire to the lumber. The fire was quickly extinguished by the department, the loss being small.

Just an hour later the firemen were again called out for a fire in the three-story dwelling, 112 Winslow street, where a lively blaze was in progress in the store of Moses Coffey, dealer in dry goods.

This fire was extinguished after an hour's hard work by the fire department. The loss was $500 on the goods of Coffey and $300 on the building, which is owned by H. Spurling of Marlboro.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the undersigned, take this means of expressing our thanks to our friends for their kind words of consolation to us, in the bereavement of our husband and brother, and to the employees of the Lowell Machine Shop foundry for their floral offerings and the marks of kindness.

Mrs. John J. O'Rourke,
James O'Rourke,
Thomas O'Rourke.

One of the most interesting charitable institutions in Lowell, which is supported practically upon charity is the Children's home in Kirk street, of which Miss Ellen O'Leary is matron. There are at present 40 children at the home, ranging in age from 1 to 17 years of age. Most of them are objects of charity, while for some a small stipend is paid. Among the 40 children at the home there are 12 nationalities, showing the cosmopolitan nature of both the city and the home. Miss O'Leary accepts all children without making a previous investigation into the identity of their parents. The home will soon have to be enlarged and an offer of the buildings across the street from the home, formerly known as the Kirk Booth chambers, has been made to Miss O'Leary, the price named being $23,000. The necessary funds in sight, Miss O'Leary would purchase as a final deed.

A GRAND SUCCESS

Pound Party in Aid of St. Peter's Orphanage

The Ladies' Sewing guild of St. Peter's parish gave a pound party in aid of St. Peter's orphanage in the Shaw house, Chelmsford street, yesterday afternoon, and the affair was a grand success and netted a substantial sum for the orphanage.

The party was a pound party in name only, for the guests came with bundles of many pounds, while cash and checks amounting to many pounds and shillings poured in.

From 2 to 5 o'clock the house was crowded and all were received and shown through the house by the sister superior. Later the ladies of the guild served tea.

Mrs. Charles M. Williams had general charge of the affair. She was assisted by the ladies of the guild.

The ladies of the guild who assisted Mrs. Williams were: Mrs. William Barry, Mrs. E. B. Kerwin, Mrs. Edward Gallagher, Mrs. John M. Murphy, Mrs. William M. Murphy, Miss Donohoe, Miss Sarah Donohoe, Mrs. George A. Leahy, Mrs. Henry L. Rourke, Mrs. Emma Cook, Mrs. J. J. McCarthy, Mrs. Constantine O'Donnell, Mrs. P. P. Sullivan, Mrs. Robert E. Crowley, Miss Adelaide Crowley, Miss Pauline, Mrs. P. F. Conaton, Mrs. McMartin, Mrs. Daniel Crowley, Miss Alice Owens, Miss Esther Owens, Mrs. Hugh Walker, Mrs. E. P. McKee, Miss Annabelle Costello, Mrs. J. J. Hennessey, Mrs. Andrew Halpin, Mrs. John W. McKoy, Mrs. Annie P. Coffey, Mrs. P. W. Reilly, Mrs. George A. Green, Mrs. Margaret Morrison, Mrs. George M. Harrigan, Mrs. A. L. Paul and Mrs. P. F. Funnam.

Those not members of the guild who rendered valuable assistance were: Miss Susie Flynn, Miss Lizzie M. Allen, Mrs. P. Gilbride, Miss Gullfoyle and Miss Jennie Maguire. The children, dressed in blue and white during the afternoon.

Thanks of the Sisters
The children in their blue and white dresses sang at intervals during the afternoon for the entertainment of the visitors.

The Sisters and Sewing Guild take this opportunity to thank all who contributed to the success of the affair.

AWARDS MADE

FROM SACRED HEART BAZAAR TABLES

Further awards to winners of prizes at the recent Sacred Heart church bazaar were announced last night as follows:

Holy Rosary table: Water set, Mrs. Elmer J. Wheeler, R. P. D., Manchester road, Needham, N. H.; silver spoon, Robert Konstantin, 26 Aramont street; table linen, Louise Gaulin, 382 Lincoln street; sofa pillow, A. T. Hanley, 477 Mammoth road; hand made shawl, Marion Bailey, 20 Morton street; tablecloth, D. P. Lynch, 37 Aramont street; bedspread, Mary Halliday, 84 Maple street; handpainted bag, Mrs. Burton Blockman, 919 Lawrence street; suit of clothes, Marguerite Cook, 518 Cornhill street; small framed picture of the Sacred Heart, Josephine

the needs of the institution are imperative and she is a firm believer in the advantages of a home in the heart of the city. To illustrate why she so believes, she states that several concerns like the D. L. Page company, Putnam's restaurant, P. M. Bill and others offer her food and necessities of life if she will send for them as they haven't the time to give their conveyances to the delivery of the goods and with a home situated in the heart of the city she is enabled to send the larger children to these places for their offerings. That Kirk street has agreed with the children is evidenced by the fact that seldom is it necessary to send for a physician to attend any of the inmates. The entertainment which was arranged to be given at Colonial hall on November 22 for the children's home in Kirk street has been postponed till Nov. 30. A fine musical program will be provided.

$1.50 Underwear

TODAY $1.00

MERRIMACK CLOTHING CO.

Across from City Hall

ANY PART OF THE

Universal or Enterprise

Food Cutters

That becomes worn with use can be replaced at small cost

One of the Machines is a Necessity in Every Home.

Very Simple in Operation.

Bartlett & Dow

218 Central Street.

Allan Line Royal Mail Steamers

Only DIRECT Service between BOSTON AND NORTH OF IRELAND

Only Direct Service from Galway, Splendid accommodations and food, latest improvements for comfort and safety. Second Cabin, Glasgow, Derry or Galway, $12.50 upwards; third class, $2.50. 10 Glasgow, Derry, Belfast and Liverpool. Prepaid baggage rate, 192.76. Butte room reserved for married couples. Children 1-12 years, half fare. H. & A. ALLAN, 110 State st., Boston.

DENIS MURPHY, 18 Appleton St.

FREDERIC B. LEEDS, 5 Bridge St.

HELD IN $10,000 SON CONFESSED

Two Arrests in Customs To the Murder of His Fraud Case Father

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Isaac and Manning Phillips, members of the firm of I. and M. Phillips, Importers, in business at No. 18 West 18th street, were arrested late yesterday, charged with having defrauded the government out of duty on woolen wearing apparel imported from France by means of false consular invoices. As the government claims to be in possession of evidence concerning a number of alleged fraudulent importations by the firm, the prisoners were held for examination in $10,000 bail each. A surety company furnished bonds and they were released.

Assistant United States District Attorney C. C. Whitney, who has charge of the prosecution, says the Phillips firm has been acting as an importer since 1907, and that the total of the duties out of which the government has been defrauded will reach $50,000. The case follows quickly on the proceedings against Joseph Brooke & Co., English woolen goods importers, whose branches in this country have been seized. No arrests were made in the Brooke case, as the members of the firm reside abroad, but the government has attached the stock and brought suit to recover $200,000.

MUNCIE, Ind., Nov. 19.—"I thought he was dead. I loaded the body into the buggy and started for the old well. I had the body propped upon the seat. On the way father revived a little and threw his arms around my neck. Then I beat him over the head again until he was quiet. Just as I was about to throw the body into the well, he groaned and gave a long sigh."

Climax of Recital

This, according to the police, is part of the signed confession of Benjamin Smith, 22 years old, a farmer now in the Muncie jail. It was the climax of a remarkable recital of murder.

Thursday night, Smith, his hands smeared with blood, staggered into the home of Oscar Shaw and told a story of having been attacked by highway-men.

Smith's father was mysteriously missing, and suspicions were aroused which led to his arrest. Under examination, he finally said he would show the police where his father's body could be found.

He led the way to an abandoned well and pointing said: "There he is."

From the old well, the police took the body of Charles Smith, the father.

FR. JOACHIM

IS RENEWING OLD ACQUAINTANCES IN LOWELL

Rev. Joachim Georges, one of the first Greek priests in this city, is visiting friends in this city after an absence from the city of five years.

It was during his pastorate here that the land where now stands the Greek Orthodox church was purchased by the Greek community. Fr. Joachim did not remain here to see work start on the church, and the present visit here is the first opportunity he has had to see the new church.

Fr. Joachim left this city and went to Athens and from there to Jerusalem. Later he went to Australia and since returning to America he has had charge of the Greek Orthodox church in Charleston, S. C.

FOUGHT OVER A GIRL

MOUNT KISCO, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Two men were killed in a roadhouse near here last night in a battle over a girl. One is an unidentified Italian and the other James McCann, a relative of the proprietor of the roadhouse. Beyond the fact of the battle, the police have as yet few facts.

INDIANS DIE OF SMALLPOX

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 19.—Nineteen-three Indians on the Arapahoe Indian reservation have died from smallpox within four days. The disease has manifested itself in its most malignant form. Officers in charge of the reservation are fighting vainly to stay the pestilence.

TRUE'S ELIXIR

Established 1851. Best remedy in the world for constipation, biliousness, headache, loss of appetite, heartburn, dizziness, indigestion, intestinal worms.

"Keep you and your children well."

25c, 50c, $1.00

DRAWING INSTRUMENTS

FOR TEXTILE AND DRAWING SCHOOL

W. T. S. Bartlett

Up-Town Hardware Store

653-659 MERRIMACK ST.

You Will Miss It

If you do not place your order for your weather strips for your doors before the cold weather comes on, Nov. 19 is the time and the place to go to. J. B. Goodwin, 11 Thorndike st., will find this the most sensible investment for a small sum of money that you ever made. More than 5000 homes and stores in the city and suburbs have these coal bill savers attached to the doors, and they never wear out. You save money every time they are on. Call and see the greatest device of the century for keeping out cold air and dust.

J. B. GOODWIN

11 THORNDIKE STREET

WE CARRY A COMPLETE LINE OF

Household Furnishings

AT LOWEST PRICES, AND ARE SOLE AGENTS IN LOWELL FOR THE CELEBRATED

Crescent Range

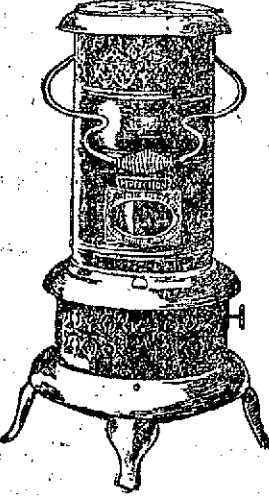

PETER DAVEY, 184 Market Street

Telephone Connection 79-2

Furniture Dealer Undertaker

Funeral Director

For Business Use

There are a great many places and occasions when the possibility of getting extra heat immediately effects an economy by decreasing the discomfort of the worker. In the office, in the early morning or late at night, before or after the steamheat is on, it is of importance to have extra heat. In the builder's outside office, in the shipping room, in the checker's shack, on exposed lofts, in railroad stations, in studios, the

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

is often a necessity. It is safe, smokeless and odorless. Apply a match, and it gives heat quickly. With four quarts of oil it burns nine hours. Has automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be cleaned in an instant.

It has a cool handle and a damper top. An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for rowlicking.

The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in japan or nickel. It is strong, durable, well made, built for service, yet light and ornamental.

Dealers everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the

Standard Oil Company

(Incorporated)

Combination Coal and Gas Crawford Ranges

The Crawford Gas Ovens are safe. They are lighted in a new way; there is no dangerous pilot light and explosions are impossible. This improvement is patented and very important.

The Damper is automatically opened by opening oven door to light the burners, which cannot be lighted until the door is opened.

JURORS RELEASED

Appeal to be Made to the Supreme Court

SALEM, Nov. 19.—As a result of the action of Chief Justice Alken, the superior court yesterday in allowing a jury, empaneled to try the case of Hrisos Tsapas of Haverhill, who is charged with the murder of Constantino Timuschosides, to separate and go to their homes, the supreme court decided whether or not it is in accordance with the constitution of the commonwealth for jurors in capital cases to be so released.

To Highest Court

Chief Justice Alken's announcement that he would release the jurors brought Attorney J. P. S. Mahoney of Lawrence, who is caring for the interests of Tsapas, to his feet with a start and he immediately saved an exception and announced his intention of having the question decided by the supreme court. This is said to be the first case in Massachusetts where the jurors in a murder trial have been so released.

The entire time of the court session yesterday was occupied in the empanelling of the jury, of which Charles Y. Parrott of Gloucester is foreman. After the jury was full, Justice Alken told the men that they might go home but to report at the courthouse at 9 this morning, when a special car was on hand to take them to the scene of the murder. On returning from Haverhill, the jury will again be released to report Monday morning, when the taking of evidence will be commenced.

Hrisos Tsapas and Constantino Timuschosides were roommates at Haverhill. On the night of Sept. 3, 1909, they left the house together, apparently the best of friends. Tsapas returned alone, and six days later his roommate's body was found in some bushes a considerable distance away with two bullet holes in it.

The police sought Tsapas to secure his aid in unravelling the mystery, but he was missing. Later he was arrested in Boston with a grip sack in his hand and a ticket to Europe in his pocket. Timuschosides was known to have been between $80 and $90 on his person a short time before his death and according to the authorities, a sum nearly equal to this was found on Tsapas when he was taken into custody.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—One hundred thousand dollars to vote against the anti-race track betting bills in 1908 was offered to State Senator Eugene M. Travis of Brooklyn, so he swore on the stand yesterday, testifying before the legislative graft committee. A mysterious man, whose name he does not recall, made the offer in the lobby of the senate, he said, on behalf of former Senator Frank J. Gardner. And Gardner, he added, confirmed it in a subsequent telephone conversation. Gardner is now under indictment, charged with having attempted to in-

SENATOR TRAVIS

Says That He Was Offered Bribe of $100,000

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Pennsylvania will end its football season here on Thanksgiving day, when the Red and Blue meet Cornell in their annual combat on the gridiron. Penn coaches have stated that they are not looking for an easy victory, but will probably have a hard battle. The Ithacans have excellent material, and, according to Mike Murphy, the famous trainer, "they have worked up from nothing to a powerful team." At the start of the season the Ithacans were very weak, but have braced up wonderfully within the last few weeks, as the recent 18 to 0 victory over Chicago shows. Penn has one of the strongest teams in the country. In Scott, Sommer, Ramsdell and Mercer the Red and Blue this year has one of the finest backfields since the days of Williams, Knipe, Osgood and Brooke, a quartet that has been claimed the fastest, strongest combination of the year. Scott, Sommer and Ramsdell were injured in the game with Michigan, and the two former men may not be able to play against Cornell. Ramsdell hurt his knee, but will be able to play. The latter is one of the greatest men that ever appeared on a football field. He has been injured more times this and last season than any other player. Ramsdell is the speediest man in football today. Besides being one of the greatest half-backs of the year, he is the best hundred yard sprinter in the country.

ANTI-DIAZ PARTY RESPONSIBLE FOR WAR

TALK BETWEEN MEXICO AND UNITED STATES

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 19.—You can walk down the principal streets of the capital of Mexico and hear natives between puffs of cigarettes discussing war and what would happen if the United States and Mexico should clash. The two countries are not going to clash; that is almost a sure thing. The uprising on the borders, the lynching and burning of Mexicans in Texas, is material for the anti-Diaz party, which seems to grow each day. That is the real secret of the talk, but the natives—that is, the majority—are yet to learn the secret. Diaz has long ruled Mexico with an iron hand—wisely, his friends say; like a tyrant, his enemies declare. For more than a year there has been a decided unrest in Mexico. It grows each hour, and the peaceful streets of Mexico may yet be the scene of many conflicts. It is predicted that the anti-Diaz party may attack border towns in an effort to bring serious trouble between the two countries and in the midst of the uprising onset the present government.

to find Messrs. Keene and Whitney have so far been without success, and M. Linn Bruce, chairman of the committee, is growing impatient. Both men have been mentioned in previous testimony as having been at a conference at Delmonico's at which the alleged corruption fund was raised, and the committee is anxious to examine them. Senator Carpenter, whom Travis mentioned, was a republican from Westchester. Senator Fuller was a Brooklyn democrat. Senator Gates came from Madison county.

During the afternoon session Conrad Hasenflug of Brooklyn, a former state senator, denied any activity in influencing others against the bill, although he voted against it. Similar denial was made by ex-Senator Alfred J. C. C. of Brooklyn. He said he voted against the bill because he believed it was unjust and unfair, and because there were many in his district who wanted to see the bill defeated. In answer to a broad question as to how many of his money paid anyone for voting against the bill, he said "No."

BOWLING GAMES
TWO GAMES IN THE ELECTRIC LIGHT LEAGUE.
There were two games played in the Electric Light league last night. In the game between the Electric and Construction teams the latter won all three points as well as the total. In the other game—the Office and Station teams playing—the Office team won by a wide margin as well as taking every point.

The Butler Vets and Lamsons had at it in the Minor league and the "pumpers" trimmed the "overhead" workers by a score of 1317 to 1275. The scores:

ELECTRIC LIGHT LEAGUE
Electric
Henderson	70	63	27
Griffin	80	58	29
Dresser	84	90	77
Wilson	71	75	35
Lovering	81	81	66
Totals	411	395	412

Construction
Smith	97	55	83
Anderson	53	75	94
Burke	86	106	89
Sorrent	77	85	73
Meguire	82	82	55
Totals	425	440	431

OFFICE TEAM WINS
Office
Geer	79	82	90
Hart	76	85	74
Stokney	87	87	77
Farley	87	97	87
Halsead	96	87	98
Totals	438	441	429

MINOR LEAGUE
Butler Vets
Snow	82	87	73
Lawn	84	88	94
Furlong	88	84	89
Cook	79	87	59
Grant	81	110	91
Totals	419	456	442

HENRY M. HOYT

Is Reported to be Seriously Ill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Henry M. Hoyt, counselor of the department of state, is lying seriously ill at his home in this city. While he was in Canada engaged in the reciprocity negotiations as a representative of the American government he was attacked with an intestinal trouble from which he had suffered in the past, and although he was able to make the return trip from Montreal to Washington, he was obliged to take to his bed as soon as he reached his home here.

BOXING GOSSIP
Matty Baldwin went to Highland lake yesterday to do a little training. His broken arm is sufficiently mended for light work, but it will be some weeks before his manager, Aleck McLean, will let him up in any matches, and when he does it will not be with any hard game.

Billy Nixon has backed out of his match with Johnny Glover at the Armory A. A. Boston, next Tuesday night, and Mickey McIntyre of St. John will take Nixon's place. The change will make the bout the more ragged. The other four bouts scheduled for the same evening will give the fans a program of hot boxing.

Promoter McCarey of Los Angeles has signed Jim Flynn, the Pueblo heavyweight, to box Doc, 10, and he is trying to get Jim Stewart or Frank Klaus for his opponent. It will be quite a while before Stewart will be ready to return to the ring on account of his manager and seconds having good sense when Stewart boxed Jim Barry here this week.

Tommy Burns, the ex-heavyweight champion must have cleaned up a lot of money since he has been in the game, for he has just paid $50,000 for real estate in Calgary, Manitoba. He also has opened a haberdashery store in the same city. He says that he is undecided about continuing in the game, but so long as Tommy sees where he can earn good money in it there is no danger that he will quit it.

A New Orleans promoter is negotiating with Jim Barry to box Tony Ross in that city the middle of next month. The promoter states that he has Al Kaufman's name on a contract to box anyone in New Orleans in January, and that if Barry defeats Ross he will get the chance against Kaufman. As Barry has some bouts on in Oklahoma next month he may not take on the Ross match.

SEC. CHAS. NAGEL

Addressed Kansas City Commercial Club

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 19.—Active and rational co-operation between the national and state authorities is absolutely essential to a successful solution of the common problems with which they both are confronted. This was the opinion expressed last night by Charles Nagel, secretary of commerce and labor, in an address delivered at the 16th annual banquet of the Kansas City Commercial club. He declared himself a believer in both state and national authority, saying that he "read the constitution to mean that the integrity of both was guaranteed."

In the practical affairs of life, however, he asserted, "substantially no one adheres to the old doctrine" of restricted power of the national government. "The old restriction upon federal authority and federal appropriations have been swept away," he said. "Generally in all directions the old barrier has been broken down and it is admitted in practice, if not in platform, that national authority is absolutely essential to meet national problems as they now present themselves. If this is true at home with respect to domestic affairs, it is infinitely more true with respect to foreign affairs."

Mr. Nagel dealt in his speech with the question of the protection of national and state authority, particularly as it pertained to commerce. As to foreign commerce he declared that he was "absolutely to say that only one authority can be consulted and that is the national power."

As to domestic commerce, he said: "So far we have practically no commercial corporations that base their authority upon anything but state authority. The inconvenience of that system, even in our interstate commerce, has been sufficiently demonstrated. I am persuaded, for one, that the conflicts, the inconsistencies, and the embarrassments with respect to interstate commerce alone are enough to call for the organization of corporations under federal charters. "I am not oblivious to the fact," he

LYNN BANDITS

Were Found Guilty and Were Sentenced to Death

SALEM, Nov. 19.—Wassili Ivankowski and Andrei Ipsen, the Lynn bandits, were found guilty of murder in the first degree yesterday by the jury which had listened to the evidence in their trial for the killing of Thomas Landrogon and James Carroll of Lynn on June 26 last. They were sentenced to be electrocuted during the week of March 6, 1911.

The Lynn bandit case, in which Wassili Ivankowski and Andrei Ipsen are on trial for the murder of Thomas Landrogon, a shoe manufacturer, and James Carroll, a policeman, at Lynn on June 26 last, was given to the jury in the Essex county superior criminal court this morning. All of the testimony was concluded yesterday and counsel for the defense and prosecution made their final arguments last evening. When court convened today, Chief Justice Alken told the attorneys for the defense that the prisoners might address the jury if they desired. Neither Ivankowski or Ipsen took advantage of the offer, Chief Justice Alken then delivered his charge to the jury. This occupied about 35 minutes and at its conclusion the jury withdrew to consider the case.

The jury was out less than two hours. Neither of the prisoners appeared disconcerted by the verdict. When the interpreter notified them both men smiled slightly but not from this their faces were expressionless.

Both of the convicted men made statements to the court when Chief Justice Alken asked them if they desired to say anything before sentence of death should be pronounced. Ivankowski was the first to respond to the justice's invitation. Through an interpreter he said that the verdict was all wrong. He also declared that he and Ipsen had not had a fair chance because they had no witnesses.

Ipsen's statement was brief and seemed to indicate that he had not expected an acquittal. "Let it be as it is," was all he said.

Chief Justice Alken then pronounced sentence. As the men were being led from the courtroom Ivankowski said: "You will find out some time that you did not investigate better."

added, "that if the national government authorizes the organization of commercial companies to be employed in foreign business, these same organizations may, and perhaps must, by degrees, engage in domestic commerce as well. On the contrary, I believe this to be an inevitable result of the first step. But there is no cause for alarm."

He said it would only be a repetition of the story of the national bank, "heralded at one time as the enemy of the state, but which has become a 'business man's bank' enjoying the confidence of every village and town," although in theory the fiscal agent of the national government.

"Commerce in the United States," he said, "is not measured by state boundaries and cannot be successfully controlled by state authority. Interstate commerce and traffic have outgrown the state in every respect and the ill from which we have suffered in the past, insofar as they have been met, were relieved by the interposition of national authority."

The secretary declared that there is pressing necessity for the development of foreign commerce and that "we are proceeding, as it were, oblivious to it." "We speak of the tariff," he continued, "as though it concerned only the cost of the consumer at home, and yet we have entered into international commerce, we have entered it politically, and we must maintain it commercially. Notwithstanding all the campaign controversies, the free list has now been increased. If that be the policy we must, of necessity, make corresponding inroads into foreign territory with our products."

"This country," he said, "was not putting forth anywhere near the energy being expended by foreign countries in their efforts to gain foreign trade. The one bureau in this country's government which is charged with the promotion of domestic and foreign commerce, he added, "employs a force not as large as that which is employed by one foreign country in one state of the United States."

There is need, also, he said, for the United States, to have its own merchant marine. Furthermore, this merchant marine "should be amenable to the same authority which is engaged in the promotion of the general system."

Referring briefly to the past campaign, he said he deplored the fact "that so much time and energy of those who participated were wasted upon question of personal controversy; upon the heralding of extravagant ideas that can accomplish little beyond retarding actual progress, and upon mere party controversy, when we have questions of such gravity immediately confronting us that so far scarcely have been given serious public consideration."

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

NEW INDUSTRY

TO BE LOCATED IN THIS CITY IN NEAR FUTURE

Lowell is to have a new industry according to information received in this city. The firm which is to be known as the Boral Chemical company is to manufacture powders which it is said will cure rheumatism. The formula is one which has been prepared by Helen R. Hobbs of this city, who is a teacher of art in Boston.

Manchester and Lowell citizens are interested in the company.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The present state is to send Edward M. Shepard for some time. Tammany hall wants to enlarge its scope, and Murphy sees a chance by sending Shepard to the senate. Shepard was a candidate for governor, but stepped aside in favor of Dix. And now, it is claimed, he was promised the senate.

been booming Shepard for the senate for some time. Tammany hall wants to enlarge its scope, and Murphy sees a chance by sending Shepard to the senate. Shepard was a candidate for governor, but stepped aside in favor of Dix. And now, it is claimed, he was promised the senate.

The Best 50c
Underwear
IN LOWELL, AT THE Merrimack COMPANY
CLOTHING
Across from City Hall

MANY PRETTY GIFTS Were Showered on the Venerable Sister McMillan

On Occasion of 50th Anniversary
of Her Profession as a Grey
Nun—Special Papal Benediction
Was Received Through Cardinal
Merry Del Val—Reception in
Her Honor in St. Joseph's College Hall—

St. Joseph's college hall, Merrimack st., was crowded last night when a reception and entertainment was held in honor of Rev. Sister McMillan, the venerable superior of St. Joseph's convent, on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of her profession as a member of the order of Grey Nuns of the Cross.

In addition to the large number of lay people, there was also present a notable gathering of members of religious communities, including Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., provincial of the Oblate order; Rev. Frs. Le-fèvre and Bernache, O. M. I., of St.
Joseph's rectory; Rev. Frs. Lamothe and Vaude, O. M. I., of Notre Dame de Lourdes rectory; Rev. Fr. Chaput, O.
M. I., of Tewksbury; and several representatives of the Grey Nuns of the Cross from the mother house at Ottawa, St. Joseph's and the Immaculate Conception convents in this city; of the Sisters of the Assumption in charge of St. Louis convent and finally of the Sisters of the Holy Family.

Among the visitors present were
Rev. Mother Duhamel, of the mother house at Ottawa, superior general of the Grey Nuns, and two other sisters, mates of Rev. Sister McMillan during her novitiate, and who will both also celebrate their golden jubilees.
These two were Rev. Sister Rowley, superior of the Pembroke, Ont., house, and a schoolmate of Rev. Sister Mc-Millan, besides being a sister novice;
and Rev. Sister Maurault of Ottawa.
The presence of these three afforded particular joy to the venerable superior of St. Joseph's convent.

The entertainment was given by the pupils of St. Joseph's school and opened with a pretty operetta, entitled "Au Royaume des Fleurs," at the conclusion of which the flowers having been borne by the participants were gathered into a huge sheaf and presented to Rev. Sister McMillan. The young players taking part were: Miss Iva Lussier, as Flora, queen of flowers;
Miss Juliette Gervais, the zephyr;
Miss Alice Boulet, the sunbeam;
Miss Irene Malhot, the rose; Miss
Yvonne Prevost, the lily; Miss Eugénie
Bourque, the violet; Miss Antoinette Gervais, the daisy; Miss Blanche Larue, the tulip; Miss Irene Labrecque, the peony; Miss Alice Belanger, the forget-me-not; four little pages, the Misses Lucie Rheaute, Della Thibault, Irene Labrecque, Jeannette Chevalier,
four pupils, Misses Loretta Dalgie, Florine Plourde, Hygiene Jean and Bertha Lebel.

Rev. Sister McMillan is of Scotch origin, although born in Rigo, Que., and in honor of this fact a graceful Scotch drill was given by 30 little maiden in Scotch dress and who sang the "Blue Bells of Scotland," and drilled to the air.

Other numbers included a grand chorus, "Voeux et Souhaits," by the older pupils, and numbering over 100 girls, all dressed in white. The same chorus closed the program with another beautiful choral, "Rejoissance."

Another chorus, "Les Noces d'or," by the smallest pupils, also looking their prettiest in fluffy, white gowns, proved very pleasing. There were besides three duets by Miss Alma and Ernestine Alexander.

At the close of the program Sister
McMillan was the recipient of a surprise in the shape of a gift of $50 in gold from a party of friends headed by
Mr. and Mrs. Amédée Archambault.
Earlier in the day, Sister McMillan was presented a purse of $100 by the Oblate Fathers. Dr. A. G. Payette read an address and Mr. Archambault presented the purse. Little Miss Lea Archambault presented Sister Mc-Millan a beautiful bouquet.

At the close of the program, Rev. Fr.
Smith, provincial of the Oblates, Rev.
Fr. Lefèvre and Rev. Fr. Lamothe spoke, offering Rev. Sister McMillan their heartiest congratulations on the happy event. A telegram from Rev.
Fr. Watelle, O. M. I., superior of St.
Joseph's parish, who is now away, was also expressive of good wishes. Another telegram from Cardinal Merry del
Val, papal secretary, gave the venerable sister a special papal benediction on the occasion of her jubilee.

Rev. Fr. Smith announced that next Monday morning a special jubilee high mass would be sung at St. Jean Baptiste church, at which he, Rev. Fr.
Smith, will officiate.

Nine young women of the congregation Notre Dame de Lourdes, wearing gold ribbon badges, formed the reception committee. They were Misses Corinne Horoux, president; Anna
Barry, Bertha Cote, Marie Louise
Roux, Lucie Caratelle, Marie Heroux,
Amanda Bergeron, Albina Bourgeois and Josephine Renaud.

Last call on bulbs. Those who want a pretty bed in the spring should order
now. This is the time to plant bulbs.
As we have a few thousand still on hand, you can get the best quality at the price of cheaper grades, while our supply lasts, at McMillan's florist,
6 Prescott street.

PROVIDENCE BOYS WON
BOSTON, Nov. 18.—Providence technical high won the team trophy in the schoolboy cross country run over the Massachusetts Institute of technology course yesterday, scoring 27 points.
Individual honors went to James Henigan of Malden high who finished 200 yards ahead of G. R. Forsythe of the Providence Technical high in 17 minutes, 44 seconds, within five seconds of the record for the event made by Gardner Whitney, of the Brookline high, two years ago.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure
The only baking powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar
No Alum, No Lime Phosphate

ROOSEVELT BUSY

Kept on the Go in Washington

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—A busy program was mapped out for Colonel Theodore Roosevelt today. It was his first visit to the national capital since he was president. The colonel went first of all to the Smithsonian institution at 10 a. m. to examine the multitude of specimens secured in the African expedition which have been mounted there. At noon he was entertained at luncheon by Gilbert Grosvenor, editor of the National Geographical magazine. In the afternoon he remained at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, where returns from the Yale-Harvard football game at New Haven were received.

During the afternoon Secretary and Mrs. Knox, members of the diplomatic corps, and many other prominent officials were expected to call at the Longworth residence for tea.
In the evening the colonel will be the guest of honor at a dinner given by Dr. Wolcott, director of the Smithsonian Institution, at which a number of the country's leading scientists will be present.

Mr. Roosevelt will leave for Oyster Bay tomorrow.

SUFFRAGETTES

Were Not Prosecuted in London Court

LONDON, Nov. 19.—To their chagrin, the 110 suffragettes who were arrested yesterday in their attempt to storm parliament were discharged in the Bow street police court today. The defendants had been released on bail last night. When they were arraigned today the attorney for the crown announced that Home Secretary Churchill had decided on the ground of public policy that no benefit would be gained by proceeding with the prosecution.
The willing martyrs to the cause of woman suffrage received this statement with hisses and boos.

THREE-WHEELED AUTO
DETROIT, Nov. 18.—A three-wheeled automobile will be manufactured in Detroit soon by a company now in process of organization. A sample car has been run 5000 miles. The single wheel is in the rear. It is claimed that this arrangement does away with skidding.

SCENE IN "THE FAMILY"

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

George Barr McCutcheon's greatest story, "Graustark," dramatized by Grace Hayward and adapted by George D. Baker will be the attraction at the Opera House, next Monday night, Nov.
21.

It is needless to dwell too strongly upon Mr. McCutcheon's book, inasmuch as it has proved to be the most masterfully romantic story for many years.
Not even "Brewster's Millions," another success by the same author, can compare with "Graustark," as a play of sterling worth. From the rise of the curtain to the final drop, it is one continuous cycle of old world intrigue, adventure, and a hustling American fashion, a variety of comedy found only in high class plays, and dashes of joy-episodes unequalled in either the comedy or dramatic offerings of the present day. The company engaged in the presentation of the piece and the scenic investment in use, is of the highest order, and has been highly recommended by both press and public in all the large cities of the country.

"Graustark" is all and probably more as a play than the book is as a story.
It reaches the public's fancy. What more can be asked?

THE FAMILY

The Messrs. Shubert's latest dramatic success, "The Family," with the original New York cast headed by John Westley, comes to the Opera House next Tuesday and Wednesday with Wednesday matinee. The play, which created a sensation in Boston is by Robert H. Davis, formerly a newspaper man and now editor of Munsey's Magazine. In appeal and sentiment
"The Family" is remarkable. The lo-cale is laid in a small town outside of Boston. The Sileeds, a family composed of father, mother, two daughters and son, are of the ordinary sort, yet honest folk. The son is a loafer of the first water and like his father, is given to playing the ponies and indulging in other vices. The elder daughter is tired of the house drudgery and longs for a change of life. A minstrel man, in the trappings of his order is introduced into the family and induces the girl to leave her home. She goes on the road with him but the family overhaul her. Springfield and she returns to the parental log fire and meantime is killed in a railroad wreck.

THE FINAL SETTLEMENT

A comedy drama by L. B. Parker,
"The Final Settlement," will be the attraction at the Opera House on Thursday, Nov. 24, Thanksgiving Day, and Friday and Saturday. The play presents a realistic picture of American social life, is somewhat melo-dramatic and is one of the best successes of the present season. It depicts the rise of a brilliant and ambitious young workman from the ranks of labor to a position as president of a big iron trust.
This sudden elevation bewilders his wife, who clings to her old fashioned ideals of husband, child and home. The man's ruin, and the faithfulness of the wife in the time of need, are told in a powerful manner by the dramatist. It is a strong, simple story of a phase of life which is becoming more and more commonplace at the present time. The cast includes J. L. Whiteside, Will L.
White, Pauline Geary, Gladys Gilen,
Elizabeth Royal, John Graham, Fred
E. Strong, Herbert Butler, Evelyn
James, and Harry Edwards. Matinees will be given daily and seats are now on sale.

DOCKSTADER

Lew Dockstader and his "twentieth century minstrels," now under the management of the Messrs. Shubert, will be the attraction at the Opera House soon with a minstrel show featuring a large number of the most fashionable and clearly different from any ever offered here. In the cities where Mr. Dockstader and his notable aggregation have appeared thus far he has been extensively complimented for presenting an innovation as well as an agreeable surprise to his numerous admirers.

THEATRE VOYONS

The attention of the whole country was yesterday focused on Ralph Johnstone, the daring Wright aviator who met with such a sad accident the day before. Today the Theatre Voyons shows this daring aviator performing the same feats that led to his accident on Wednesday and clearly and in every detail the great chances he took in making his spiral climb to the clouds appear on the screen. He is shown circling and dipping sometimes with his machine at an angle of 90 degrees and at other times showing his machine swooping down till it touches the ground, only to rise again like a bird.
These pictures will be shown today and Sunday.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Sunday night at the Merrimack Square theatre there will be another of those big Sunday night concert bills with an elaborate and varied program in keeping with the day. Six of the best vaudeville acts to be found on the Seaside circuit have been obtained for appearance at the concert, and in addition there will be several films of the best moving pictures interspersed on the bill, including the splendid feature,
"Pastoral Scenes."
The headline act next week is Ken-roy and Hoills, the college boys, in a

VESSEL VANISHES 29 WERE FINED

Boat From Boston Dis-
appears at Sea

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—With nothing heard from her since she passed out by Boston light at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of Nov. 10, the British tramp steamer Trongete, bound from this port for Baltimore, to load coal for Cuba, has dropped out of sight as completely as though she had been swallowed up by the sea. This is little short of extraordinary, for in the passage of 700 miles to the Chesapeake, she would ordinarily have been spoken several times. And when the vessel has not arrived at her destination, with no storms to hinder her progress, her agents, A. G. Lombard & Sons, would greatly like to know. She is owned by Turnbull, Scott & Co. of London.
The Trongete arrived here from Cardenas, Cuba, with sugar Nov. 2, and left about a week later in ballast for Baltimore to load coal for Jamaica.
Capt. W. Y. Hutter, her commander, an Englishman, decided to take the course outside of Nantucket and avoid Vineyard sound.

It is probable her machinery has been in some way disabled, but that she has never been reported by either passing vessels or from some marine station is inexplicable. Only one theory—that of collision—would account for such a total disappearance. But even in this case, it is thought something would have been learned of the occurrence long before this. She is now fully four days overdue at her destination.

The first bit of anxiety began to be felt here when some inquiries from New York were received regarding the tramp. Nothing could be vouchsafed her since nothing was known of passengers, and was but in Whitty, Eng., in 1897. She has a crew of 23 men of all nationalities and as far as known none were shipped at this port.
Her officers are all Britons.
When she arrived here from Cuba
there was little else to eat on board but thinned meats and biscuits, for she took longer on the run to this port than her skipper had anticipated.
She is 310 feet long, 44 feet breadth of beam and she has a gross tonnage of 2532.

THE INSURGENTS

WANTED ACCESS TO BOOKS OF

NATIONAL GRANGE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 19.—
The movement made by the insurgents for access to the books of the National Grange for the purpose of securing evidence of the alleged misuse of funds of the organization, met defeat yesterday after a lengthy debate, in which the hostile forces put forth their best speakers.

Worthy Master Helme, of Michigan, presented the resolution asking permission to go over the records of the grange, under proper supervision.
Speeches by Worthy Masters Cramer of Pennsylvania, Stetson of Maine, Spence of Oregon, Kegley of Washington,
Hampton of New York, and Helme
were combated by Raine of Missouri, Wilson of Illinois, Patterson of Maryland and H. H. of South Dakota, speakers representing one of the stand-pat-ters. Vives in many cases voted in opposition to the men when the stand-pat-ters and insurgents finally lined up for the vote.

When the vote was counted the insurgents had met the defeat in their first move to wrest the control of the powerful farmer body from the presents administration.

Regarding the plans of the administration which holds over, as the national officers are elected every other year to have the so-called agitators brought to trial and dropped from membership, one of the insurgent allegations Monday when the National Grange would sit as trial jury and would not adjourn until a vote was taken, formal charges would be prosecuted in the lodges to which the originators of the allegations belonged. The two leaders who are most likely to be brought to trial are George P. Hampton of New York city, and George Helme, editor of a farmers' journal in Michigan.

In a modified form the plan to increase the power of the larger states in the national body is to be taken up today, when a suggestion will be made that in the future the same delegate power be conferred.

Co-operation in stores, in life insurance, in fire insurance and in marketing products chiefly occupied the attention of the grange prior to the controversy over the opening of the books.
Every state master who reported said that where the co-operative plan had been introduced, it was growing in popularity and was saving large sums of money to the farmers.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The members of Passaconaway tribe of Red Men met in their wigwag, Odd Fellows hall, last night and held an interesting social. The advisory committee reported that arrangements for the coming event had been completed and satisfactory results are looked for. The class initiation committee reported progress. After adjourning a waist tournament was started and suitable prizes were awarded the winners.

FOUR MEN DROWNED

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—Four men comprising the crew of the sea-going tug Sea Prince, were drowned last night in the bay off Angel Island,
when the British steamer Greyhound,
Castro, ran aground and sank the tug.
Captain L. Langford, master of the Sea Prince was the only man on the tug who was saved.

Crusade Against Spitting in Boston Streets

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—With the help of various unsuspecting and unfortunate citizens the busy Boston patrolmen came up to the mark set by Commissioner O'Meara yesterday by brining into the lower courts of the city thirty offenders under the expectation dictum. All but one of these had to pay a fine, the exception being a man arrested by Patrolman Fisher of the Joy street station, for whom the officer put in an appeal to the effect that he was 60 years old and poor. Judge Ely put this case on file. The fines amounted to $58. There wasn't a single prosecution in Dorchester. The two South Boston stations had six convictions, one resulting in a fine of $5, the heaviest of the day. Some of the cases were appealed.

The commissioner's requirement for the patrolmen today is forty-five presentations. Several of the police captain's doubt if this quota can be produced unless special plain clothes men are sent out. They say the public is getting educated rapidly and that the promiscuous "spitters" are getting
"leary" of brass buttons.

Three alleged violators of the expectation law were taken into custody in Charlestown early last evening. They gave the names of Edward Doherty, John Hall and Michael Leary. They were arraigned this morning.

Lion Foudles A Challa

In Pittsburgh a savage lion fondled
the hand that a child thrust into his cage.
Danger to a child is sometimes great when least regarded. Often it comes through cold, cruel and Whopping Cough. They say thousands that Dr.
King's New Discovery could have of a very bad case of Croup. Write Mrs. George B. Davis, of Flat Rock, N. C. We always give it to him when he takes cold. It's a wonderful medicine for babies. Best for Coughs,
Cold, LaGrippe, Asthma, Hemorrhages, Weak Lungs, etc. and St. Trial Bottles, Guaranteed by A. W. Dowe
& Co.

Voters of Ward 5

Re-elect a man who has served the ward's best interests.

THE HON. SULLIVAN

VOTE FOR Councilman
Cornelius J. Sullivan

Candidate for Second Term,
CORNELIUS J. SULLIVAN,
Advertisement, 322 Central St.

TWO DIAMONDS OF EQUAL WEIGHTS ARE OFTEN OF WIDELY DIFFERENT VALUES

The quality, cutting and color are what determine the worth of a diamond. Such stones are worth from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent.
more than those of ill-shape, dull or yellowish color and those containing flaws. You can't get diamond-wealth simply by buying weight. The first thing to be considered is perfect quality, even if the size be smaller. No Gem of Questionable Character Finds
Place in Our Stock. There is absolutely no risk in buying here.
We always consider quality first in buying, and talk quality in selling.
You'll find us worthy of your confidence, for we have nothing but best quality stones to offer. Our prices for higher quality stones are lower, made possible by our superior buying facilities.

—AT—

FRANK RICARD'S

Thanksgiving Day Specials

CARVING KNIVES, 35c to $25.00

We have a splendid assortment to select from. Buy a good set and enjoy carving your turkey.

Special Sale of NUT PICKS and CRACKS

10c per set of 6, regular 25c goods
19c per set of 12, regular 50c goods

We have the sets in various patterns.

THE THOMPSON HARDWARE COMPANY

254-256 Merrimack Street.

N. B. Pop Corn all shelled, 8c lb. 5 lbs. 25c.
Our new Steel Popper 25c.

SAVE

The price of your Thanksgiving dinner by making your purchases

AT THE

Merrimack Clothing Co

Across From City Hall

CARVING SETS

For Thanksgiving

New lot just received from factory, special low prices during the great sale now going on. Don't buy until you examine them and get our prices.

$6.00 Sets, sale price $4.99

$10.00 Sets, sale price $8.49

$14.00 Sets, sale price $12.99

$20.00 Sets, sale price $18.99

GEO. H. WOOD

Wholesale and Retail

137-141 CENTRAL STREET

THE LOWELL SUN

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor
SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.
Member of the Associated Press
THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was 16,828

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilote, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

FOSS UNPLEGDED TO POLITICIANS

It was freely stated before the election that victory for Foss would turn the control of the state over to Mayor Fitzgerald and Mr. Lomasney of Boston. Mr. Foss has made a statement, however, that would seem to set aside any misgivings on this point. He states that he will appoint only men who can stand publicity, and he will give their names to the press before appointment in order that anything that can be said against them may be known before they are allowed to enter office. If they are hailed as clean and competent men they will be appointed, not otherwise. If Mr. Foss as governor hopes to have his appointees escape bitter criticism from some portion of the party press we fear he will be mistaken.

The fact that Mayor Fitzgerald and Lomasney favored the election of Foss does not at all indicate that his administration will be dominated by the Boston democracy.

CHAMP CLARK FOR SPEAKER

Now that the national house of representatives will be democratic, the democrats will have the choice of a speaker, and Mr. Cannon will be among the opposition from the floor. Already it is stated upon the best of authority that Champ Clark of Missouri will be the choice of the democrats for speaker.

Mr. Clark is an able man, a powerful speaker, and a parliamentarian of long experience. When he opposed Speaker Cannon's arbitrary sway he advocated a change that would take away from the speaker the power of appointing committees. It is probable that this rule will be applied to him, and that a committee will do what the speaker was formerly accustomed to do in the assignment of committees.

Champ Clark as speaker of the house would command the respect of both parties to a greater degree than Mr. Cannon could possibly have done in his palmist days. Clark is gifted with the faculty of humor, which is a valuable asset to a man who occupies the speaker's chair. He has been in congress for about sixteen years, and is fully versed with the workings of congress, with all the rules and customs of the house.

ONE OF THE BAD TRUSTS

The Imperial Window Glass trust has been prosecuted by the United States government, and fifteen officers and directors of the concern have been fined $500 each, with an additional fine of $2,500 upon the corporation for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The company seems to be determined to suspend business unless its employees resume work at wages 30 per cent. lower. United States Attorney General Wickersham declares that there is no justification for any such reduction, but the company is fixed in its purpose to throw the weight of the fines and the interruption of its business over upon the employees of the concern.

The trouble with this and some other trusts is that they have been allowed to go too far in defiance of the law, and when they are then called to account they feel that there is no justification for the application of the law in their case.

In this particular case the officials of the company should be thankful that they did not get a jail sentence. The company began business in January, 1910, and by October the prices of glass had been advanced 70 per cent. During the ten months it has been in business it cleared $1,000,000, making 400 per cent. on its capital stock. That was a species of public plunder for which the directors of the company should be sentenced to prison.

TOLSTOI'S SELF-CONTRADICTIONS

Count Tolstoi's flight into solitude to die is characteristic of his customary acts. He was born a great painter of life and realism, and after writing a few great novels that startled the world, he assumed the role of philosopher, preacher and teacher in which he proved an utter failure.

At one time he made a gross attack upon the sanctity of Christian marriage; at another he set himself up in opposition to Christ in a work bearing the egotistical title, "My Religion and Christ's Christianity."

He condemned all high art, so called, because it demands taste for its appreciation and aesthetic taste is undemocratic. Herein lies one of his eccentric and absurd views, for if high ideals are not cherished even by the ignorant and artistic, these classes will inevitably sink lower in the intellectual and artistic scale.

Perhaps it is not entirely fair to condemn Tolstoi for his philosophy and his peculiar code of ethics, as he hardly said anything of importance that he did not afterwards contradict, so that the man as he is considered in relation to his works may be regarded as a bundle of self-contradictions. The fact seems to be with Tolstoi as with many other men who have attained high intellectual eminence—they begin to think that they are too great to accept the doctrine of any authority who preceded them. They affect a self-sufficiency unto themselves and to stand upon a moral ethical plane above that of the moral teachers of the ages.

As in the case of Tolstoi, some of them discover the utter shallowness of their opinions on such matters and so acknowledge to the world before their death; but a considerable number die believing they have left something new to benefit mankind, but as in the case of Tolstoi it is found that unless they build upon a Christian foundation, their structures will speedily crumble and decay. Again and again it has been demonstrated that neither profound learning nor the gift of genius will aid in the least in discrediting the moral law based on the decalogue or in finding any acceptable substitute.

There is proof of this in the fact that Tolstoi in his old age ill-treats his wife who, besides being the mother of a large family, has been his editor, his business manager and his wise counsellor through the best years of his life. That he has acted foolishly and repudiated not only his domestic but other obligations is due to the fact that he failed to take his wife's advice.

The philosophy and ethics that would justify such conduct at any stage in life is sadly out of joint. That he had a contempt for human nature and for every system of religion explains his failure to find the truth and the hopelessness and helplessness of his declining years.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Henry Clay Barnabee, the veteran singer and comedian, and long prominent in The Bostonians, was 77 years old Monday. Mr. Barnabee now makes his home with his niece, Mrs. Henry Brewer, in Roanoke avenue, Jamaica Plain. He enjoys very good health. His anniversary day was pleasantly remembered, in many ways by his friends, among whom are hosts of men and women ones, or even now, prominent before the footlights.

President Butler of Columbia has decided to remain on the board of trustees of the National Education association, despite the fact that it had been his intention to resign. In a letter to the secretary of the association, Dr. Butler says that he has yielded to the "urgent and numerous appeals that have reached me from so many of the prominent members of the association."

Henry Arthur Jones, the English playwright, is to superintend the American production of a play, he has just finished, and also to deliver two lectures, one at Columbia university and one at the University of Chicago. The lectures will naturally be on the subject of the drama. Mr. Jones was invited to deliver them several years ago, but he had not an opportunity to do so until this winter.

Lord Strathcona, Canadian high commissioner in London, has donated an additional $200,000 to the Strathcona trust fund for the encouragement of physical training and elementary military drill in the public schools of Canada. Lord Strathcona last year gave $500,000 to establish the fund, and now gives an annual sum of $200,000 to the Dominion committee in charge.

FINANCE COM.

OF CHARTER REVISION MOVEMENT ORGANIZED

The finance committee of the charter revision committee organized yesterday at a meeting held in the board of trade rooms.

Dr. J. E. Lamoureux was chosen chairman and George M. Harrigan, secretary. John H. Murphy of the board of trade will act as secretary of the committee.

The work of the committee is to devise a means of raising such funds as necessary to carry on a campaign of education in the matter of charter study and the meeting yesterday gave preliminary consideration to the various plans.

On Monday night, after the meeting of the large revision committee, the finance committee will meet again to decide upon the methods to be followed.

ATTACK OF HICCUPS

BELMAR, N. J., Nov. 19.—Violent and incessant hiccups have so worn down the strength of the Rev. J. W. McLaughlin of this town that physicians in attendance have slight hope of his recovery. Four years ago he had a similar but milder attack, and was only saved with great difficulty.

The present attack began last Tuesday and continued until last evening, when powerful opiates brought it under control.

PUZZLING HAIR QUESTIONS

The questions are how can I make my hair more beautiful? How can I stop it from falling out? How can I prevent the formation of scales and dandruff? The answer is simple. Shampoo your head frequently with a preparation made of refined soap, which cleans away dirt, dust and germs; Glycerin, which softens and soothes the scalp; and a valuable healing agent, White of Eggs, which removes scaly matter; Coconut Oil, which gives the hair a beautiful gloss and prevents the dry condition which results from using ordinary soaps or shampoos; Salicylic Acid, which is an antiseptic and kills the germs, bacteria and disagreeable odor. If these common sense reasons appeal to you, buy a tube of Birt's Head Wash, which is made of all the above described ingredients, and your hair troubles will be at an end. Sold by drug and department stores at 25c and 50c.

Pekin Restaurant

CHINESE AND AMERICAN CUISINE
The most beautiful eating place in the city; typically Chinese. Our mode of preparing and serving food cannot be improved upon. 225 Central st. near corner from 11.30 a. m. to 2.30 p. m. Give us a trial. Prompt service. Open daily from 11.30 a. m. to 1 a. m. Sunday included. 225 Central st. cor. Middle st., Lowell, Mass. Tel. 1055.

Chin Lee & Co

Chinese and American Restaurant
Dining rooms reserved for ladies or private parties. This restaurant is open from 11.30 a. m. to 1 a. m., including Sundays. 117 Merrimack st., near John st. Telephone 1322.

MONUMENTS AND MEMORIALS

of all descriptions in granite, marble and bronze. Manufacturing plant has the most modern power equipment and every labor saving device.

GUMB BROS.,
Cor. Gorham and Anderson Sts.
Near Edison Cemetery
Telephone 1817.

DR. EDWARDS' DANDELION

TABLETS AND PILLS
A Miracle as a Blood Purifier
Say thousands who have used them. A positive cure for Rheumatism, Constipation, Pimples, Eruptions, Itch, Liver, Kidney and Stomach. Eliminates all poisons from the system, without griping. Purely vegetable and guaranteed under Pure Food and Drug Law. Free samples on request to SCHENCK CHEMICAL CO., 54 Franklin street, New York. 25 cents a box at HALL & LYON CO., 67-69 Merrimack st., Lowell, Mass.

SPECIALS

Steamed clams, 20c; fried oysters and French fries, 25c; fried clams and French fries, 25c. Call and see us.

LOWELL INN

Best place on Central street

ST. THOMAS' SALVE

Piles, Old Sores and Skin Diseases

At All Up-to-Date Drug Stores
THIRTY-FIVE CENTS

WOOL SORTERS

Annual Sociable Held in Prescott Hall

The first annual social and dancing party of the Wool Sorters' union was held last night in Prescott hall and the friends of the organization turned out in large numbers. The music for dancing was furnished by Hibbard's orchestra.

The success of the affair was due to the energetic work of the following officers: General manager, Michael J. O'Hearn; assistant general manager, Daniel Kinch; floor director, Ben Gagan; assistant floor director, John Clarke; chief aid, Thomas F. McTeague; aids, John J. McQuade, Adelard Boudreau, Frederick Kinch, Carl Gralchen, John W. Hoyt, Michael Lee, Julius Hoelzel, Joseph Leclair, James McTeague, Patrick Connor, Martin L. Thomas, Bailey, Thomas McCaffrey, Michael Duggan, Arthur Short, John Talty, treasurer and secretary.

PLACED ON FILE

REP. O'CONNELL DID NOT INTEND TO VIOLATE LAW

BOSTON, November 19.—Judge Stevens in the superior criminal court yesterday placed on file the complaint against Congressman Joseph F. O'Connell, accused of violating the election law in handing out a card containing the state of the Young Men's democratic club at a booth in precinct 5, ward 20, at the last municipal election.

In his affidavit he says in conclusion: "The defendant asks that the case be placed on file or not pressed because there was no intention of committing any violation of the election law, and inasmuch as he is a member of congress and a public trial of the case will materially damage him in his reputation and profession, although the complaint is but a misdemeanor with a maximum penalty of $500."

In the Dorchester district court the congressman did not appear and the judge imposed a fine of $20. An appeal was taken.

Lowell City Library

WEEKLY LIST OF ADDITIONS

CHURCHTON, G. K. The Napoleon of the North Sea. $2.50
DAVIS, W. S. The Influence of wealth in Imperial Rome. $3.75
DELAUNAY, H. Boys Hook. $1.50
GILDER, R. W. Grover Cleveland, a record of friendship. $2.00
GREEN, W. W. Down to the sea in yachts from the Labrador. $1.75
HALL, G. S. Youth, its education, regimen and hygiene. $3.00
HARRIS, J. H. The life of George Washington. $1.25
JACKSON, E. A Manual of the diagnosis and treatment of the diseases of the eye. $1.50
JOYCE, H. C. The Law relating to intoxicating liquors. $4.00
JUDSON, H. B. Myths and legends of the Pacific Northwest, especially of Washington and Oregon. $3.00
LOUNSBERRY, J. Gardens near the sea. $1.50
MACPHERSON, H. Romance of modern astronomy. $2.00
NOLAN, J. Versailles. Les Grands Palais de France. $2.50
PARKER, H. C. Handbook of diseases of the eye. $1.00
SEDLER, C. History of the color-print. $1.00
SEWALL, C. L. Lessons in telegraphy. $1.00
VILLARD, O. G. John Brown 1800-1859; a biography fifty years after. $2.00
WASHINGTON, C. C. Pages from the book of Paris. Etchings and drawings by Lester G. Hornby. $1.40
WILLIAMS, A. How it is done; or, vic-tories of the engineer. $2.00

FICTION
BINDER, H. Masters of the Wheat. $1.50
BLANCHARD, G. Phil's happy girl-hood. $1.50
CHAMBERLAIN, A. (Amelle) River. $1.50
CODY, H. A. The Frontiersman. $1.50
CODY, H. A. The Frontiersman. $1.50
DELANE, The Way to Peace. $1.50
DOUGLAS, H. The Man in the Mirror. $1.50
FRANKAU, J. (Frank Danby) Let the foot fall in. $1.50
GARDNER, J. W. Madame X. $1.50
JONES, S. C. Out of Downing. $1.50
LLOYD, J. U. The Invaders. $1.50
MCCARTER, M. J. The Price of the promise. $1.50
MCCARTER, M. J. The Price of the promise. $1.50
MICHELL, S. W. The Guillotine club. $1.50
NICHOLSON, M. The Story of the young sailors. $1.50
SCHWARTZ, J. M. W. (Marleen) Standstill. $1.50
STUART, R. C. Mrs. Fitz. $1.50
STUART, R. C. Sonny's father. $1.50
WHITE, S. E. The Rules of the game. $1.50
WHITE, W. H. The Crime club. $1.50
ZOLLINGER, G. The Rout of the for-lesner. $1.50

Bay State Dye Works

There is such a thing as dyeing and also such a thing as dying. A person tells you that one dye house is just as good as another, that is lying. There is just as much difference in the quality of the dye as there is in the quality of the work. When you have your work done here you can feel sure that you have gone to the best place and will get the best result. This is the truth and we will prove it. If you only give us a trial order. Bring in your winter wearing apparel and you will get it when you need it at Low-ell's Leading Dye Works.

54 Prescott St. D. J. Leary, Prop.

Dwyer & Co.

PAINTERS, DECORATORS AND PAPER HANGERS

Estimates on all kinds of jobs, large or small, at 47 Anderson street.

See Our New Line of Bags and Suit Cases

LEATHER NOVELTIES, ETC. FOR HOLIDAY GIFTS

DEVINE'S

124 Merrimack St. Tel. 2160

Repairs, Etc.

A BOLD STEP

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broad-cast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines.

Thus Dr. Pierce has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits and placed them in a class all by themselves by making them remedies OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same.

As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

LARGE DECREASE

In the Imports From Europe

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Official returns of the foreign commerce of Japan during the 8 months ending with August, 1910, compared with the corresponding months of earlier years, have just been received by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor. They show that imports from Europe decreased from $4 million dollars in the 8 months of 1908 to $3 million dollars in the 8 months of 1910; while those from British India increased meantime from 118 thousand dollars to 238 thousand dollars. Exports from Japan in the eight months of 1910 show a general increase compared with like periods of 1908 and 1909, having been, in the eight months of 1910, 142 million dollars, against 126 million in 1909 and 120 million in 1908. All the grand divisions participated in this increase, Asia from $3 million dollars in 1908 to $2 million in 1910; from $5 million to $3 million; America (chiefly the United States) from $1 million dollars to 17 million; while imports from Asia increased from $2 million dollars to 78 million, and from all other countries (chiefly Egypt and Australia, from 5 million to 12 million dollars. In other words, during the period under consideration European merchandise showed a loss of 16 per cent, American products a loss of 42 per cent, and Asiatic products a gain of 27 per cent, the decrease in the total imports being 3.3 per cent. The share with Asiatic merchandise forms of the total imports of that country has risen from less than 40 per cent in 1908 to over 50 per cent in 1910, while Europe's share has fallen from 40 per cent in 1908 to 25 per cent in 1910 and that of America 10 per cent in 1908 to 11 per cent in 1910.

British India leads all other countries in the value of its imports into Japan, being credited in the eight months under review with 46 million dollars, against 32 million from Great Britain, 17 million from the United States, 16 million from China, 14 million from Germany, 5 million from Dutch East Indies, 4 million from Korea, 3 1/2 million from Kwantung, (Liaoning Peninsula), and 3 million from Belgium. These figures represent in each case, save that of India, a decrease when compared with those of a like period of 1908. Imports from Great Britain in that period have decreased 8 million dollars; those from the United States, 13 million; Dutch East Indies, 4 million; and Germany, 3 million, while those from India grew from a million dollars in 8 months of 1908 to 45 million in the corresponding period of 1910.

This large increase in the 1910 imports from India occurred chiefly in raw cotton, due largely to the high prices of cotton from the United States. Japan draws largely upon the United States for raw cotton, though in those years in which prices of American cotton are exceptionally high, the shorter stapled and lower priced cotton of India is drawn upon. The quantity of raw cotton imported into Japan from India in the 8 months of 1910 was 360 million pounds, valued at 44 million dollars, against 167 million pounds, valued at 17 million dollars in the same months of 1908; while that from the United States decreased during corresponding periods from 87 million pounds, valued at 11 million dollars in 1908, to 34 million pounds, valued at 6 million dollars in 1910. Thus the quantity of cotton drawn from India is more than doubled, while that from the United States fell off more than one-half. Concurrently with Japan's increased imports of raw cotton have occurred decreased imports of cotton cloths from that country (representing over 30 per cent. of the total) having dropped from 14 million dollars in 1908 to 4 million in 1910. In the trade the United States did not share to any appreciable extent.

Under the head of iron and steel practically all the important classes show decreased importations, especially those from the United States. Imports of machinery and engines from the United States in the eight months under consideration decreased from 4 million dollars in 1908 to 1 1/2 million in 1910; locomotives and rolling stock, from 1 million dollars to less than 20 thousand; and rails from 1 million to $243,000. Iron nails show an increase from 330 thousand to 520 thousand dollars. Decreased occurred in imports of iron and steel manufactures from Great Britain, Germany and Belgium.

Kerosene imports from the United States during the eight months under review increased from 28 1/2 million gallons, valued at 2 1/2 million dollars, in 1908, to 35 1/2 million gallons, valued at 3 1/2 million dollars in 1910; while those from Dutch East Indies decreased meantime from 20 million gallons, valued at 2 million dollars, to 12 1/2 million dollars in 1908 to 1 1/2 million in 1910. Flour imports into Japan show a marked decrease, those from the United States, which supplies fully 95 per cent. of the total, having fallen from 245,000 barrels, valued at 1 million dollars, in the 8 months of 1908 to 123,000 barrels, valued at one-half million dollars in the same month of 1910. Imports of leather goods from the United States decreased from 550 thousand dollars in the eight months of 1908 to 477 thousand dollars in the same months of 1910; while those from British India increased meantime from 118 thousand dollars to 238 thousand dollars.

The principal articles exported to the United States in the 8 months of 1910 are: raw silk, 24 1/2 million dollars; silk manufactures, 13 1/2 million dollars; tea, 4 1/2 million dollars; mats and matting, 1 million dollars; processed and earthenware, 1 million dollars; copper ingots, 2 million, and straw plait and braids, three-fourths million dollars.

The accident occurred near the corner of Parker avenue and the driver of the wagon did not know that the wheels had passed over the boy until he heard the scream. He then picked the boy up and carried him to his home.

Y.W.C.A. MEETING

STEPS TO REDEEM PLEDGE TO THE BUILDING FUND
A well attended meeting of the Woman's auxiliary to the Young Men's Christian Association was held yesterday. During the early portion of the meeting reports were read. The figures which showed what the auxiliary is doing to pay off their pledge of $5000 were shown on a blackboard. It was voted to hold a bazaar sale in the near future. At the conclusion of the business meeting the following entertaining program was carried out: Song, Miss Currier; entertainment by the children, entitled "A Picture Gallery," Greta Pickering, Curtis Mudgett, Agnes Jaynes, Edith Brown, Gordon Pickering, Eva McCauley, John O'borne, Charles Stanton, May Gar-

"You're Well!" Then Keep Well—
Don't wait for a sick spell to come along and prostrate you. Take Schenck's Mandrake Pills whenever you feel a little dull or out of sorts. They keep the digestion strong, the stomach sweet, the bowels regular, the liver active. Wholly vegetable—absolutely harmless—pale or sugar coated. 25c a box. READ OUR FREE BOOK on lung, liver and stomach disorders. Your name on a post card gets it.
Dr. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Philadelphia, Pa.

SOCIAL TEN CIGAR
Is a leader and is so acknowledged by all smokers
R. H. HARKINS, Manufacturer
912 Gorham Street
LOWELL, MASS.

Carroll Bros.
PLUMBERS, STEAM FITTERS AND SHEET METAL WORKERS
36 Middle Street Telephone 1850

OUTLOOK FOR ICE HOCKEY IN PITTSBURG

Promoters Find the Professional Game Too Risky and the Amateur Play Too Unprofitable.

No more glaring example of the imperative need of an international governing body in hockey, one which will be empowered with the same unrestricted authority enjoyed by the national commission in baseball, can be had than the deplorable situation in Pittsburgh.

There is to be no hockey in what once was one of the most active centers of the sport in this country during the coming season.

This is not due to any lack of interest in the sport. The fans of that city want hockey, but they want professional hockey.

Up until last season they have been educated to and fed on the faster and more exciting play of the starved puck chasers, and when they were deprived of this style of game and offered the amateur game last year they could not expect to be as satisfied with it and thrive as substantially on it.

It was made necessary to offer them amateur hockey because of the lack of some one body which would have jurisdiction over the players, both in this country and in Canada.

Back in the season of 1908-9 hockey in Pittsburgh started particularly early, and a number of the professional players in Canada figured that they could pick up some easy coin in that city for a couple of months and then just as soon as the season opened in Canada pack their kits and leave the Pirate promoters in the lurch.

This was predicted long before it happened, and just as soon as the big league season in the Dominion started the majority of the players beat it back. There were a few who had decency to stick it out, but it was necessary for several of the teams to borrow reserve players from the rest of the clubs in order to finish out their schedules.

The players can hardly be blamed for taking this advantage of laxity on the part of the promoters of the game. The life of a hockey player is but very short at best. The game is too strenuous for them to last long, and they are going to grab all the coin they can while the grabbing is ripe.

It is time, however, that the promoters in this country at least—Canada doesn't have to worry as much about it as yet—should get on the job and make overtures to the Canadian officials concerning the forming of some sort of substantial alliance whereby the player guilty of jumping his contract could be blacklisted and a holdout could be dealt with as they deal with him in baseball, by not permitting him to play with any other team.

In Canada they have trouble with contract jumpers, but they are never troubled for the want of players. There are hundreds of them to be plucked. Of course they are not all classy, but Pittsburgh could not get any kind.

Minnesota Establishes Rowing Camp.

The Minnesota State university has established a rowing camp on the shores of Harrison bay, at Minnetonka, under the direction of Dick Grant. Grant has succeeded in acquiring a large amount of shore line and has brought about the erection of a sleeping and dining cottage and laid out a football field, which can also be used for other sports. Next year Grant hopes to have a crew to race against Wisconsin, while the movement may result in the establishment of a western college rowing association like the big eastern university meet at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Morris, Yale's Center, One of Best in East This Season

Morris, Yale's sturdy center, has played a clever game for Eli all season. In every game his passing has been first-class. Although he may not come up to Yale's star middle men of other years, still he has proved that he is the equal of any center in the east this season.

Joan, 2.06½, Looks Like a Champion

Horsemen generally took upon the four-year-old filly Joan, 2.06½, as a promising candidate for a two minute trotting record when she reaches the full powers that should come to her. She not only possesses speed to a sensational degree, but she has also the good manners, courage and soundness which make such speed valuable. Joan has an unusual history. Her dam, Sarah W., 2:18½, by Hal Bradin, was used by a Pittsburgh man for milking races. A fall left her with a fractured hip, and her owner turned her out on his farm, almost forgetting that he owned her. One day the owner of Direction Spier, 2:11½, suggested that he mate Sarah W. with that horse, saying that it would cost him nothing, and he consented. The following spring the mare's owner learned that she had behind the line of scrimmage. By limiting the pass to a zone of twenty yards and so preventing the long heave down the field, which the Yale eleven perhaps worked to better advantage than any other team, an effort was made to discourage the reckless tossing about of the ball as a last resort measure as well as to provide better protection for the man receiving the ball. In doing this, however, the usefulness of the play was restricted to some extent.

FORWARD PASS OVER LINE PROVES A BOOMERANG AT TIMES

© 1910, by American Press Association.

HOW TO THROW AND RECEIVE THE FORWARD PASS.

In any case, the forward pass is not winning the favor of the players and coaches which its supporters so earnestly hoped and expected. It is being used, and with good results, by some teams, but its value lies more in its menace than its ground gaining powers, except perchance at Pennsylvania, where the coaches have been quick to realize and take advantage of its effectiveness when used behind the line of scrimmage.

Pass Makes Trouble For Officials.

When the rule was changed as it now stands it was argued that in the scramble for the forward pass there would always be an element of risk. This, the rulemakers say, cannot be possible if the officials of the game insist that the rule in regard to interfering with players is strictly enforced. It is evident that officials have more on their hands this season than they have encountered in all the trials and tribulations which have been theirs in football.

Something about the use of hands and arms will not come amiss while discussing the subject of the forward pass. The player running with the ball may ward off opponents with hands and arms. That has always been the case.

Here comes something in the line of what has just been written which should be grasped by every player who takes part in a game.

"No player while in the act of catching a forward pass shall be tackled, thrown, pushed, pulled, shouldered or straight armed until he shall have caught the ball and taken more than one step in any direction, provided that any such interference, which is incidental to a bona fide attempt to catch or intercept the ball, shall not come within this prohibition."

Last Season's Troubles.

In that category of evils is defined everything which was put in use last year to put the man catching the forward pass out of commission before he got his hands on the ball. In effect it means that if a forward pass is merely touched or fumbled by a player no player on either side may even then interfere with an opponent until the ball is actually in possession of a player except in a bona fide effort to get the ball.

It is not very difficult to tell the difference between a bona fide attempt to get the ball and a bona fide attempt to drop the man who is about to catch the ball. There have not been many of those tricks this year by which players in concerted attack got rid of the man who was about to receive the ball. If one player jumps for the ball and another of the defending side jumps for it at the same time it is not difficult for umpire, field judge or referee to rule properly on the play.

The forward pass in some degree—indeed, to a large degree—is protected similarly to the fair catch, and, having done that, the rulemakers are quite confident that they have put it on a basis where it will be more valuable in attack than it has been since the day it was adopted.

It is very well known that the opposition which aligned itself against the play came from men of substantial experience. They were opposed to it because they deemed it to be one of the most harmful plays of all football strategy. They did not think that it was good football to begin with and did not think that the player trying to catch the ball had anything like adequate protection against a field of charging men, and very likely there was a great deal more truth than poetry in their contentions.

REMARKABLE OLYMPIC ATHLETES

If we are to believe the records of feats performed on the Olympian plain and in the sacred grove of Aulis, in Athens, long before and long after our Christian era began, Greece boasted some athletes who could literally "make tracks round" their successors of today.

Where, for instance, would we find a strong man who could hold his own with Milo of Crotona, who thought nothing of carrying a four-year-old heifer on his shoulders through the stadium of Olympia and crowned this muscular performance by eating the animal in a single day? So sturdy were Milo's legs that, standing on an oiled disk, the next strongest man in Greece could not make him budge a fraction of an inch, while by merely causing the veins in his head to swell he could break a stout cord girdling his forehead as if it were a circle of thread.

There were phenomenal jumpers, too, in those long gone Olympian days, says London Answers. There was one Phayllus, for instance, who in one mighty leap cleared the amazing distance of fifty-five feet—more than twice the world's record jump of today. It is true that Phayllus had weights and a springboard to help him in his flight, but in spite of such assistance the jump remains one to marvel at, and, one would think, impossible to rival.

The old Greek boxers were no less doughty and formidable, and none but a man of bulldog pluck and muscles of steel could hope to stand up against their fists, incased in nail studded thong. It was no uncommon thing for a combatant to leave a nose or an ear behind on the arena, and when Burydamas of Cyrene had his teeth broken he calmly swallowed them and made no sign lest his opponent should chuckle and grow more confident of success.

The wrestling, too, was conducted on equally strenuous lines. It was often a struggle to the death, as in that terrible bout between Arrachion and his antagonist Arrachion was on the point of being strangled when by a last desperate effort he broke off one of his opponent's toes and won a dramatic victory. It was dear, won, however, for at the very moment of his triumph he died, and the crown of olive was placed on his corpse.

ONLY ONE QUADRUPLE PLAY MADE

Veteran Baseball Fan Recalls a Freak Made in 1876

As far as baseball history goes, there was but one quadruple play ever made. Triple plays are made every year, and there have been unassisted triple plays, but there was just one quadruple play, and there may never be another.

Under the rules now governing baseball the opportunity for a four killing could never happen. The quadruple play was made a generation ago, and few of those who saw it are now in the land of the living. According to Ben Dodson, an old time fan, who was present on the memorable occasion, it took place in New York in 1876, and saved a game for the old Metropolitans of that ancient time.

"As nearly as I can recollect," says Mr. Dodson, "the Chicago club wanted to catch a train. They had a custom in those days—it was last repeated as late as 1892 in the National league—of letting the underdog take two or three bunched innings, if so agreed, thus saving time, as the winning team didn't go to bat at all."

"If any one disputes this assertion they can find by looking through the files of 1892 an instance where the Chicago team permitted an adversary to bat for three successive at-bats, as though each round had been the last half of the ninth for the victorious club."

"On this occasion New York had the best of it by a tab of 9 to 3, and it seemed a cinch to put out the game, even allowing the enemy to take the eighth and ninth in a bunch. But the Chicago team rallied desperately, and it began to look as if, according to the understood agreement, the Mets would have to take their unused innings after all."

"The hits came in bunches. Chicago had driven in five runs. Two men out, bases full and four to be put out ere the seance could legally close."

"The batsman drove a furious liner knee high across the diamond. Covering short for the Mets that day was a little stocky fellow named Gaskins, who afterward became a star of the early Glouts."

"The ball sailed to Gaskins. It seemed to drive his hands back as though they had been struck with a mallet, but nevertheless, with his wrists back between his knees, Gaskins held that ball."

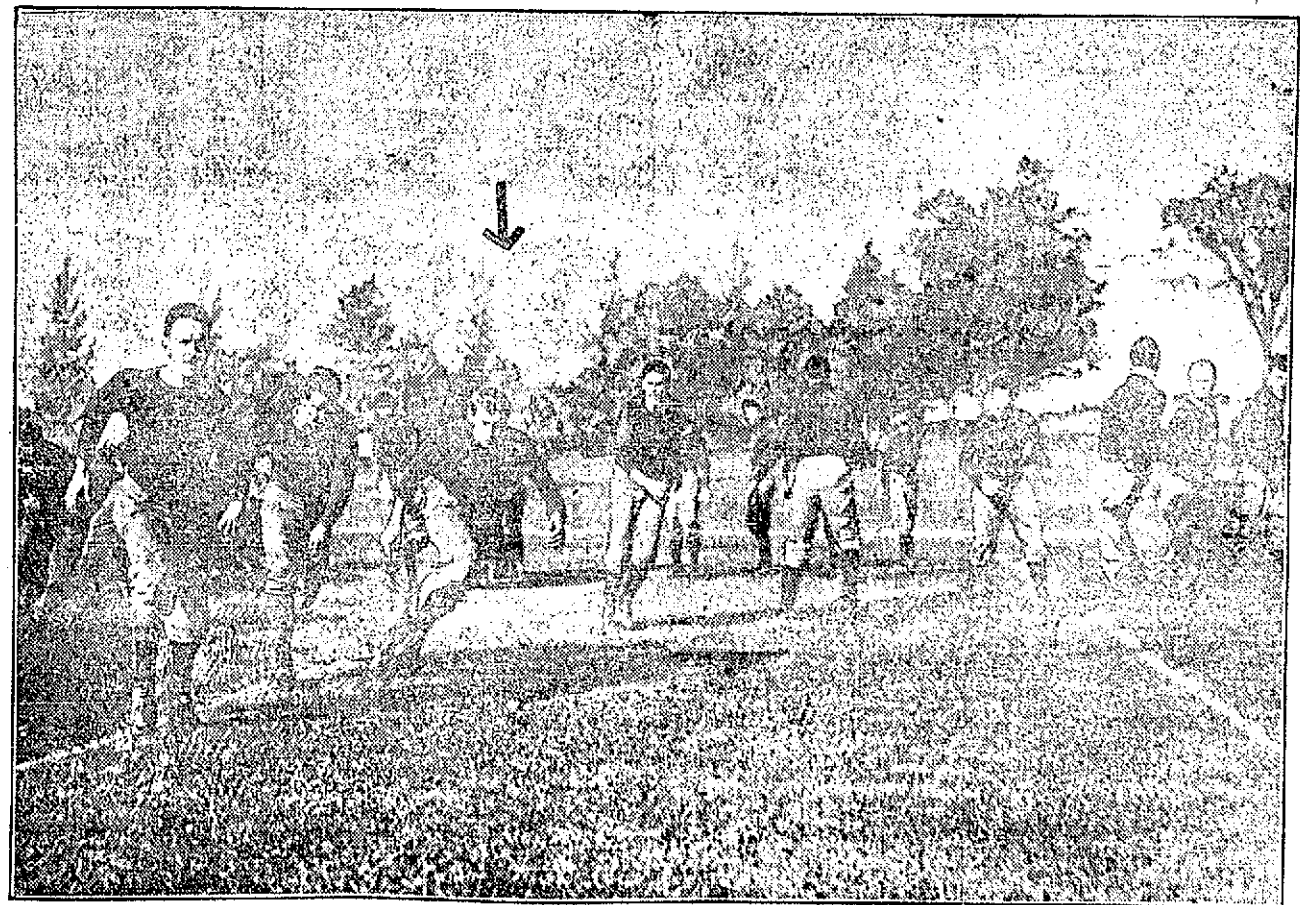

"Like a flash he touched second, getting a runner who had left the middle station. He fired across to first, and the man who had been on the initial bag was pinned. The first baseman chucked over to third, and a runner who had been sliding for the plate arose to learn that he was out and that the quadruple play had been completed."

"It was so long ago and the games were so poorly recorded in those days that even the story of the four killing has passed from authentic archives. Nevertheless it happened, and doubtless the few old time players who were in that game could recollect the details."

"All I myself can clearly remember after all these years is this: That the circumstances were as I have said, that the quadruple play was really made and that it was an obscure infielder named Gaskins who pulled down that ball."

The Stanley Hockey Cup.

They are having a peculiar time with the Stanley cup in Canada. The Wanderers of Montreal won it last season, and that organization is no longer an active body. The trustees of the trophy do not just know how to transfer the cup to Mr. Doran, who seems to be the entire Wanderers' club at present, and at the same time give credit to the players who captured the trophy.

YALE'S LIGHT BACK FIELD MEN PRACTICING QUICK STARTS

Under the new football code speed is necessary in the back field on account of the unlimited use of the forward pass and the rule which permits the man first receiving the ball from the snapper back to advance it at once. In the "reformed" rules which were in effect from 1906 to this season the speedy man became more of a star than ever before in the history of the game, while under the further improved code speed will be even more of a requisite. The old time heavy and plugging back field men is a thing of the past. The up to date back field warrior is no longer a gladiator, but a keen, scientific swordman, looking for every possible opening and driving his thrust home with a spion dilly developed right arm. Illustration shows the Yale backs at practice. Arrow shows Howe, last year's quarterback and in several games this year, who made regular fullback. He would have been considered impossible for that position last year on account of his weight, but this season he seems to be fit.

IN POLICE COURT "CAESAR" IS DEAD

Cash Register Agent Not Guilty on Larceny Charge

Alfred Moeheger appeared before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with the larceny of $15 from Wilfred Blouin. The case was tried during the early part of the week but disposition was continued until today in order that the reliability of the testimony of the defendant might be heard. Lawyer James B. O'Donnell appeared for the defendant and two witnesses had been examined the court found the defendant not guilty and ordered that he be discharged.

The case was brought before the court on the fact that it was alleged that the defendant sold the complainant a cash register, Moeheger claiming to be a representative of the American Cash Register company. It was testified in court that the complainant gave the defendant a check for $25 and the latter gave the complainant $10 in cash. It was stated that the check was cashed but that the cash register did not appear in Blouin's store.

George S. Knowles, a salesman for the American Cash Register Co., when placed on the stand, said that he knew the defendant and had done business with him. He said that he had had a talk with Blouin after attempting to negotiate for sales in this city.

The court after considering the evidence in the case found the defendant not guilty and ordered him discharged.

He Came Back

John Cushing, who appeared before the court yesterday morning, was back in the dock again this morning, but he will not appear in the dock again for several months for he will spend the next few months at the state farm in Bridgewater. Cushing blew into Lowell, or rather came in on a train, the day before yesterday and at that time he had $90 in his pocket. The night before last when he was placed under arrest it was found that he had but forty dollars. When he appeared in court yesterday morning he explained to the court that he had been up in northern New Hampshire and promised if given a chance he would leave Lowell, and on that condition he was placed on probation, but it seems that he was so elated over his temporary discharge that he bumped up against the first swinging door he came across and as a result of what followed he was arrested last night. While he wanted to talk to the court this morning after it was found that the prisoner had spent $11 from the time he left

'The Best 50c Underwear

IN LOWELL, AT THE

Merrimack CLOTHING COMPANY

Across from City Hall

Winter Prescription Service

Just as at all other times—only the best. Our over-growing prescription trade has brought this department of our store to the point of perfection.

Physicians feel confident that we give the patient exactly what the prescription calls for. Our prices are moderate and reasonable, and often far below the prices charged elsewhere.

"Let Us Fill Your Prescriptions."

F. J. CAMPBELL

Prescription Druggist

Two Stores—Tower's Cor. Drug Store, and 535 Dutton, Cor. Fletcher St.

W. A. LEWIS

Steam Dying and

Cleansing Works

FOR MEN AND WOMEN

49 John St. Morris Block

F. W. Cragin & Co.

MANUFACTURERS OF

Cabinet Work of All Kinds to Order

Stores and offices fitted up. Wood turning, repairing and finishing, new furniture made to order.

100 Fletcher Street

LOWELL, MASS. Telephone

R. J. FLYNN, Auctioneer,

104 Central Street.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF STOCK AND FIXTURES OF THE GROCERY

BUTCHER SHOP, LOCATED AT 23 FRONT STREET, ON

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 22, AT 2 O'CLOCK.

I will sell at public auction the stock and fixtures of the above mentioned shop to the highest bidder. The stock consists of canned goods, groceries and meat benches, and every necessary fixture and supply of a first-class grocer and butcher shop.

Per order

STANISLAW SURBERSKI, Mortgagee.

DR. TEMPLE'S TREATMENT

For Chronic and Nervous Diseases of Men and Women.

Dr. Temple's Treatment has cured thousands of people; among them were the worst cases of Cancer, Tumors, Catarrh, Chronic Diseases of the Lungs, Nerves, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bladder, and Rectum, that it is possible to meet. Unfortunately, suffering people, many who had practically given up all hope of ever being cured, those who had been doctored and doctored and were still sick, were cured by Dr. Temple's Treatment.

Acute and Chronic Blood and Nervous Diseases of Men and Women, Typhoid, Varicella, Stricture, Kidney, Bladder, Prostatic Diseases, Piles, Gleet, Gonorrhea, Ulcers and all Rooted in Diseases Without the Use of the Knife. Diseases of the Eyes, Ears, Nose, Throat and Skin, Epilepsy and all Nervous Diseases except Insanity.

97 CENTRAL ST., MANSUR BLOCK, LOWELL, MASS.

Hours: Wednesdays, 2 to 5, 7 to 8. Sundays, 10 to 12.

FREE—Consultation, Examination, Advice—FREE.

DR. TEMPLE'S TREATMENT

For Chronic and Nervous Diseases of Men and Women.

Dr. Temple's Treatment has cured thousands of people; among them were the worst cases of Cancer, Tumors, Catarrh, Chronic Diseases of the Lungs, Nerves, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bladder, and Rectum, that it is possible to meet. Unfortunately, suffering people, many who had practically given up all hope of ever being cured, those who had been doctored and doctored and were still sick, were cured by Dr. Temple's Treatment.

Acute and Chronic Blood and Nervous Diseases of Men and Women, Typhoid, Varicella, Stricture, Kidney, Bladder, Prostatic Diseases, Piles, Gleet, Gonorrhea, Ulcers and all Rooted in Diseases Without the Use of the Knife. Diseases of the Eyes, Ears, Nose, Throat and Skin, Epilepsy and all Nervous Diseases except Insanity.

97 CENTRAL ST., MANSUR BLOCK, LOWELL, MASS.

Hours: Wednesdays, 2 to 5, 7 to 8. Sundays, 10 to 12.

FREE—Consultation, Examination, Advice—FREE.

DR. TEMPLE'S TREATMENT

For Chronic and Nervous Diseases of Men and Women.

Dr. Temple's Treatment has cured thousands of people; among them were the worst cases of Cancer, Tumors, Catarrh, Chronic Diseases of the Lungs, Nerves, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bladder, and Rectum, that it is possible to meet. Unfortunately, suffering people, many who had practically given up all hope of ever being cured, those who had been doctored and doctored and were still sick, were cured by Dr. Temple's Treatment.

Acute and Chronic Blood and Nervous Diseases of Men and Women, Typhoid, Varicella, Stricture, Kidney, Bladder, Prostatic Diseases, Piles, Gleet, Gonorrhea, Ulcers and all Rooted in Diseases Without the Use of the Knife. Diseases of the Eyes, Ears, Nose, Throat and Skin, Epilepsy and all Nervous Diseases except Insanity.

97 CENTRAL ST., MANSUR BLOCK, LOWELL, MASS.

Hours: Wednesdays, 2 to 5, 7 to 8. Sundays, 10 to 12.

FREE—Consultation, Examination, Advice—FREE.

GREAT DANE "CAESAR" VICTIM OF POISONING.

A Prince Among Dogs Has Been Poisoned

"Caesar," Bob Paradis' big Great Dane, the best known and perhaps most popular dog in Lowell, is dead, as the result of strychnine poisoning, supposed to have been administered by some person who was either afraid of the animal or whose garbage barrel had been upset a few times.

Mr. Paradis would give something to learn the identity of the poisoner, but doubtless never will find out who laid poor "Caesar" low.

"Caesar" was one of those dogs, undoubtedly that inspired the celebrated eulogy of Senator Vest, on a dog, for he was a most companionable brute, and though one of the largest dogs in Lowell, was one of the most harmless. Children could crawl and haul him to their hearts' content and he never showed anger, while he was the beloved of all the cats in the neighborhood, for he protected them from the assaults of other dogs and would never forget his gentleness in dealing with their presence.

Last Sunday "Caesar" suddenly became violently ill, and developed paralysis of the lower jaw. Mr. Paradis summoned Dr. Eaton, the well known veterinary to diagnose the case and the latter after an examination stated that the dog was suffering from either strychnine or phosphorus poisoning. "Caesar" was unable to eat and that was the best evidence in the world that he was ill. He was kept at home and tenderly nursed until Tuesday when he appeared to feel good and was permitted to leave the house. Mr. Paradis supposed that he would make for his home down town, but he never returned.

But from the time he left the house, "Caesar" was never seen again alive. When he didn't appear home that night, Mr. Paradis notified the police and all patrolmen were notified to be on the lookout for him. None ever saw him for it appears that upon leaving home he wandered out into the country. Tuesday evening he appeared in Dunstable running along the road with his head almost touching the ground and the people who saw him imagined that he was suffering with the rabies and gave him a wide berth. He ran into the yard of a man named Curtin. The latter offered him food and something to drink but he couldn't take them and wagging his tail appreciatively started away again in the direction of Pepperell.

On Wednesday evening he appeared in Pepperell at the home of Miss Ruth Wilson. It was seen that the animal was suffering great pain and the members of Miss Wilson's family probably attracted by the unusual size and extreme docility of the dog gave him every attention, remaining up most of the night to attend to him and giving him a good bed and the homely remedies that suggested themselves to them. Thursday morning "Caesar" wagged his tail vigorously at his new found friends and started off through the fields. Later in the day a farm hand found his dead body in the field.

Everybody in Lowell knew "Caesar" and although he was only a dog he was an exceedingly good fellow as dogs go and he will be genuinely mourned and missed by his immediate friends.

"Caesar" was a Great Dane of the "fawn" type. He was over two years old, and during that time no dog was seen as often or attracted as much attention in Lowell as "Caesar." "Caesar" was "Sport II" owned by Joseph Gagnon in Dora.

JUDGE J. J. FEELY

Addressed Company K,

Sixth Regiment

The members of Co. K, Sixth regiment held a stag party at the armory last evening that was the most enjoyable affair that has been held there in a long time. A hustling entertainment committee consisting of Corporal S. R. Waller, chairman, Private Ralph Hickey and Private Taylor had full charge of the affair and they "did themselves proud" in arranging the program.

The guest of the evening was Judge Advocate Joseph J. Feely, of Boston who spoke on "The History of the Militia of Massachusetts Colony and State," and he traced the growth of the organization from the time of its inception in 1638 to the present.

Judge Feely spoke of the difficulties attending early efforts at organization and mentioned some of the objections advanced by the opponents of the military idea.

"Too much frolicking," was given as one reason, while a more serious objection to the militia was that advanced by farmers and manufacturers that it took up too much time of their employees.

Judge Feely emphasized the fact that the Massachusetts militia has enjoyed the distinction of leading all other states in the Union.

One of the most enjoyable features of the evening was the first appearance of Co. K's new orchestra which made a pronounced hit. Co. K probably enjoys the distinction of being the only military company in the state to have its own orchestra. The orchestra consists of Corp. S. R. Waller, leader and piano; Warren White, 1st violin; Priv. Frank Huntley, 2d violin; 1st Sgt. Sheldon, flute; Musician Jefferson, 1st cornet; Corp. Edgar Luce, 2d cornet; Musician W. Carl, drums. Mr. White gave several acceptable violin solos.

A lunch was served. Judge Feely was present when the members of Company K were put through a drill by Capt. James N. Greig, and at the close of the drill, Judge Feely said the company compared favorably with other companies that he had seen in manual tactics in Massachusetts.

REP. THOMAS RILEY

WILL ADDRESS CELTIC ASSO.

CIATIES TOMORROW

Rep. Thomas P. Riley of Malden, the leader of the democratic minority in the legislature, and who made such a favorable impression in this city as a lecturer before the Knights of Columbus and as a campaign speaker in the recent Pass rallies, will lecture at the great of the Celtic Association in Matthews hall, Dutton street tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. All are welcome.

LOTUS QUARTET

ENTERTAINED LOWELL TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

The Lowell Teachers association held a meeting in High school hall yesterday afternoon, and enjoyed an excellent program by the Lotus Quartet. This quartet sang at the recent teachers' convention in Boston, and made a tremendous hit. The personnel of the quartet is as follows: Robert Martin, first tenor; William Hicks, second tenor; Nelson Raymond, baritone; Frank Cannell, basso; and Helene Perley, accompanist.

The following program was given, and augmented by many encores:

Lotus Quartet.

"Song of the South".....Brell

Mr. Hicks.

"The Lotus Flower".....Arens

Lotus Quartet.

"Gloria".....Buzzi-Seccia

Mr. Raymond.

INTERMISSION.

"Misericordia" (from "Il Trovatore") Verdi

Lotus Quartet.

"Conquered".....St. Quentin

Lotus Quartet.

"Remember Now Thy Creator" Rhodes

Lotus Quartet.

Mr. A. L. Bacheller, who was a delegate from the association to meet with a committee in Boston representing the state federation of teachers, now being formed, recommended that the Lowell teachers' organization join the state federation. The recommendation was accepted.

SEN. ELKINS IMPROVED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Senator

Elkins of West Virginia, who was brought here recently suffering from a severe illness, was reported today as being improved. Mrs. Elkins and Miss Katherine Elkins, their daughter, who was with the senator at their West Virginia home, are now in Washington and expect to remain here until there is a change in the senator's condition.

LOST AND FOUND

ROLL OF BILLS containing couple of tens and the remainder in ones and twos, and in all amounting to $22 lost Saturday morning Nov. 19, between 6 Stackpole st. and Talbot mills, probably on the subway reward. Finder to return to the Sun office.

PAIR OF EYE GLASSES lost between 16 Albion st. and Paige st. Reward for return to McSorley's, 348 Bridge st.

SUM OF MONEY found near Davis square. Owner can have same by proving property and paying for this adv. at 25 Butler ave.

SMALL BLACK POCKETBOOK lost Tuesday night between Gorham st. and Oakdale toward at 673 Gorham st. or tel. 1547-4.

FOX TERRIER, four mos. old, lost white body with black head. Strayed from 226 Fletcher st. Reward for its return.

AUTOMOBILE HOOD lost Monday night, Nov. 7, on Stevens st. between Chalmers and Jovina sts.; made of sheet iron, painted red. Reward for its return to F. X. A. Hurlbut, 100 Port Hill ave.

FOUND—The place to get your baby carriage tires put on while you wait, the each. At 256 Bridge st. O. F. Pringle.

QUICK LOANS

To Housekeepers and Workingmen

HOUSEHOLD LOAN CO.

Wyman's Exchange, Cor. Merrimack and Central Sts.

Fifth floor. Take Elevator. Rooms 503 and 505

MON. FRI. AND SATURDAY EVENINGS UNTIL 9 O'CLOCK

$5 THE $10 LOANS at

EQUITABLE LOAN

$15 CO. $25

Loaned without security. No waits, no investigations or red tape.

Business strictly confidential. Two private offices, most liberal terms.

of any company in Lowell. Payable in small weekly payments.

Office 57 Hildreth Building, on one flight, at head of stairs. Open every evening. 45 Merrimack street.

$10 and Upwards

Settle Those Annoying Bills POSITIVELY NO PUBLICITY GET A LOAN FROM US—LOWEST RATES

Small Weekly or Monthly Payments Accepted. Courteous employees. Private rooms for free consultation. If you cannot call we will send an agent.

HOUSEHOLD LOAN CO.

Wyman's Exchange, Cor. Merrimack and Central Sts.

Fifth floor. Take Elevator. Rooms 503 and 505

MON. FRI. AND SATURDAY EVENINGS UNTIL 9 O'CLOCK

$5 THE $10 LOANS at

EQUITABLE LOAN

$15 CO. $25

Loaned without security. No waits, no investigations or red tape.

Business strictly confidential. Two private offices, most liberal terms.

of any company in Lowell. Payable in small weekly payments.

Office 57 Hildreth Building, on one flight, at head of stairs. Open every evening. 45 Merrimack street.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE

FORTE DE FRANCE, Martinique, Nov. 18.—A severe earth shock moving from the north southwest was experienced here last midnight. No damage was done.

COUNT TOLSTOI IMPROVED

ASTAPOVA, Russia, Nov. 18.—At noon the physicians attending, Count Leo Tolstois issued the following statement:

"The condition of Count Tolstois improved during the night. His temperature is 98.9; respiration good, but the patient continues weak."

ROYAL ARCANUM BOWLERS

The opening game of the Royal Arcanum Bowling league will take place next Monday night, when Lowell council and Rochambeau council meet on the Vesper Boat club alleys. It is expected that there will be a large attendance.

HELP WANTED

TWO EXPERIENCED TABLE GIRLS wanted. Apply Quincy House, 63 Lee st.

THREE DRESSERS TENIERS wanted for night work. Apply Musketalia Mills, 131 Davidson st.

MAN WANTED on level belt glazing machine. Apply Lowell-Leather Co., Lawrence st.

YOUNG LADY or gentleman wanted to work in restaurant room four. Must be of good appearance. Address D. B. Sun Office.

FIRST CLASS BOSS STARCHER wanted for a bleachery and finishing works. Must have experience in back finishing. Address S. B. Sun Office.

FREE—Handsome 18 piece set decorated dishes. Sell in 100 bottles Violet Perfume. Address Perfume, Sun Office.

CARPENTER, brick and stone mason wanted for 4-tenement house. Contract or day job. Apply A. M. Torigan, 125 Charles st.

EXPERIENCED BURLERS wanted on plain and fancy work. Call or write Sidney Blumenthal & Co., Mill No. 2, Shelton Conn.

576 RAILWAY—Customs, internal revenue, railway mail clerks wanted. Of spring examinations in Lowell now ready. Preparation free. Franklin Institute, Dept. 144, Rochester, N. Y.

EXPERIENCED GIRL wanted for general housework in family of two. Must be a good cook. Apply at Sun Office.

YOUNG MAN wanted to work in market and on delivery team. State age, experience and where formerly employed. Address S. B. Sun Office.

ABLE BODIED MEN wanted, for the U. S. army corps, between the ages of 19 and 35. Must be native born or have 51 papers. Monthly pay $15 to $25. Additional compensation possible. Food, clothing, rail fares and medical attendance free. After 20 years' service can retire with 75 per cent of pay and allowances. Service on board ship and ashore in all parts of the world. Apply at U. S. Marine Corps, Recruiting Office, Room 15, Runnels Bldg., Lowell, Mass.

Wanted

Closers-on, Stayers, Closers, Women's Shoes. Millar & Wolfer, Webster Ave., Chelsea, Mass.

WANTED

I WISH TO BUY a good square piano at once. I have $100.00. I will pay for it, from whom I can get the best bargain in high grade upright pianos. Call at once.

WANTED TO BUY all kinds of new and second hand furniture in large or small lots. Come and see me before going elsewhere. I will pay you. F. J. Green, 72 Middlesex st., Phone 922-1.

SEAMSTRESS—Will go out by the day or take work home. Children's clothes, ladies' underwear and babies' laundry. Fair and reasonable prices. Mrs. J. C. Crawford, Room 69, Bon Marche block.

SECOND HAND FURNITURE wanted. Highest cash prices paid at P. J. Custy's furniture store, 468 Central st.

FOR SALE

ONE TWO-SEATED CARRIAGE, a demerol wagon and Concord wagon for sale. Inquire 1408 Lakeview ave.

COMPLETE ELEGANT FURNISHINGS of 5-room modern tenement, bath, gas, as a whole or by piece. Good location for parties desiring a home. Low rent. Address X. T. Sun Office.

BOARDING HOUSE for sale, 15 chambers, at 88 John st.

LONGING HOUSE of 14 rooms for rent. All full. Good location; steam heat. Call 261 Appleton st.

RESTAURANT and lunch for sale; doing good business; best location; reasonable offer will buy it. Call 197 Main st., Nashua, N. H.

CUSTOM MADE HATMAKING for sale. Address C. M. H. Sun office.

LEGAL NOTICES

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. Middlesex ss. Probate Court. To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, creditors and all persons who may be interested in the estate of William F. Lewis, late of Chelmsford, in said County deceased, I, the undersigned, clerk of said Court, do hereby give notice that a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, and that the Court has ordered that the said petition be heard on the 27th day of November, A. D. 1910, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, at the Court house in the County of Middlesex, without giving a surety on his bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the 27th day of November, A. D. 1910, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioners are hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be on the day, at least, before said Court. Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, Clerk of said Court, this seventeenth day of November, in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten. W. B. ROGERS, Register.

TO LET

GOOD BARN to let for horses or autos, at 339 High st. M. J. Cahill.

FURNISHED FRONT ROOM to let, furnace heat. Inquire at 207 Appleton st.

TENEMENT of 7 rooms on Methuen st. to let; bath, hot water, gas, good room for auto. Henry Miller & Son, 202, 910 Wyman's Exchange.

5-ROOM DOWN STAIRS FLAT to let at 35 Pond st. All modern improvements. Inquire Hagan Bros, 93 Concord st.

LARGE SUNNY FRONT ROOM to let; also suite of sunny rooms to let; Gas, bath, hot and cold water. 587 Fletcher st. Lower right hand bell.

STORE TO LET Apply 84 Alken ave.

FIRST CLASS TABLE BOARD and rooms to let. 112 State st. Inquire at 145 Cushing st. or 4

HARVARD - YALE

YALE'S GAME FIGHT

New Haven Men Put up Great Battle Against Harvard

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 19.—The eyes of forty thousand intensely enthusiastic spectators, the minds of the American sporting world in general, and the college world in particular, were focused today on some 9000 square yards of chalked turf on Yale field, where Yale and Harvard struggled once more for the football championship of the country.

Seldom in the history of the game which these two colleges introduced into this country in the early seventies has interest been aroused to such a degree, and never have there been quite so many questions to be settled as in today's game.

Of course there was the all-important one of winning a contest toward which both teams have bent their energies and thought for more than two months. But fully as important to the minds of many was the question whether the latest modifications of the rugby game are practical and shall stand.

From the Yale side of the field came the query whether a team such as Yale has been turned at New Haven this year, gathering many bitter reverses, could gather sufficient speed and football knowledge in its later days to wrest victory in its supreme test.

Friends of Harvard were equally eager to see whether an aggregation like that proposed at Cambridge this year, and which went through its preliminary training without defeat, could continue its victorious career.

Kans of football came here today, eager for a glimpse of new formations, new lines of strategy, new problems to be met and mastered in a few seconds.

While from another viewpoint, and that was mostly feminine, it was the picture, the excitement and the thrill of seeing thousands of wildly enthusiastic collegians singing and cheering, that proved the attraction.

All these and many more brought thousands upon thousands into the city today, sent there streaming through the streets amid swaying blue and crimson flags and finally massed them, tier upon tier, as the afternoon sun began to decline.

It was ideal football weather, both for players and spectators. The November sun had its customary crispness, an incentive to active exercise, while, bundled up in heavy clothing, it was a pleasure to sit on hard seats.

Both teams spent the night in the foothills of the state, far away from the excitement, and did not come to the city until noon. Even then they kept well under cover and off the beaten track, jammed by that time by a procession that had the field as its head and which stretched back two miles to the railroad station.

Eager for Battle
Every man was reported and declared himself to be in the fittest condition, ready and eager for the game of his life.

The football crowd reached New Haven mostly by rail. Nearly forty special trains rolled into the station, while a score of private specials from both New York and Boston, together with many private cars, were sliced-tracked in the freight yards.

Then there was the motor contingent which chugged into town from the east, north and west, until just before the game it was estimated that there were many millions of dollars represented in the broad parking places off Derby avenue. Someone was heard to say that perhaps by another year the management may have to arrange hangars for the aeroplanes.

The main spectacle army advanced on the city just before noon and, after snatching a hasty bite, headed for the game.

The last contest on Yale field, two years ago, Harvard won by a single field goal 4 to 0. This was the first Crimson victory since 1901 at Cambridge. Harvard also won here in 1898 and at Springfield in 1890, but the other games have been gone to Yale.

The colleges did not play in 1895 and 1896, while in the 1907 and 1909 games neither scored.

The lineup in today's games was as follows:

Yale	Harvard
Kilpatrick	Le Felton
Scully	McKay
Fuller	lg Minot
Morris	c Perkins
Paul	rt Withington
McDevitt	rg Bisher
Brooks	ra L. Smith
Howe	qb Wigglesworth
Field	lb Corbett
Field	rbh T. Frothingham
Kistler	fb Leslie

Officials: Referee—W. S. Langford, Trinity. Umpire—David L. Fultz, Brown. Field judge—J. B. Fendleton, Brown. Head line-man—W. N. Morris, Pennsylvania. Time—15-minute periods.

Harvard Men Entertained

Yale did the honors at lunch today with almost boundless hospitality. Nearly all the clubs were thrown open to the Crimson spectator army and special dining rooms afforded ample opportunity for a quiet repast before the game. Every student had guests and strangers with only the slightest evidence of a Crimson mark were made as welcome as those more gorgeously arrayed. All these facilities, as well as those for the rest and comfort of the older graduates and their families, were on a far more extensive scale than ever before.

Perhaps the most picturesque sight of the hours before the game was the advance on the city of the automobile contingent with flying colors. There was scarcely a car in New Haven today that did not flaunt a Blue or Crimson banner, while many were decorated as if for a fête.

Fakirs plied a lively trade along Chapel street with banners, miniature footballs, sleevebands and gift buildings, while violets and red chrysanthemums soared up to the top prices.

The Red and Blue tides turned fieldward at noon but the gates to the enclosure were kept closed until 12:30 o'clock.

Betting was lively during the morning. Yale men being willing to cover at the odds of 2 to 1. Other wagering was on the result of the score and Harvard men took even bets that Yale would not score. Harvard men later

CAPT. WITHINGTON,
Harvard.

forced up the figure to 8 to 5 that Yale would not score.

Harvard was the first to dash on the field at 1:37 and immediately the Crimson stands burst into cheers and waving of flags. After a cheer for the team and its captain there was an exchange of compliments. Harvard cheering their opponents and then Yale cheered Harvard.

The players felt a stiff breeze blowing from the north goal giving the team on that side of the field considerable advantage. This was somewhat counteracted by the players on the other side of the field having the sun in their eyes. Yale came on the field at 1:50 and was greeted by tremendous bursts from the Blue side of the stand. The two captains then met in the center of the field to call the turn of the coin.

Harvard Won Toss

Harvard won the toss and took the north goal and the wind, giving Yale the kickoff.

Howe kicked off to Corbett on Harvard's five yard line and the halfback dashed it back fifteen yards before he was thrown. After Frothingham had made five yards through center, Felton kicked to Yale's 50 yard line. There was a Yale fumble but the Blue kept the ball. Yale tried Harvard's center on goal and then Howe kicked to Corbett, who ran it back 35 yards to the center of the field before he was thrown. Leslie tore Yale's center for 15 yards and then Felton kicked over the baseline. Yale lost five yards on the first down after the ball had been brought out and kicked to the center of the field. Corbett made 12 yards outside of tackle, and Leslie followed by planting the ball on Yale's 42 yard line.

Wigglesworth made an outside kick which rolled outside on Yale's seven yard line. Yale kicked on the first down and Wigglesworth fumbled it on Yale's 45 yard line, the ball going through center and then Yale tried a wing shift which Harvard stopped after a gain of one yard. Howe immediately kicked out of bounds on Harvard's 40 yard line, the ball being partially blocked. Frothingham made 5 yards inside of tackle, then Felton kicked to Yale's 20 yard line, where there was another Yale fumble but the Blue kept the ball after a hard scramble. Fields was slightly hurt, but resumed play.

Yale tried another wing shift, but there came a penalty which sent the Blue back 15 yards for use of hands. Howe kicked from behind his own goal line to the 50 yard line and Wigglesworth fumbled, but managed to fall on the ball.

Harvard Losses

On the first down Harvard was sent back 15 yards for holding. Felton kicked to Howe on the 30 yard line and the quarterback ran it back seven yards. There came a tackleback play for Yale which gained only a yard.

Then Howe kicked to Frothingham on Harvard's 38 yard line. Leslie failed to gain and Harvard lost 6 yards for off-side play. Felton kicked to Howe on Yale's 20 yard line and the little quarterback ran it back 15 yards by marvelous dodging. Fields made five yards and then came a kick to Wigglesworth on Harvard's 38 yard line. Wigglesworth made several yards on a quarterback run. Then Leslie plunged through center and put the ball on Harvard's 54 yard line for a first down. Corbett made a yard and then Felton kicked over the base line. The ball was brought out to the 25 yard line and Yale, by one of her wing shifts, gained 8 yards on a fine dash by Fields. Howe, by a quarterback run, made it a first down on the 35 yard line. Howe then kicked to Corbett on Harvard's 38 yard line. Frothingham made three yards through center. The period ended with the ball in Harvard's possession on her 45 yard line.

In the first period Harvard reached Yale's 42 yard line but Yale was nearer than 54 yards from the crimson goal. The teams changed sides for the second period, Yale having the benefit of the breeze.

Wendell's Great Gains

It was Harvard's ball on her 47 yard line and Felton immediately kicked to Howe on the 25 yard line, the ball being run back 7 yards. Howe kicked to Wigglesworth on Harvard's 46 yard line. Corbett made a fine dash through center but dropped the ball and it was Yale's ball in the center of the field. Then came a Yale penalty of 15 yards for holding. Fields dashed around Harvard's right end for 25 yards and planted the ball on Harvard's 46 yard line for a first down. Daly could not gain but dropped the ball and it was Harvard's ball on the 46 yard line. Wendell took Frothingham's place.

Wendell plunged through the Yale team for 8 yards. Wendell was given the ball again and made it a first down on Yale's 53 yard line. Once more Wendell was given the ball for a five yard gain. For a fifth time Wendell made the run, this time for a first down on Yale's 58 yard line. Corbett made five yards outside of tackle and Wendell made 15 yards but the ball was brought back to the 45 yard line on a Harvard holding penalty.

Wendell's Great Playing

Wendell made 3 yards. Then Wigglesworth made an outside kick to Yale's 14 yard line, where Howe was thrown without gain. Howe kicked to Wigglesworth on Harvard's 38 yard line. Corbett, on a fake kick, made two yards around left end. A forward pass to the center of the field failed and the ball went to Yale. Howe punted to Corbett on Harvard's 30 yard line. A Harvard man was nailed without gain. Corbett made a yard through center. Then Wendell, on a fake kick, plunged through to the 30 yard line for a first down.

Wendell made two yards outside of tackle and then Wendell was called upon for another of his wiggling plunges and planted the ball on Yale's 38 yard line. Almot was called upon and made an outside kick which Smith of Harvard recovered on Yale's 48 yard line. Potier went in for Wigglesworth. Corbett squirmed through and was not thrown until he was on Yale's 38 yard line for a first down, the nearest up to that time that either team had reached either goal. On a fake kick Wendell was thrown and then came a long forward pass back to the 28 yard line.

Harvard had to kick and Howe got the ball on the Yale five yard line. He kicked on the first down to Yale's 45 yard line. An incomplete forward pass lost Harvard five yards. Potier kicked to Yale's 28 yard line and Howe on a quarterback run around right end made five yards. Howe punted Potier on Harvard's 43 yard line. Potier tried an outside kick, but it rolled out of bounds on Yale's 40 yard line and there the second period ended.

Summary of first two periods:

Harvard's Great Offense

Neither Harvard nor Yale had power to reach striking distance of each other's goal line in the first two periods of their game today. Yet Harvard showed a better offense and was four times inside of Yale's 40 yard line and once had the ball on the line's 28 yard line. On the other hand Yale was never nearer the Crimson goal than Harvard's 46 yard line.

Except for the first few minutes, when both backfields were somewhat nervous and uncertain, the game proved very fast and developed some interesting bits of strategy. Few of Yale's gains, however, were productive of what went in for Frothingham at right halfback for Harvard made five rushing yards in his tumbling manner for a distance of 33 yards, the longest steady gain by either team in the first two periods. Harvard tried three forward passes, one of which came off but failed to gain more than 5 yards.

At the end of the second period Harvard had acquired the greatest respect for the Yale team while the Blue was overjoyed that it had held the Crimson so far to a no score.

Third Period

In the third period Wigglesworth went back to quarter for Harvard and Childs took Fuller's place for Yale. Wendell ran the kick-off back 25 yards to the 32 yard line. After Corbett had made three yards he kicked to Yale's 28 yard line. Kilpatrick made 12 yards through center on Yale's favorite tackleback play. Kistler made 3 more yards on the same play and Daly made another 7 yards to Yale's 47 yard line. After a short gain Harvard was offside and it was Yale's ball for a first down on Harvard's 53 yard line. Then came a Yale fumble and the ball went to Harvard on her 48 yard line. Corbett did not gain around left end. Morrison took Leslie's place at fullback for Harvard. Corbett kicked on the first down to Yale's 35 yard line. Daly, through center, made 12 yards on another of Yale's favorite tackle plays but on the next down Field could not gain. Field was thrown back for a loss of 6 yards and Howe kicked to Corbett on Harvard's 45 yard line and the Crimson halfback dashed back to Yale's 43 yard line before he was downed. Wendell made 3 yards through center and then 7 yards more by a skin tackle and it was Harvard's ball on Yale's 32 yard line for a first down. Morrison made 2 yards and Wendell 1 yard on Yale's 28 yard line. Wigglesworth tried a forward pass, the ball going to Yale on her 15 yard line. Daly was thrown back for a loss of 2 yards. Fields could not gain on the third down and Howe kicked to Wigglesworth on the 45 yard line and the ball was run back to Yale's 35 yard line. Graustein takes Corbett's place. Wendell made 5 yards through center and then Lewis dropped back for a try at a goal from the field, but it was a poor attempt and Howe caught the ball on his 10 yard line and ran it back eight yards. Harvard lost five yards for penalty, and it was Yale's ball on the 25 yard line. Daly made eight yards through center. Field made it a first down on Yale's 40 yard line. Kistler could not gain on a wing shift around right end, but Daly made two yards. Howe kicked to Harvard's 50 yard line, and he caught it, running it back 10 yards. Daly made eight yards through center. Field made it a first down to the center of the field. Just as the period ended with the ball in Harvard's possession on Harvard's 53 yard line there was excitement in the Yale stand through some of the woodwork catching fire, but a chemical engine stream on the ground soon put it out.

CAPTAIN DALY,
Yale.

Fourth Period

The fourth period began with Harvard having the ball just over the center line. Corbett took Graustein's place and made five yards on a double pass. Wendell made six more and a first down on Yale's 42 yard line. Corbett made two yards and Wendell four yards around the left end. Wigglesworth kicked to Howe on his two yard line. Howe kicked out of bounds on his own 28 yard line, where Harvard got the ball. Wendell made five yards and then gathered in two more but Harvard was offside and was sent back to the 25 yard line. Wendell staggered through to Yale's 30 yard line. Wendell made a first down on Yale's 10 yard line. He made 2 yards on the next play with the Yale team fighting like demons. Just as Harvard was aiming for Yale's goal Corbett fumbled on Yale's 12 yard line and the Yale stands went wild when a blue legged player fell on the ball. Field was hurt and a short delay ensued. Yale kicked on the first down to her 40 yard line and while Corbett caught the ball with his hand up he ran with it and Harvard was penalized 5 yards. Wendell made 4 yards and then Corbett made a fumble but recovered the ball. It was still Harvard's ball on Yale's 40 yard line. Corey went in for Field in Yale's backfield.

Wigglesworth muffed a passback and it was Yale's ball in the center of the field on downs. Daly could not gain. Daly was thrown back for a loss of 6 yards. Daly kicked to Wigglesworth who ran the ball back to Harvard's 30 yard line. Wendell made 4 yards through tackle. Then on a beautiful forward pass Smith carried the ball pass Corbett made two yards. On a double kick and an outside kick the ball went to Yale on her 30 yard line. Corey made three yards around right end. Vaughn takes Brooks' place. P. Smith takes Perkins' place in Harvard's line. Daly kicked to Wigglesworth, who ran the ball back to the 50 yard line. But on the next play a forward pass was attempted and Harvard lost 6 yards. Then Wigglesworth kicked out of bounds on Yale's 40 yard line. Howe punted out of bounds on Harvard's 25 yard line on the second down. On a fake Corbett was thrown back for a loss of 5 yards.

Harvard was compelled to kick from her 18 yard line. Gardner takes Wigglesworth's place at quarter. Minot kicked out of bounds on Harvard's 35 yard line, where the ball went to Yale on Harvard's 36 yard line, where Daly tried a goal from the field but failed, the ball going wide. Corbett made 10 yards. There the game ended in a scoreless match.

Final score: Yale 0, Harvard 0.

MANY SPECIAL TRAINS

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 19.—Every outgoing train to New Haven this morning was jammed with the largest crowd of football enthusiasts believed ever to have left this city for a Yale-Harvard game. Special after special was backed into the Grand Central station and out of loaded to capacity while the regular express and passenger cars. Two coaches had all their coaches empty. A whole train had been chartered by the Harvard club and several special cars were filled with Yale club enthusiasts. The scene around the station was a most animated one, giving bright college flags and banners, and the liberal array of stanning fall attire worn by the thousands of fair society enthusiasts on their way to the big football function of the year.

Not all of the crowd went by train, however, for along the eastward route south of the city all morning practically continuous processions of automobiles, loaded with holders of game tickets, speeded New Havenward.

CROWDS LEAVE BOSTON

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Burdened under a weight of furs, ulsters and sweaters, a great throng filled the trainshed of the South terminal station, ready to board a dozen or more specials that carried them to New Haven as spectators of the annual football classic—the Harvard-Yale game. Railroad officials declared that today's crowd was the largest that had ever called on them for transportation.

From early morning till almost midnoon the football crowds poured into the station. Some came individually, while others came with their clubs and fraternities, which had chartered special coaches and, in some instances, entire special trains.

Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston, accompanied by a party of friends, arrived at the station at 8 o'clock and a few minutes later left on a special train.

Harvard square in Cambridge presented a Sunday appearance, hardly anyone being in sight except a few shopkeepers and the janitors of the university buildings.

SEASON'S CLIMAX

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Harvard vs. Yale at New Haven claims almost a monopoly of attention from football enthusiasts in the east today while partisans of the two big institutions all over the land will watch the record of play with absorbing interest. The season reaches a climax with today's big game.

The remainder of today's program was somewhat short in comparison with that of recent Saturdays, indicating the waning season. The Trinity Army and Navy-New York university games will attract attention as giving games in the development of the two lines on the development of the two lines, the Army and the Navy, for honors at Philadelphia next week. Johns Hopkins vs. Carlisle at Baltimore is another game on the day's schedule.

FOOTBALL INJURIES FATAL

TEKAMAH, Neb., Nov. 19.—Carl Nelson, aged 17 years, of this place, died last night of injuries caused by playing football. He was a member of the high school team.

COUNT TOLSTOI'S CONDITION

CONSTANTINOPLE, Russia, Nov. 19.—The condition of Tolstol tonight is grave. During the day he experienced a severe cardiac seizure but this passed away. He fully realizes his critical state.

SMOKE INSPECTOR

SENDS LONG LIST OF QUESTIONS TO THE CORPORATIONS.

Notices requesting answers to the following questions were sent to 50 or more of the larger corporations by Smoke Inspector Greenleaf today: Name of company, number of boilers, make of boilers, type of boilers, horsepower of boilers, square feet grate surface, height and flue diameter of chimney, hand or automatic firing, make of mechanical stoker in use, number of stokers installed, name of economizer, if any, name of any smoke preventive device used, grade of coal used, total horsepower developed from boilers, electricity, turbines or water wheels.

CHINA

DIRECT IMPORTERS OF THE FINEST PORCELAINS IN EUROPE

We are now showing the latest designs from the factories of Canton, Hsinan, Aden, Wedgewood, Crown, Doulton, Royal Doulton, Confort, Crown Staffordshire, Royal Doulton and Sevens.

Breakfast Sets of English China.....$10 to $50
Dinner Plates, per dozen.....$7 to $250
Tea Cups.....$1 to $25
Bread and Butter Plates, per dozen.....$8.50 to $60
Dresden China Plates, Baskets, Compotes, Centerpieces, etc.
Goods sent on approval. Photographs and prices on request.

BIGELOW KENNARD & CO.

311 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

REMEMBER F. H. Rourke

WHEN ORDERING COAL

Liberty Square Tel. 1177-1
56 BOSTON & LEXINGTON TICKETS lost. Reward for return to Boston & Northern St. R. R. office.

GAS FIXTURES, LAMPS, DOMES

Welch Bros. 61-63 Middle Street

GIVE US TIME

You will want to have your home warm and comfortable this winter, but you cannot have things that way unless you close up that big air space under your doors and windows. We are just the doctors to take care of that kind of trouble and save you money, and at the same time give you lots of comfort if you'll only have us put on our celebrated weather strips, made and sold only by the inventor.

J. B. GOODWIN

Manufacturer of screens for doors and windows, and weather strips. 11 Thornhill St. P. S.—Orders received by mail or telephone.

ESTABLISHED 1884

J. F. O'Donnell & Sons

UNDERTAKERS

All business entrusted to our care will receive personal attention. A chapel where services may be held, bodies kept when desired. Telephone office, 439-3; residence, 438-5.

2 for 25c

MAX CARP & CO.

Two (2) Stores
CENTRAL ST. MIDDLESEX ST. MARKET ST. CORNER WORTHEN

$20 Convertible Collar Overcoats
TODAY
$15.00
MERRIMACK CLOTHING CO.
Across from City Hall

TICKETS AND TAGS

Lawler Printing Co., 29 Prescott St.

ORDER of OWLS

Members of the Lowell Nest are "Hooting" long and loud. The Lowell Nest Charter Restored. All insurgent members reinstated by the Home Nest. The Order is now recognized in every state in the Union, and conforms to all Insurance Laws.

Big Meeting of the Lowell Nest at Elks' Hall, Middle Street, Thursday Evening, December 1st.

Eight hundred Owls are expected to be present and pay up their dues and receive the New Pass-word. Members will pass the word down along the line. All state laws lived up to. All bans removed. The field is now clear for the Order under charter from the home nest at South Bend, Ind.

HECTOR TURNBULL, Rec. Sec.
E. M. BOWERS, President.

4 3/4 Per Cent is the Average Interest Paid
BY THE
MIDDLESEX CO-OPERATIVE BANK
FOR THE PAST YEAR

Assets of the Bank.....	$481,012.75
Gains in Assets during the year.....	$ 42,459.39

Shares in the new series will be on sale for the next ten days at the office of the bank, 88 Central Block.

Thirst for Soda

People take prescriptions to druggists they know.

They buy soda at the most attractive stores.

Electric light makes soda sales grow. Other trade follows.

Lowell Electric Light
80 Central Street

Mechanics Savings Bank
QUARTER DAY
Saturday, Dec. 3

Royal's Collars
All Up-to-Date Styles
1/4 SIZES—SLIP EASY BANDS

That Horizontal Effect
(ROYAL 75)
Pinch Front

2 for 25c
MAX CARP & CO.
Two (2) Stores
CENTRAL ST. MIDDLESEX ST. MARKET ST. CORNER WORTHEN

LATEST HE DROPPED DEAD

Fred B. Reed Postal Clerk, Fell
on Central Street

Frederick B. Reed, a mailing clerk at the local post office dropped dead at the corner of Central and Elm streets about 11:45 o'clock this morning. Death is supposed to have been due to heart failure.

Reed was about 35 years of age, and was one of the most popular employees at the post office. He was on his way home, 9 Elm street, when he was taken with the attack and dropped to the street. The ambulance was called but upon arriving the driver found that there is no necessity for his services. The body was taken to his home in Elm street.

SCHOONER IS MISSING

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Thirty-nine days out of New York, the stout four-masted schooner, John Twohey, bound for San Juan, P. R., is still unreported and grave fears are felt today for Captain Willard, his crew of nine men, and Frederick Deau, a dramatic and musical critic, who sailed as a guest of Captain Willard for a sea trip.

The Twohey was laden with a general cargo and put out of New York on October 11. Last month a West Indian hurricane ravaged the seas of the gulf of Mexico and the storm may have swept the path of the vessel. Her agents, J. C. Gregory & Co., are apprehensive over the safety of the schooner but still hope to hear some word of her. The Twohey was built in 1891 at Newburyport and the schooner's home port is Boston.

FOUR MEN KILLED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Four men were killed today by the premature explosion of a five-inch fifty-one calibre gun at the Indianhead proving grounds of the navy. The breech block of the gun, which was being tested, blew backward into the crew which was firing the gun. Lieut. Arthur Caffee, who was in charge of the gun, was one of the men killed.

BARKENTINE IN DISTRESS

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 19.—The American barkentine Archer is in distress off Tatoush Island at the entrance to the strait of San Juan de Fuca. A tug has gone to her assistance. The Archer is an iron vessel of 900 tons and is bound from San Francisco for Roche harbor.

THE LOWELL OWLS

THE LOCAL NEST NOW RESUMES OPERATIONS

To say that the business meeting of the Lowell Nest of Owls Thursday evening was enthusiastic is putting it but mildly. It was an old fashioned "Owl" love feast. The "Hoo-hoo's" of the birds were long and loud.

The cause of all this rejoicing was that the Order of Owls is now recognized by every state in the Union as one of the great fraternal and benevolent orders of the English speaking world.

Nests have been instituted in nearly every state and territory in the United States.

During the last eight months nests have been instituted in nearly every town and hamlet in the states of Maine and New Hampshire.

The order's progress in this state has been rather slow on account of our rigid insurance laws but now that the ban has been practically removed nests will now open their doors, and invite new members to come in. Intending members are requested to find out for themselves.

The Order of Owls, whose home nest is at South Bend, Ind., John W. Talbot, supreme president, is doing business in the English speaking country, and all others using the word "Owl" have been enjoined and either have been reinstated in the home nest or have gone out of business.

The Lowell nest which was installed Dec. 18, last, with Edward M. Bowers as president is now reinstated and is under the protecting wing of the home nest at South Bend.

A conference consisting of Pres. Bowers, Dr. M. A. Tighe, John A. Bailey and Hector Turnbull representing the Lowell nest of Owls was held at the home of Mr. Hoover of Chicago, counsel for the home nest, at the office of Dr. M. A. Tighe early Thursday evening last, when all matters pertaining to the Lowell nest were straightened out to the satisfaction of all.

An enthusiastic meeting of the local nest followed, and rising votes of thanks were tendered the conference committee. Much routine business was done at this meeting.

President Bowers and Dr. M. A. Tighe spoke at some length on the death of Brother Frank Maguire, a popular member of the nest who passed away Monday last, after a brief illness.

It was unanimously voted that the treasurer send a check for one hundred dollars to the surviving widow of the deceased member. The charter was ordered dropped, a memorial prayer set apart, and a committee on resolutions appointed.

The anniversary committee reported that the anniversary of the nest would be held in Ansonia hall on Dec. 20th. A delightful program is prepared. It will be a "Ladies' Night" and every member is invited.

There will be a roasting meeting of the nest at Mike's hall, Thursday evening, Dec. 1st. All members are expected to attend. See advertisement elsewhere.

FINE RESIDENCE

WILL BE BUILT BY CHARLES SHEPARD

A garage as a part of a splendidly appointed dwelling is not very common in Lowell, though it is understood that the arrangement is more or less common in other cities.

Mr. Charles S. Shepard of the Mid-dex Machine company will build a $7000 residence in Hanks street, near Rogers street, and on the first floor and directly beneath the billiard room there will be a garage equipped with automatic sprinklers.

The house will be 52 by 39 feet, two and one-half stories, 12 rooms, pantry, three bath rooms, sun room and garage. The plans were prepared by Willard R. Davis and James Whittey of the builder.

PRES. TAFT COMING HOME

On board the U. S. S. Montana, Nov. 19, by wireless to the U. S. S. Tennessee and to Key West, Florida.—The cruiser Tennessee, upon which President Taft is returning from his visit to the Panama canal zone, and the cruiser Montana sailed abreast Friday, five miles apart, while the crews, who are training for their guns at each other, Column formation was resumed at night.

The weather is pleasant and the seas are moderate, though a strong northeast trade wind is blowing. The vessels are headed for Guantanamo, where they are due at noon today.

TRANS-ATLANTIC COMMERCE

PLYMOUTH, Nov. 19.—The possibility of developing this historic harbor as a port for trans-Atlantic commerce has been appealed to Colonel Frederick V. Abbott, the army engineer officer stationed in Boston, that he will recommend an appropriation by congress to carry out some projected harbor improvements. Colonel Abbott has notified Captain Dolan, harbor engineer of this town, that the harbor improvement plans have been submitted to the war department, which looks so favorably on the matter that a survey has been ordered. The survey is expected to include about one square mile, bounded by Goose Point channel on the north, Broad channel on the south, and reach from the harbor front of the town across the water to Long Beach. The survey may also include an anchorage basin for small craft inside of Beach Point.

STORM WARNING

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The local weather bureau publishes the following: Disturbance over the gulf moving northeastward. Storm warnings displayed on the Atlantic coast from Jacksonville to Wilmington.

ITALIAN SHIP WRECKED

SARDINIA, Nov. 19.—The Italian ship Warrior, from Genoa, Nov. 8 for Penzance, is reported wrecked off Port San Nicola, Corsica.

GRAFT INQUIRY Resumed by Legislative Committee Today

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The joint legislative investigating committee resumed its hunt today after the truth about the raising of the $600,000 boodle fund and its alleged use in bribing certain Albany legislators to vote against the anti-racket bill.

Ex-Senator Fuller and Senator M. C. Carpenter of Westchester, whose names were mentioned by Senator Travis in his story of the effort to bribe him with $100,000, having been "approached," were the first witnesses.

Senator Fuller, who lives in Brooklyn, said he never had been "approached" nor did he know of any legislators who had been "approached." The witness declared emphatically that he had never told Senator Travis or anybody else that he had been "approached."

R. R. CAMPAIGN OPENED BY PREMIER ASQUITH BEFORE LIBERALS

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Premier Asquith opened the radical campaign in a speech at a luncheon of the National Liberal club today. He announced no new policies, confining himself to the railing down of the planks of the platform upon which the last election was fought.

The government, Mr. Asquith said, was determined to bring an end at once and for all time to the present system under which liberal legislation did not have a fair chance and to confine the second chamber to subordinate functions appropriate to such a body. The liberals were fighting for fair play, for progressive legislation and for the complete establishment of a representative government.

Regarding the recent activity of the lords in the matter of reforming themselves the premier said that the reason for this was clearly apparent, as the Tories could not face another election with the incubus of the house of lords on their backs.

SAILOR DEAD HAD BEEN STABBED AT CHERBOURG

CHERBOURG, Nov. 19.—Patrick J. Fitzsimmons, the sailor from the battleship Louisiana, who was stabbed during the fight between white and colored bluejackets of the American fleet last night, died today. It was erroneously reported last evening that Fitzsimmons had succumbed to his wounds soon after they were received. Benjamin Prim, from the Kansas, who also was wounded, is improving.

COUNSELLOR HOYT ILL WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Henry M. Hoyt, counselor of the state department, who has been seriously ill for several days, showed no improvement in his condition today.

WACHUSETT CLUB The first annual social and dancing party of the Wachusett club was held last night at the town hall in North Chatham. There was a large attendance and the affair proved to be an enjoyable one.

MORTALITY FOR THE WEEK ENDING NOVEMBER 19, 1910

Population, 96,380. Total deaths, 42; deaths under five, 15; acute lung diseases 10.

Death rate: 22.66 against 23.20 and 19.12 for previous two weeks.

Infectious diseases reported: Typhoid Fever, 4; Scarlet Fever, 3; Diphtheria, 2.

Board of Health.

TOWN QUIET TODAY MEXICO CITY, Nov. 19.—Reports from Puebla, where revolutionary rioting occurred yesterday, state that the town is quiet today. Similar reports are received from interior cities. Estimates of the number killed in the fighting vary from 100 to 170.

Preserves the Complexion softens the hands, best for all weather effects on the skin—so all people say that use Hood's Lotion. Try it. 60c.

PHENOMENAL SUCCESS DYSPEPTICS FOUND TO HAVE SINGULAR MERIT AS A REMEDY FOR ALL DYSPEPTIC TROUBLES

A Product of the C. I. Hood Co., Leaders in Modern, Up-to-Date Pharmacy.

The makers of Dyspeptics have reason to believe that the success of these new digestive tablets is not only remarkable but phenomenal. They are receiving letters from people in all walks of life, which are highly commendatory of Dyspeptics as a quick relief in cases of sour stomach, heartburn and nausea and in cases of sleeplessness caused by indigestion or slight disturbance of the stomach. Many keep Dyspeptics within reach at all times, and when they are in need of them they find them to be a quick and reliable remedy.

"I like Dyspeptics very much. They act like magic in case of heartburn with which I am very much troubled."

Mrs. Chas. A. Holmes, Route 1, Box 95, Hopkinton, N. H.

"Dyspeptics have done wonders for me. I was troubled with Dyspepsia for three years, and could not get anything that would make me feel as well as I feel now. Dyspeptics are a quick and agreeable remedy, and came to me like a godsend, my stomach having been in such a bad condition that I could not eat anything without great distress. I recommend Dyspeptics to all I know as well as to all who read this letter, which I am willing to have published." Miss Sadie Finchbaugh, R. F. D., No. 1, Pelton, Pa.

"I have been suffering from indigestion for five years, and have spent lots of money trying to get well. I found but little relief until I began to take Dyspeptics. Since then my stomach has not been so puffed up with gas, nor so sour, and I have not spit so often as before. I am feeling well now." J. B. Broome, Spartan, Ga.

Dyspeptics are elegantly put up in three sizes. Get a 60c or $1 size today on your way home. Remember the name, Dyspeptics.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

MAN MURDERED In the Presence of His Family by Brother-in-Law

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Stanley Scarbeck, a stable owner, was murdered early this morning at his West Fifth street home in the presence of his wife and six children. The police arrested William McGee, his brother-in-law, charging him with the murder on the testimony of the family. According to the story, as placed together by the police, Scarbeck came home from his place of business shortly after midnight. The wife and children had been waiting for him and all went to the dining room for a late supper. McGee, who had been living with the Scarbecks, became involved in a political argument with his brother-in-law. The argument waxed heated until finally, according to the police, McGee took up a pointed knife from the table and plunged it into his brother-in-law's chest. The wound resulted fatally before a doctor could be summoned.

THREAT OF DEATH Sent to Judge of the Superior Court in Boston

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—A threat of death in the event of the officers of the international photo engravers' union being given jail sentences next Monday for contempt of court, is said to have been contained in a letter received by one of the justices of the Massachusetts superior court. The letter was mailed from Chicago and purported to be signed by a labor committee of that city. It has been called to the attention of the state and city police authorities and federal officials are endeavoring to ascertain the identity of the senders.

COUNT TOLSTOI Efforts to Reconcile Him to Church

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 19.—The cabinet last night discussed Count Tolstol and his relations with the Greek Catholic church. According to the newspapers, all of those present, including the procurator of the Holy Synod, were in favor of removing the ban of excommunication as necessary and timely. The synod, however, has rejected the proposal, as there is no indication of a change in Tolstol's attitude, nor is it known that he desires to be restored to the faith.

The majority decided that every effort to influence the novelist to modify his position should be made. The presence at Astapova of Count Tolstol in the way of the count's return to the church.

Premier Stolypin personally is decidedly in favor of raising the ban and discussed the possibility of such action with a friend of Tolstol a year ago.

FLURRY OF SNOW Gave Sure Signs of Winter's Approach

The flurry of snow which occurred today reminds us that winter is near at hand. Those who have the coal and coke in their bins are lucky, that is, if the combustible material has been paid for, while on the other hand if it has not been paid for there is a reason for worrying.

The clothing store proprietors as well as the dealers in overcoats and rubbers are delighted with the prospect of a long winter as are the coal men and other dealers who reap their harvest during the winter.

While the flurry of snow today had little or no effect, other than moistening the streets of the Boston & Northern Street Railway Co. is prepared for the storms which are to come and according to its well arranged schedule the plows are in readiness to be manned and the men who are to operate the box-like looking machines are kept at places where they can be called into service at an instant's notice.

At the present time the Boston & Northern has 22 plows, 21 of the shear and nose type and one of the rotary type, the latter being used for the outlying districts.

NEW CHAIRS ARE ORDERED FOR THE POLICE DEPARTMENT

The purchasing agent called for bids this afternoon for 50 chairs for the police department, the bids to be opened Nov. 23.

The committee on fire department will meet Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock and the regular meeting of the common council will be held Tuesday night.

JAMESTOWN RACES

JAMESTOWN, Va., Nov. 19.—First race: Bendana, 21, Gordon, 2 to 1, 4 to 5, out, first; Check, 117, Minder, 7 to 5, 1 to 2, out, second; Laughing Boys, 117, Davis, 2 to 1, 4 to 5, 2 to 5, third, Time, 1:43 4-5.

Second race: Gun Cotton, 154, Granville, 2 to 1, 7 to 10, out, 1. Doctor Ford, 143, McLaugh, 3 to 1, 7 to 10, out, 2. (Two starters.) Time—3:02.

DIVORCE COURT November Session Will Open Here on Monday

List Shows 113 Uncontested and 52 Contested Divorce Cases—Court and Equity Cases Also on Docket

The November sitting of the superior court without juries for the trial of court, divorce and equity cases will come in at the court house in Gorham street on Monday and in all probability Judge Harris will preside.

The divorce list contains the largest number of cases, there being 113 uncontested cases and 52 cases on the contested list.

The Lowell cases on the divorce court list are as follows:

Uncontested Cases

Craven vs. Craven.
Jordan vs. Jordan, T. G. Robbins for libellant.
Mahany vs. Mahany, McIntire and Wilson, Burke and Corbett.
Leavitt vs. Leavitt.
Spare vs. Spare, W. H. Bent.
Judson vs. Judson, J. J. Kerwin.
Robb vs. Robb, Fisher & Pearson.
Higginson vs. Higginson, J. E. O'Donnell.
Clements vs. Clements, J. T. Alaster-son.
Guphill vs. Guphill, J. J. Tierney.
Fairbanks vs. Fairbanks, T. G. Robbins.

Patenaud vs. Patenaud, A. O. Hamel, Bernard vs. Bernard, J. H. Guillette, Gossett vs. Gossett, J. J. Pickman, Plouffe vs. Plouffe, J. H. Guillette, Jaquith vs. Jaquith, Burke and Corbett.

Butterfield vs. Butterfield, B. Silverblatt, Littlefield vs. Littlefield, McIntire and Wilson, Champagne vs. Champagne, J. H. Guillette, Egan vs. Egan, J. J. Hennessy, Foote vs. Foote, J. J. Hennessy, Sharbono vs. Sharbono, H. V. Charbonneau.

Gore vs. Gore, McIntire and Wilson, Alcott vs. Alcott, J. J. and W. A. Hogan, Bunce vs. Bunce, McIntire and Wilson, Rogers vs. Rogers, W. H. Bent, Slater vs. Slater, McIntire and Wilson.

Jacobs vs. Jacobs, Trull and Wier, Garrett vs. Garrett, G. W. Pearson, Bonrman vs. Bonrman, McIntire and Wilson, Keay vs. Keay, J. T. Mayerson.

Contested Cases

Hamer vs. Hamer, J. F. Owens for libellant; D. J. Donahue for libellee.
Rounds vs. Rounds, J. S. Murphy, and J. J. Pickman.
Harmon vs. Harmon, Burke and Corbett and J. J. Harmon.
Guthrie vs. Guthrie, Messrs. Hogan and Farley and Tierney.
Dana vs. Dana, McIntire and Wilson and Lewis and Moore.

Inasmuch as the game was the big game of the season, it supplanting the heretofore Lowell-Lawrence game, there was an unusually large attendance and there were many students, both male and female, and the enthusiasm ran high during the progress of the game.

The signal drill which took place at the high school annex proved to be very effective and resulted in an improvement of the work of the team.

BIG LAND DEAL Was Made at Salisbury Beach

HAVERHILL, Nov. 19.—The entire stretch of land at Salisbury beach, extending from the Merrimack river to the New Hampshire line, has been sold to James R. Simpson, Fort M. Black, and Walter Coulson of Lawrence. In addition to the land, two hotels, the Cushing and the Atlantic house, are included.

The land and the hotels have been held by an association known as the Salisbury Commissioners for a number of years.

It is expected that the new owners intend to develop the property as an amusement resort on a large scale.

ATTACK NOT MADE EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 19.—The anticipated attack on Marathon an armed body of Mexican invaders had not materialized at a late hour last night. The scouts sent out Thursday night to locate the supposed hostile band returned during the day but were unable to confirm the report of an invasion. A report was current last night that a store had been looted and burned at Terlingua, an isolated town near the Rio Grande, south of Alpine, Texas, but no confirmation can be secured. It is believed that a marching band of Mexicans is operating along the Rio Grande, preying on ranchers on both sides.

THANKSGIVING FESTIVAL Entertainment and Dance

SACRED HEART HALL
WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOV. 23, AT 8 O'CLOCK
Tickets - 25c

Boys' Long Military Overcoats $5.00

Merrimack CLOTHING COMPANY
Across from City Hall

Don't Loaf

Loafing is poor business. If you are out of work seek employment through THE SUN want column. It's cheaper than shoe leather. Try it.

color

dance looking to the possibility of organizing one or both branches upon a democratic basis, with a further possibility of electing a democratic United States senator, or, if not a democrat, some other candidate to succeed Senator Lodge.

It was voted that Chairman Riley be directed to communicate with the members of the incoming legislature with a view to obtaining thorough and systematic organization, so that the fullest possible advantage may be taken of the present conditions, and that Massachusetts may, by organized effort, come to be placed in the column of dem-cratic states.

It was further voted that the committee should organize upon a permanent basis and prepare a list of bills to be introduced incorporating the platform pledges of the state convention.

FAMOUS GELDING
WAS ORDERED OFF THE TAN
BARK

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Lord Baltimore, the brown gelding that has won so many blazes both here and abroad for C. W. Watson of Baltimore and the Waltham Farms, West Virginia, was ordered off the tan bark again yesterday by the judges, on the ground that he was lame. The famous gelding has had a series of setbacks in this year's national horse show.

There were two bad spills yesterday.
 Tomorrow and one yesterday morning,
 it nobody was seriously injured. In a Corinthian jumping contest, U. D.
 Hunter of Warrington, W. Va., was pitched over the head of his bay mare, when she smashed into a fence. He remounted and pluckily took the remaining obstacles. Herbert Cox of Toronto, Can., had a similar experience.

It was announced yesterday that Paul W. Winans of Brighton, Eng., had sold the famous Kentucky Future winner Sillico, for Moko-Sillico, to John E. Madden, from whom Mr. Winans bought him. Mr. Madden would not name the price he paid, but said it was as "few thousand more than I got for him."

That price was $34,000. Under the new means, Sillico established a mark of 2.06% over a five furlong track in Austria, and it was that performance that decided Madden to buy him.
 ck.

SIXTY OPERATIVES
WENT ON STRIKE IN MILLS OF LUDLOW

LUDLOW, Nov. 19.—A strike of 60
 Polish operatives in the bagging mills of the Ludlow Manufacturing Association yesterday was quickly adjusted apparently by the Polish union officers, who ordered the strikers back to work pending a discussion of the difficulty with the company officials. The union of the Polish union representative was endorsed at a mass meeting of the Polish operatives last night.

Thirty Polish girls employed as domestic servants went yesterday morning for the discharge of two of their companions, and later 30 Polish spinners in sympathy, while 60 of the carders were sent home about the same time, because there was no work for them.

is the first opportunity he has had to see the new church.

Fr. Joachim left this city and went to Athens and from there to Jerusalem. Later he went to Australia and since returning to America he has had charge of the Greek Orthodox church in Charleston, S. C.

FOUGHT OVER A GIRL
MOUNT KISCO, N. Y., Nov. 19.—
Two men were killed in a roadhouse near here last night in a battle over a girl. One is an unidentified Italian and the other James McCann, a relative of the proprietor of the roadhouse. Beyond the fact of the battle, the police have as yet few facts.

INDIANS DIE OF SMALLPOX
CHENEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 19.—Ninety-three Indians on the Arapahoe Indian reservation have died from small-pox within four days. The disease has manifested itself in its most moliment forms. Officers in charge of the reservation are fighting vainly to stay the pestilence.

TRUE'S
ELIXIR
Established 1881.
 Best remedy in the world for consti-
 tion, biliousness,
 headache, loss of appetite, heartburn,
 Stomach trouble,
 Infestinal worms.
 "Keeps you and your children well."
 25c., 50c., $1.00

DRAWING
INSTRUMENTS
FOR TEXTILE AND DRAW-ING SCHOOL
W. T. S. Bartlett
 Up-Town Hardware Store
 653-659 MERRIMACK ST.

You Will Miss It
 If you do not place your order for your weather strips for your doors before the cold weather comes on. Now is the time and the place to go is to
 J. B. Goodwin's, 11 Thordike St.
 You will find this the most sensible investment for a small sum of money that you ever made. More than 5000 homes and stores in the city and suburbs have these coal bill savers attached to the doors, and they never wear out.
 You save money every day they are on.
 Call and see the greatest device of the century for keeping out cold air and dust.

J. B. GOODWIN
 11 THORNDIKE STREET

WE CARRY A COMPLETE LINE OF
Household Furnishings
AT LOWEST PRICES, AND ARE SOLE AGENTS IN LOWELL FOR THE CELEBRATED
Crescent Range
PETER DAVEY, 184 Market Street
 Telephone Connection 79-2
 Furniture Dealer Undertaker
 Funeral Director

JURORS RELEASED

Appeal to be Made to the Supreme Court

SALEM, Nov. 19.—As a result of the action of Chief Justice Alken, the superior court yesterday in allowing a jury empanelled to try the case of Brisas Tsapas of Haverhill, who is charged with the murder of Constantino Tinaschoides, to separate and go to their homes, the supreme court decided whether or not it is in accordance with the constitution of the commonwealth for jurors in capital cases to be so released.

To Highest Court

Chief Justice Alken's announcement that he would release the jurors, brought Attorney J. P. S. Mahoney of Lawrence, who is caring for the interests of Tsapas, to his feet with a start and he immediately saved an exception and announced his intention of having the question decided by the supreme court. "This is said to be the first case in Massachusetts where the jurors in a murder trial have been so released."

The entire time of the court session yesterday was occupied in the empanelling of the jury, of which Charles T. Parrott of Gloucester is foreman. After the jury was full, Justice Alken told the men that they might go home but to report at the courthouse at 9 this morning, when a special car was on hand to take them to the scene of the murder. On returning from Haverhill, the jury will again be released to report Monday morning, when the taking of evidence will be commenced.

Brisas Tsapas and Constantino Tinaschoides were roommates at Haverhill. On the night of Sept. 3, 1909, they left the house together, apparently the best of friends. Tsapas returned alone, and six days later his roommate's body was found in some bushes a considerable distance away with two bullet holes in it.

The police sought Tsapas to secure his aid in unravelling the mystery, but he was missing. Later he was arrested in Boston with a grip in his hand and a ticket to Europe in his pocket. Tinaschoides was known to have been between $30 and $50 on his person, according to the authorities, a sum nearly equal to this was found on Tsapas when he was taken into custody.

ANTI-DIAZ PARTY RESPONSIBLE FOR WAR
TALK BETWEEN MEXICO AND UNITED STATES

SCENE IN COUNTRY OF HATS—OLD MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 19.—You can walk down the principal streets of the capital of Mexico and hear natives between puffs of cigarettes discussing war and what would happen if the United States and Mexico should clash. The two countries are not going to clash; that is almost a sure thing. The uprising on the borders, the lynching and burning of Mexicans in Texas, is material for the anti-Diaz party, which seems to grow each day. That is the real secret of the talk, but the natives—that is, the majority—are yet to learn the secret. Diaz has long ruled Mexico with an iron hand—wisely, his friends say; like a tyrant, his enemies declare. For more than a year there has been a decided unrest in Mexico. It grows each hour, and the peaceful streets of Mexico may yet be the scene of many conflicts. It is predicted that the anti-Diaz party may attack border towns in an effort to bring serious trouble between the two countries and in the midst of the uprising unseat the present government.

SENATOR TRAVIS

Says That He Was Offered Bribe of $100,000

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—One hundred thousand dollars to vote against the anti-race track betting bills in 1908 was offered to State Senator Eugene M. Travis of Brooklyn, so he swore on the stand yesterday, testifying before the legislative graft committee. A mysterious man, whose name he does not recall, made the offer in the lobby of the senate, he said, on behalf of former Senator Frank J. Gardner. And Gardner, he added, confirmed it in a subsequent telephone conversation.

Gardner is now under indictment, charged with having attempted to influence Otto G. Fockler of Brooklyn, now a congressman, but then a state senator. Fockler voted for the bill, as did Travis, and it was passed notwithstanding the efforts of the race track interests and the alleged use of the legislative graft committee. A mysterious man, whose name he does not recall, made the offer in the lobby of the senate, he said, on behalf of former Senator Frank J. Gardner. And Gardner, he added, confirmed it in a subsequent telephone conversation.

Gardner is now under indictment, charged with having attempted to in-

TEX RAMSDALL, SPEEDIEST
PLAYER IN FOOTBALL

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Pennsylvania will end its football season here on Thanksgiving day, when the Red and Blue meets Cornell in their annual combat on the gridiron. Penn coaches have stated that they are not looking for an easy victory, but will probably have excellent material, and according to Mike Murphy, the famous trainer, "they have worked up from nothing to a powerful team." At the start of the season the Ithacans were very weak, but have braced up wonderfully within the last few weeks, as the recent 18 to 0 victory over Chicago shows. Penn has one of the strongest teams in the country. In Scott, Sommer, Ramsdall and Mercer the Red and Blue this year has one of the finest backfields since the days of Williams, Knipe, Osgood and Brooke, a quartet that has been claimed the fastest, strongest combination of the year. Scott, Sommer and Ramsdall were injured in the game with Michigan, and the two former men may not be able to play against Cornell. Ramsdall hurt his knee, but will be able to play. The latter is one of the greatest men that ever appeared on a football field. He has been injured more times this last season than any other player. Ramsdall is the speediest man in football today. Besides being one of the greatest half-backs of the year, he is the best hundred yard sprinter in the country.

BOWLING GAMES

TWO GAMES IN THE ELECTRIC LIGHT LEAGUE

There were two games played in the Electric Light league last night. In the game between the Electric and Construction teams the latter won all three points as well as the total. In the other game—the Office and Station teams playing—the Office team won by a wide margin as well as taking every point.

The Butler Vets and Lamsons had it in the Minor league and the "pumpers" trimmed the "overhead" workers by a score of 1317 to 1276. The scores:

ELECTRIC LIGHT LEAGUE
	Electric	3	2	T
Henderson	79	63	55	297
Griffin	80	86	99	265
Dresser	84	99	77	261
Wilson	75	85	85	245
Lovering	91	81	66	238
Totals	411	395	412	1218

CONSTRUCTION
Smith	97	85	82	265
Anderson	83	79	84	246
Burke	85	106	86	277
Sargent	77	85	73	235
Maguire	82	89	86	257
Totals	425	440	431	1296

OFFICE TEAM WINS

Office
Gear	1	2	3	T
Hart	79	82	90	251
Stokney	87	87	87	261
Farley	87	87	87	261
Halstead	88	87	98	273
Totals	428	441	429	1313

STATION

Noon	83	90	72	245
Downing	84	77	92	253
Wood	87	83	82	252
Pratt	78	86	78	242
Callahan	85	85	86	256
Totals	428	428	412	1268

MINOR LEAGUE

Butler Vets
Snow	82	87	70	239
Lawn	86	88	84	258
Furlong	88	84	80	252
Cook	79	87	89	255
Grant	84	110	91	285
Totals	419	456	442	1317

Lamsons

Lafour	81	98	88	267
Wallace	86	78	81	245
Norwood	84	84	84	252
G. Wallace	108	84	79	271
Burns	80	80	70	230
Totals	456	410	404	1270

NEW TYPEWRITING RECORD

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Nov. 19.—In a typewriting contest held in connection with the National Horticultural congress, H. O. Blundell of New York yesterday broke the world's record for one minute by writing 126 words from printed matter, without error, beating the record of Miss Florence Wilson of 124 words with two errors.

HENRY M. HOYT

Is Reported to be Seriously Ill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Henry M. Hoyt, counselor of the department of state, is lying seriously ill at his home in this city. While he was in Canada engaged in the reciprocity negotiations as a representative of the American government he was attacked with an intestinal trouble from which he had suffered in the past, and, although he was able to make the return trip from Montreal to Washington, he was obliged to take to his bed as soon as he reached his home here.

HENRY M. HOYT

* BOXING GOSSIP

Matty Baldwin went to Highland lake yesterday to do a little training. His broken arm is sufficiently mended for light work, but it will be some weeks before his manager, Aleck McLennan, will tie him up in any matches, and when he does it will not be with any hard game.

Billy Nixon has backed out of his match with Johnny Glover at the Armory A. A., Boston, next Tuesday night, and Mickey McIntyre of St. John will take Nixon's place. The Chicago will make the bout the more rugged, and the other four bouts scheduled for the same evening will give the fans a program of hot boxing.

Promoter McQuay of Los Angeles has signed Jim Flynn, the Pueblo heavyweight, to box Dec. 10, and he is trying to get Jim Stewart or Frank Klaus for his opponent. It will be quite a while before Stewart will be ready to return to the ring, on account of his manager and seconds lacking good sense when Stewart boxed Jim Barry here this week.

The reason given for the postponement of the bout between Al Attell and Phil Moore in New York next Tuesday night to Nov. 29 is that Attell wants more time to train. The real cause is, perhaps, that the advance sale is not big enough to give the promoters reason to believe that the receipts would reach the guarantee promised the boxers.

Tommy Burns, the ex-heavyweight champion must have cleaned up a lot of money since he has been in the game, for he has just paid $50,000 for real estate in Calgary, Manitoba. He also has opened a haberdashery store in the same city. He says that he is undecided about continuing in the game, but so long as Tommy sees where he can earn good money in it there is no danger that he will quit it.

A New Orleans promoter is negotiating with Jim Barry to box Tony Ross in that city the middle of next month. The promoter states that he has Al Kaufman's name on a contract to box anyone in New Orleans in January, if that is Barry defeats Ross he will get the chance against Kaufman. As Barry has some bouts on in Oklahoma next month he may not take on the Ross match.

SEC. CHAS. NAGEL

Addressed Kansas City Commercial Club

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 19.—Active and rational co-operation between the national and state authorities is absolutely essential to a successful solution of the common problems with which they both are confronted. This was the opinion expressed last night by Charles Nagel, secretary of commerce and labor, in an address delivered at the 11th annual banquet of the Kansas City Commercial club. He declared himself a believer in both state and national authority, saying that he "read the constitution to mean that the integrity of both was guaranteed."

In the practical affairs of life, however, he asserted, "substantially no one adheres to the old doctrine of restricted power of the national government."

"The old restriction upon federal authority and federal appropriations have been swept away," he said. "Generally in all directions the old barrier has been broken down and it is admitted in practice, if not in platform, that national authority is absolutely essential to meet national problems as they now present themselves. If this is true at home with respect to domestic affairs, it is infinitely more true with respect to foreign affairs."

Mr. Nagel dealt in his speech with the question of the relation between national and state authority, particularly as it pertained to commerce. As to foreign commerce he declared that he was "absolutely to say that only one authority can be consulted and that is the national power."

As to domestic commerce he said: "So far we have practically no commercial corporations that have their authority upon anything but state authority. The inconvenience of that system, even in our interstate commerce, has been sufficiently demonstrated. I am persuaded, for one, that the conflicts, the inconsistencies, and the embarrassments with respect to interstate commerce alone are enough to call for the organization of corporations under federal charters."

"I am not oblivious to the fact," he

LYNN BANDITS

Were Found Guilty and Were Sentenced to Death

SALEM, Nov. 19.—Wassili Ivankowski and Andrei Ipsen, the Lynn bandits, were found guilty of murder in the first degree yesterday by the jury which had listened to the evidence in their trial for the killing of Thomas Landregan and James Carroll of Lynn on June 25 last. They were sentenced to be electrocuted during the week of March 5, 1911.

The Lynn bandit case, in which Wassili Ivankowski and Andrei Ipsen are on trial for the murder of Thomas Landregan, a shoe manufacturer, and James Carroll, a policeman, at Lynn on June 25 last, was given to the jury in the Essex county superior court this morning. All of the testimony was concluded yesterday and counsel for the defense and prosecution made their final arguments last evening. When court convened today Chief Justice Alken told the attorneys for the defense that the prisoners might address the jury if they desired. Neither Ivankowski or Ipsen took advantage of the offer. Chief Justice Alken then delivered his charge to the jury. This occupied about 35 minutes and at its conclusion the jury withdrew to consider the case.

The jury was out less than two hours. Neither of the prisoners appeared disconcerted by the verdict. When the interpreter notified them both men smiled slightly but aside from this their faces were expressionless.

Both of the convicted men made statements to the court when Chief Justice Alken asked them if they desired to say anything before sentence of death should be pronounced. Ivankowski was the first to respond to the justice's invitation. Through an interpreter he said that the verdict was all wrong. He also declared that he and Ipsen had not had a fair chance because they had had no witnesses.

Ipsen's statement was brief and seemed to indicate that he had not expected an acquittal. "Let it be, as it is," was all he said.

Chief Justice Alken then pronounced sentence. As the men were being led from the courtroom Ivankowski said: "You will be sorry some time that you did not investigate better."

sion the jury withdrew to consider the case.

The jury was out less than two hours. Neither of the prisoners appeared disconcerted by the verdict. When the interpreter notified them both men smiled slightly but aside from this their faces were expressionless.

Both of the convicted men made statements to the court when Chief Justice Alken asked them if they desired to say anything before sentence of death should be pronounced. Ivankowski was the first to respond to the justice's invitation. Through an interpreter he said that the verdict was all wrong. He also declared that he and Ipsen had not had a fair chance because they had had no witnesses.

Ipsen's statement was brief and seemed to indicate that he had not expected an acquittal. "Let it be, as it is," was all he said.

Chief Justice Alken then pronounced sentence.

As the men were being led from the courtroom Ivankowski said: "You will be sorry some time that you did not investigate better."

added, "that if the national government does authorize the organization of commercial companies to be employed in foreign business, these same organizations may, and perhaps must, by degrees, engage in domestic commerce as well. On the contrary, I believe this to be an inevitable result of the first step. But there is no cause for alarm."

He said it would only be a repetition of the story of the national bank, "heralded at one time as the enemy of the state," but which has become a "business men's bank," enjoying the confidence of every village and town, although in theory the fiscal agent of the national government.

"Commerce in the United States," he said, "is not measured by state boundaries and cannot be successfully controlled by state authority. Interstate commerce and traffic have outgrown the state in every respect and the ill from which we have suffered in the past, insofar as they have been met, were relieved by the interposition of national authority."

The secretary declared that there is pressing necessity for the development of foreign commerce and that "we are proceeding, as it were, oblivious to it."

"We speak of the tariff," he continued, "as though it concerned only the cost of the consumer at home, and yet we have entered the international arena; we have entered it politically, and we must maintain it commercially. Notwithstanding all the campaign controversy, the free list has now been increased. If that be the policy we must, of necessity, make corresponding inroads into foreign territory with our products."

This country, he said, was not putting forth anywhere near the energy being expended by foreign countries in their efforts to gain foreign trade. The one bureau in this country's government which is charged with the promotion of domestic and foreign commerce, he added, "employs a force not as large as that which is employed by one foreign country in one state of the United States."

There is need, also, he said, for the United States, to have its own merchant marine. Furthermore, this merchant marine "should be amenable to the same authority which is engaged in the promotion of the general system."

Referring briefly to the past campaign, he said he deplored the fact "that so much time and energy of those who participated were wasted upon question of personal controversy; upon the heralding of extravagant ideas that can accomplish little beyond retarding actual progress and upon more party controversy, when we have questions of such gravity immediately confronting us that so far scarcely have been given serious public consideration."

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column

NEW INDUSTRY

TO BE LOCATED IN THIS CITY IN NEAR FUTURE

Lowell is to have a new industry according to information received in this city. The firm which is to be known as the Boral Chemical company is to manufacture powders which it is said will cure rheumatism. The formula is one which has been prepared by Helen R. Hobbs of this city, who is a teacher of art in Boston. Manchester and Lowell citizens are interested in the company.

SHEPARD SLATED FOR NEW YORK SENATORSHIP

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The present slate is to send Edward M. Shepard to the United States senate from New York to fill the vacancy of Senator Depew. Mayor Claytor is for Shepard, and Murphy is expected to get in line. In fact, the chief of Tammany hall has been booming Shepard for the senate for some time. Tammany hall wants to enlarge its scope, and Murphy sees a chance by sending Shepard to the senate. Shepard was a candidate for governor, but stopped aside in favor of Fly, and now, it is chided, he was promised the senatorship.

The Best 50c
Underwear
IN LOWELL, AT THE
Merrimack CLOTHING COMPANY
Across from City Hall

MANY PRETTY GIFTS Were Showered on the Venerable Sister McMillan

On Occasion of 50th Anniversary
of Her Profession as a Grey
Nun—Special Papal Benediction
Was Received Through Cardinal
Merry Del Val—Reception in
Her Honor in St. Joseph's College Hall

St. Joseph's college hall, Merrimack st., was crowded last night when a reception and entertainment was held in honor of Rev. Sister McMillan, the venerable superior of St. Joseph's convent, on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of her profession as a member of the order of Grey Nuns of the Cross.

In addition to the large number of lay people, there was also present a notable gathering of members of religious communities, including Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., provincial of the Oblate order; Rev. Frs. Lefebvre and Berneche, O. M. I., of St. Joseph's rectory; Rev. Frs. Lamotte and Vaud, O. M. I., of Notre Dame de Lourdes rectory; Rev. Fr. Chaput, O. M. I., of Tewksbury; and several representatives of the Grey Nuns of the Cross from the mother house at Ottawa, St. Joseph's and the Immaculate Conception convents in this city; of the Sisters of the Assumption in charge of St. Louis' convent and finally of the Sisters of the Holy Family.

Among the visitors present were Rev. Mother Duhamel, of the mother house at Ottawa, superior general of the Grey Nuns, and two other sisters, nuns of Rev. Sister McMillan during her novitiate, and who will both also soon celebrate their golden jubilees. These two are Rev. Sister Howley, superior of the Pembroke, Ont., house, and a schoolmate of Rev. Sister McMillan, besides being a sister novice; and Rev. Sister Maurault of Ottawa. The presence of these three afforded particular joy to the venerable superior of St. Joseph's convent.

The entertainment was given by the pupils of St. Joseph's school and opened with a pretty operetta, entitled, "Au Royaume des Fleurs," at the conclusion of which the flowers having been borne by the participants were gathered into a huge sheaf and presented Rev. Sister McMillan. The young players taking part were Miss Eva Lusier, as Flora, queen of flowers; Miss Juliette Gervais, the zephyr; Miss Alice Boualis, the sunbeam; Miss Irene Malhot, the rose; Miss Yvonne Prevost, the lily; Miss Eugénie Bourque, the violet; Miss Antoinette Gervais, the daisy; Miss Blanche Larue, the tulip; Miss Irene Labrecque, the peony; Miss Alice Belanger, the forget-me-not; four little pages, the Misses Lucie Rheault, Dolia Thibault, Irene Labrecque, Jeannette Chevalier, four pupils, Misses Loretta Dalgie, Florida Plourde, Helene Jean and Bertha Lebel.

Rev. Sister McMillan is of Scotch origin although born in Rigo, Que., and in honor of this fact a graceful Scotch drill was given by 30 little maidens in Scotch dress and who sang the "Blue Belles of Scotland," and drilled to the air.

Other numbers included a grand chorus, "Voeux et Souhaits," by the older pupils, and numbering over 100 girls, all dressed in white. The same chorine closed the program with another beautiful choral, "Rejoissance." Another chorus, "Les Noces d'or," by the smallest pupils, also looking their prettiest in fluffy, white gowns, proved very pleasing. There were besides three duets by Miss Alma, and Ernestine Alexander.

At the close of the program Sister McMillan was the recipient of a surprise in the shape of a gift of $50 in gold from a party of friends headed by Mr. and Mrs. Amédée Archambault. Earlier in the day Sister McMillan was presented a purse of $100 by the Oblate Fathers, Dr. A. G. Payette read an address and Mr. Archambault presented the purse. Little Miss Léa Archambault presented Sister McMillan a beautiful bouquet.

At the close of the program, Rev. Fr. Smith, provincial of the Oblates, Rev. Fr. Lefebvre and Rev. Fr. Lamotte spoke, offering Rev. Sister McMillan their heartiest congratulations on the happy event. A telegram from Rev. Fr. Watelle, O. M. I., superior of St. Joseph's parish, who is now away, was also expressive of good wishes. Another telegram from Cardinal Merry del Val, papal secretary, gave the venerable sister a special papal benediction on the occasion of her jubilee.

Rev. Fr. Smith announced that next Monday morning a special jubilee high mass would be sung at St. Jean Baptiste church, at which he, Rev. Fr. Smith, will officiate.

Nine young women of the congregation Notre Dame de Lourdes, wearing gold ribbon badges, formed the reception committee. They were Misses Corinne Houx, president; Anna Barry, Bertha Cote, Marie Louise Roy, Lucie Carufel, Marie Houx, Amanda Bergeron, Albina Bourgeois and Josephine Hensault.

Last call on bulbs. Those who want a pretty bed in the spring should order now. This is the time to plant bulbs. As we have a few thousand still on hand you can get the best quality at the price of cheaper grades, while our supply lasts, at McMillan's, florist, 6 Prescott street.

PROVIDENCE BOYS WON
BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Providence technical high was the team trophy in the schoolboy cross country run over the Massachusetts Institute of Technology course yesterday, scoring 27 points.

Individual honors went to James Henigan of Malden high who finished 200 yards ahead of G. R. Forsythe of the Providence Technical high in 27 minutes, 21 4-5 seconds, within five seconds of the record for the event held by Gardner Whitney, of the Brookline high, two years ago.

During the afternoon Secretary and Mrs. Knox, members of the diplomatic corps, and many other prominent officials were expected to call at the Longworth residence for tea.

In the evening the colonel will be the guest of honor at a dinner given by Dr. Wolcott, director of the Smithsonian institution, at which a number of the country's leading scientists will be present.

Mr. Roosevelt will leave for Oyster Bay tomorrow.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE
George Barr McCutcheon's greatest story, "Graustark," dramatized by Grace Hayward and adapted by George D. Baker will be the attraction at the Opera House, next Monday night, Nov. 21.

It is needless to dwell too strongly upon Mr. McCutcheon's book, inasmuch as it has proved to be the most masterly romantic story for many years. Not even "Brewster's Millions," another success by the same author, can compare with "Graustark," as a play of sterling worth. From the rise of the curtain to the final drop, it is one continuous cycle of old world intrigue, handled in a bustling American fashion, a variety of comedy found only in high class plays, and dashes of love episodes unequalled in either the comedy or dramatic offerings of the present day. The company engaged in the presentation of the piece and the scenic order, and has been highly recommended by both press and public in all the large cities of the country.

"Graustark," is all and probably more as a play than the book is as a story. It reaches the public's fancy. What more can be asked?

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure The only baking powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar No Alum, No Lime Phosphate

ROOSEVELT BUSY Kept on the Go in Washington

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—A busy program was mapped out for Colonel Theodore Roosevelt today. It was his first visit to the national capital since he was president. The colonel went first of all to the Smithsonian institution at 10 a. m. to examine the multitude of specimens secured in the African expedition which have been mounted there. At noon he was entertained at luncheon by Gilbert Grosvenor, editor of the National Geographic magazine. In the afternoon he remained at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, where returns from the Yale-Harvard football game at New Haven were received.

During the afternoon Secretary and Mrs. Knox, members of the diplomatic corps, and many other prominent officials were expected to call at the Longworth residence for tea.

In the evening the colonel will be the guest of honor at a dinner given by Dr. Wolcott, director of the Smithsonian institution, at which a number of the country's leading scientists will be present.

Mr. Roosevelt will leave for Oyster Bay tomorrow.

SUFFRAGETTES Were Not Prosecuted in London Court

LONDON, Nov. 19.—To their chagrin the 110 suffragettes who were arrested yesterday in their attempt to storm parliament were discharged in the Bow street police court today. The defendants had been released on bail last day the attorney for the crown announced that Home Secretary Churchill had decided on the ground of public policy that no benefit would be gained by proceeding with the prosecution. The willing martyrs to the cause of woman suffrage received this statement with hisses and boos.

THREE-WHEELED AUTO
DETROIT, Nov. 19.—A three-wheeled automobile will be manufactured in Detroit soon by a company now in process of organization. A sample car has been run 5000 miles. The single wheel is in the rear. It is claimed that this arrangement does away with skidding.

DOCKSTADER
A few Dockstader and his "twentieth century minstrel," now under the management of the Messrs. Shubert, will be the attraction at the Opera House soon with a minstrel show fashioned along lines different from any ever offered here. In the cities where Mr. Dockstader and his notable aggregation have appeared thus far he has been extensively complimented for presenting an innovation as well as an agreeable surprise to his numerous admirers.

THEATRE VOYONS
The attention of the whole country was yesterday focused on Ralph Johnson, the daring Wright aviator who met with such a sad accident the day before. Today the Theatre Voyons shows this daring aviator performing the same feat he was led to his accident of Wednesday and clearly and in every detail the great chances he took in making his spiral climbs to the clouds appear on the screen. He is shown circling and dipping sometimes with his machine at an angle of 90 degrees and at other times showing the whole swooping down till it touches the ground, only to rise again like a bird. These pictures will be shown today and Sunday.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Sunday night at the Merrimack Square theatre there will be another of those big Sunday night concert bills with an elaborate and varied program in keeping with the day. Six of the best vaudeville acts to be found on the scenic circuit have been obtained for appearance at the concert, and in addition there will be several films of the best moving pictures interspersed on the bill, including the splendid feature, "Pastoral Scene."

The headline act next week is Kenney and Hollis, the college boys, in a

SCENE IN "THE FAMILY."

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

George Barr McCutcheon's greatest story, "Graustark," dramatized by Grace Hayward and adapted by George D. Baker will be the attraction at the Opera House, next Monday night, Nov. 21.

It is needless to dwell too strongly upon Mr. McCutcheon's book, inasmuch as it has proved to be the most masterly romantic story for many years. Not even "Brewster's Millions," another success by the same author, can compare with "Graustark," as a play of sterling worth. From the rise of the curtain to the final drop, it is one continuous cycle of old world intrigue, handled in a bustling American fashion, a variety of comedy found only in high class plays, and dashes of love episodes unequalled in either the comedy or dramatic offerings of the present day. The company engaged in the presentation of the piece and the scenic order, and has been highly recommended by both press and public in all the large cities of the country.

"Graustark," is all and probably more as a play than the book is as a story. It reaches the public's fancy. What more can be asked?

THE FAMILY
The Messrs. Shubert's latest dramatic success, "The Family," with the original New York cast headed by John Westley, comes to the Opera House next Tuesday and Wednesday, with Wednesday matinee. The play, which created a sensation in Boston by Robert H. Davis, formerly a newspaper man and now editor of "Mansfield's Magazine," is a comedy and sentimental. "The Family" is remarkable. The locale is laid in a small town outside of Boston. The Sneed's, a family composed of father, mother, two daughters and son, are of the ordinary sort, yet the first son is a loner of the first water, and like his father, is given to playing the ponies and indulging in other vices. The elder daughter is tired of the house drudgery and longs for a change of life. A minstrel man, in the trappings of his order is introduced into the family and induces the girl to leave her home. She goes on the road with him, but the family overtake her at Springfield and she returns to the parental roof. Her lover, meantime is killed in a railroad wreck.

THE FINAL SETTLEMENT
A comedy drama by L. B. Parker, "The Final Settlement," will be the attraction at the Opera House on Thursday, Nov. 24, Thanksgiving Day, and Friday and Saturday. The play presents a realistic picture of American social life, is somewhat melodramatic and is one of the big successes of the present season. It depicts the rise of a brilliant but ambitious young workman from the ranks of labor to a position as president of a big iron trust. This sudden elevation bewilders his wife, who clings to her old fashioned ideals of husband, child and home. The man's ruin, and the faithfulness of the wife in the time of need, are told in a powerful manner by the dramatist. It is a strong simple story of a place of life which is becoming only too commonplace at the present time. The cast includes J. L. Whiteside, Will L. White, Pauline Geary, Gladys Gillen, Elizabeth Royal, John Graham, Fred R. Strong, Herbert Butler, Evelyn James, and Harry Edwards. Matinees will be given daily and seats are now on sale.

DOCKSTADER
A few Dockstader and his "twentieth century minstrel," now under the management of the Messrs. Shubert, will be the attraction at the Opera House soon with a minstrel show fashioned along lines different from any ever offered here. In the cities where Mr. Dockstader and his notable aggregation have appeared thus far he has been extensively complimented for presenting an innovation as well as an agreeable surprise to his numerous admirers.

THEATRE VOYONS
The attention of the whole country was yesterday focused on Ralph Johnson, the daring Wright aviator who met with such a sad accident the day before. Today the Theatre Voyons shows this daring aviator performing the same feat he was led to his accident of Wednesday and clearly and in every detail the great chances he took in making his spiral climbs to the clouds appear on the screen. He is shown circling and dipping sometimes with his machine at an angle of 90 degrees and at other times showing the whole swooping down till it touches the ground, only to rise again like a bird. These pictures will be shown today and Sunday.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Sunday night at the Merrimack Square theatre there will be another of those big Sunday night concert bills with an elaborate and varied program in keeping with the day. Six of the best vaudeville acts to be found on the scenic circuit have been obtained for appearance at the concert, and in addition there will be several films of the best moving pictures interspersed on the bill, including the splendid feature, "Pastoral Scene."

The headline act next week is Kenney and Hollis, the college boys, in a typical college boy act. People who have seen them say they are the best of the kind ever, which sounds promising.

"The Wildflower" is the sort of a one act play which is sure to appeal. It is a love story of the great west, with soldier and Indian characters. The presenting company is admirable. One of the number is no less than Arthur Beauvais, the well known French-Canadian actor.

Other good acts on the bill are "Tom Bateman, the sailor boy," the Three Ross Sisters, dancers and singers, with plenty of ginger. The Rosses no relation, believe us who are known as vaudeville's sweetest singers. Great bill that.

Thanksgiving, with its spirit of joy and gratitude, comes next week, and the Hathaway theatre will do its part toward making the festival season memorable. The feature act is one great big scream of joy, presented by the famous Ellis-Nowlan Troupe. It is a comic pantomimic production, entitled "Fun in a Fire Station." There are twelve people in the cast, all clever comedians, and their efforts to amuse are side-splittingly successful. Peter Donald, "The Scotchman" with the Lamp Post, and Meta Carson, "The Bonnie Scotch Lassie," present their Scotch novelty act, "Alec McLean's Dream," one of the standard successes of vaudeville. The four Grohns, three shapely women and a man, who does some comedy stunts in clown makeup, give an expert exhibition of contortion. J. Arthur O'Brien & Co. evoke shouts of joy from the turbulent comedy of their sketch, "My Wife's Hamilton." Eugene Jerga and Edith Hamilton, a tall comedian and a frolicsome midget, promise "Just a Little Bit of Vaudeville," but their songs, dances and perfillage are of a quality that inspire audiences to stretch that little bit into a great deal more. Princess Miroff offers a pretty Russian novelty act, including songs, instruction in dancing, and a number that will delight the women and children who always crowd the theatre during the holidays. The moving pictures will be all new and very interesting.

Is your fireplace ready for Thanksgiving day? The Thompson Hardware Co. have all the equipments for it. Andirons, Fire Sets, Fenders, Screens.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC
One of the largest audiences of the season was at the Academy of Music last night, as it was amateur night, which was in addition to the regular house show of vaudeville and pictures. There were a dozen would-be actors and plenty of fun. For one hour they kept the audience in roars of laughter with their stunts. There were vocalists, dancers, acrobats and musicals and the fun was fast and furious. Everybody left the theatre well pleased that the day a big evening's pleasure. There will be a sacred concert tomorrow afternoon and evening.

CONVICTED OF MURDER
DE QUEEN, Ark., Nov. 19.—In the circuit court here yesterday a jury returned a verdict of murder in the first degree against John Ford and his wife, Lella Ford, tried for the killing of William Nichols near here on September 30. Judge Cowling sentenced both to be hanged on January 20.

The Fords were tenants of Nichols, who was a former member of the Arkansas legislature. The tragedy resulted from Nichols driving across a new patch rented by the Fords to reach a hay barn he had reserved for his use.

SAVE
The price of your Thanksgiving dinner by making your purchases

AT THE
Merrimack Clothing Co
Across From City Hall

CARVING SETS
For Thanksgiving
Now lot just received from factory. Special low prices during the great sale now going on. Don't buy until you examine them and get our prices.

$5.00 Sets, sale price $4.00
$5.00 Sets, sale price $4.00
$10.00 Sets, sale price $8.00
$15.00 Sets, sale price $12.00

GEO. H. WOOD
Wholesale and Retail
137-141 CENTRAL STREET

VESSEL VANISHES 29 WERE FINED

Boat From Boston Dis-
appears at Sea

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—With nothing heard from her since she passed out by Boston light at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of Nov. 10, the British tramp steamer Troncare, bound from this port for Baltimore to load coal for Cuba, has dropped out of sight as completely as though she had been swallowed up by the sea. This is little short of extraordinary, for in the passage of 700 miles to the Chesapeake, she would ordinarily have been spotted several times. And why the vessel has not arrived at her destination, with no storms to hinder, her progress, her agents, A. G. Lombard's Sons, would greatly like to know. She is owned by the Troncare, Ltd., of London. The Troncare arrived here from Cardenas, Cuba, with sugar Nov. 2 and left about a week later in ballast for Baltimore to load coal for Jamaica. Capt. W. Y. Hunter, her commander, an Englishman, decided to take the course outside of Nantucket and avoid Vineyard Sound.

It is probable her machinery has been in some way disabled, but that she has never been reported by either passing vessels or from some marine station is inexplicable. Only one theory—that of collision—would account for such a total disappearance. But even in the case, it is thought some thing would have been learned of the occurrence long before this. She is now fully four days overdue at her destination.

The first bit of anxiety began to be felt here when some inquiries from New York were received regarding the tramp. Nothing could be vouchsafed here, because nothing was known of her since she sailed. She carries no passengers, and was built in Whitby, Eng., in 1897. She has a crew of 23 men of all nationalities and as far as known none were shipped at this port. When she arrived here from Cuba there was little else to eat on board but thinned mutton and biscuit, for she took longer on the run to this port than her skipper had anticipated. She is 310 feet long, 44 feet breadth of beam and she has a gross tonnage of 2553.

Crusade Against Spitting in Boston Streets

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—With the help of various unsuspecting and unfortunate citizens the busy Boston patrolmen came up to the mark set by Commissioner O'Meara, yesterday by bringing into the lower courts of the city thirty offenders under the expectationation dition. All but one of these had to pay a fine, the exception being a man arrested by Patrolman Fisher of the city street station, for whom the officers put in an appeal to the effect that he was 60 years old and poor. Judge Ely put this case on file. The fines amounted to $68. There wasn't a single prosecution in Dorchester. The two South Boston stations had six convictions, one resulting in a fine of $5, the harshest of the day. Some of the cases were appealed.

The commissioner's requirement for the patrolmen today is forty-five prosecutions. Several of the police captains doubt if this quota can be produced unless special plain clothes men are sent out. They say the public is getting educated rapidly and that the conspicuous "spitters" are getting "leary" of brass buttons.

Three alleged violators of the expectationation law were taken into custody in Charlestown early last evening. They gave the names of Edward Doherty, John Hall and Michael Leary. They are arraigned this morning.

THE INSURGENTS
WANTED ACCESS TO BOOKS OF
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 19.—The movement made by the insurgents for access to the books of the National Grange for the purpose of curing evidence of the alleged reckless use of funds of the organization, met defeat yesterday after a lengthy debate, in which the hostile forces put forth their best speakers.

Worthy Master Helme, of Michigan, presented the resolution, asking permission to go over the records of the grange, under proper supervision. Speeches by Worthy Masters Cressy of Oregon, Kexley of Washington, Hampton of New York, and Helme were countered by Raine of Missouri, Wilson of Illinois, Peterson of Maryland and Hoyt of South Dakota, speakers representing the stand-patters. Wives in many cases voted in opposition to the men when the stand-patters and insurgents finally lined up for the vote.

When the vote was counted the insurgents had not the votes in their first move to wrest the control of the powerful farmer body from the present administration.

Regarding the plans of the administration which holds over, as the national officers are elected every other year to have the so-called agitators brought to trial and dropped from membership, one of the officers said that unless the opposition sustained its allegations Monday when the National Grange would sit as trial jury and would not adjourn until a vote was taken, formal charges would be prosecuted in the cases to which the originators of the allegations belonged. The two leaders who are most likely to be brought to trial are George P. Hampton of New York city, and George Helme, editor of a farmers' journal in Michigan.

In a modified form the plan to increase the power of the larger states in the national body is to be taken up today, when a suggestion will be made that in the future the same delegate power be conferred.

Co-operation in stores, in life insurance, in fire insurance and in marketing products chiefly occupied the attention of the grange prior to the conclusion of the opening of the books. Every state master who reported said that where the co-operative plan had been introduced, it was growing in popularity and was saving large sums of money to the farmers.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL
The members of Passaconaway tribe of Red Men met in their wigwag, Odd Fellows hall, last night and held an interesting session. The anniversary committee reported that arrangements for the coming event had been completed and satisfactory results are looked for. The class initiation committee reported progress. After adjournment a whist tournament was started and suitable prizes were awarded the winners.

FOUR MEN DROWNED
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—Four men comprising the crew of the sea-going tug San Prince, were drowned last night in the bay off Angel Island, when the British steamer Graystone Castle, rammed and sank the tug. Captain L. Langren, master of the Sea Prince was the only man on the tug who was saved.

TWO DIAMONDS OF EQUAL WEIGHTS ARE OFTEN OF WIDELY DIFFERENT VALUES

The quality, cutting and color are what determine the worth of a diamond. Such stones are worth from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. more than those of ill-shape, dull or yellowish color and those containing flaws. You can't get diamond-worth simply by buying weight. The first thing to be considered is perfect quality, even if the size be smaller. No Gem of Questionable Character Finds Place in Our Stock. There is absolutely no risk in buying here. We always consider quality first in buying, and talk quality in selling. You'll find us worthy of your confidence, for we have nothing but best quality stones to offer. Our prices for higher quality stones are lower, made possible by our superior buying facilities.

—AT—
FRANK RICARD'S

Thanksgiving Day Specials
CARVING KNIVES, 35c to $25.00
We have a splendid assortment to select from. Buy a good set and enjoy carving your turkey.

Special Sale of NUT PICKS and CRACKS
10c per set of 6, regular 25c goods
15c per set of 12, regular 50c goods
We have the sets in various patterns.

THE THOMPSON HARDWARE COMPANY
254-256 Merrimack Street.

N. B. Pop Corn all shelled, 6c lb. 5 lbs. 25c.
Our new Steel Pepper 25c.

Every Woman Needs
the occasional help of a proper remedy if she is to retain her strength, her good looks and her health. When headache, backache, lassitude and extreme nervousness afflict you at times—and hinder your work or spoil your pleasures—do not think you must continue to endure these troubles. If your skin is sallow, you have disfiguring blemishes or other indications of a disordered condition, do not think that there is no help for you. There is. Seek

The Safe and Natural Help of a remedy—proved and tried by thousands. Beecham's Pills are vegetable, quickly effective and always beneficial. Their tonic and stimulating qualities make them of special advantage to women. All the organs show their benefit. You should not be without a box a single day. If you want the bright eye of health, good rich blood, a clear complexion and vigorous feelings—if you want to be cheerful and in good humor—try a few doses of

Beecham's Pills

Get them at any drugstore, in boxes 10c, 25c. For your own good read the special directions for women in every box.

THE LOWELL SUN

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor

SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.

Member of the Associated Press

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was 16,828

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

FOSS UNPLEDGED TO POLITICIANS

It was freely stated before the election that victory for Foss would turn the control of the state over to Mayor Fitzgerald and Mr. Lomasney of Boston. Mr. Foss has made a statement, however, that would seem to set aside any misgivings on this point. He states that he will appoint only men who can stand publicly, and he will give their names to the press before appointment in order that anything that can be said against them may be known before they are allowed to enter office. If they are hailed as clean and competent men they will be appointed, not otherwise. If Mr. Foss as governor hopes to have his appointees escape bitter criticism from some portion of the party press we fear he will be mistaken.

The fact that Mayor Fitzgerald and Lomasney favored the election of Foss does not at all indicate that his administration will be dominated by the Boston democracy.

CHAMP CLARK FOR SPEAKER

Now that the national house of representatives will be democratic, the democrats will have the choice of a speaker, and Mr. Cannon will be among the opposition from the floor. Already it is stated upon the best of authority that Champ Clark of Missouri will be the choice of the democrats for speaker.

Mr. Clark is an able man, a powerful speaker, and a parliamentarian of long experience. When he opposed Speaker Cannon's arbitrary sway he advocated a change that would take away from the speaker the power of appointing committees. It is probable that this rule will be applied to him, and that a committee will do what the speaker was formerly accustomed to do in the assignment of committees.

Champ Clark as speaker of the house would command the respect of both parties to a greater degree than Mr. Cannon could possibly have done in his palmist days. Clark is gifted with the faculty of humor, which is a valuable asset to a man who occupies the speaker's chair. He has been in congress for about sixteen years, and is fully versed with the workings of congress, with all the rules and customs of the house.

ONE OF THE BAD TRUSTS

The Imperial Window Glass trust has been prosecuted by the United States government, and fifteen officers and directors of the concern have been fined $500 each, with an additional fine of $2,500 upon the corporation for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The company seems to be determined to suspend business unless its employees resume work at wages 30 per cent. lower. United States Attorney General Wickersham declares that there is no justification for any such reduction, but the company is fixed in its purpose to throw the weight of the fines and the interruption of its business over upon the employees of the concern.

The trouble with this and some other trusts is that they have been allowed to go too far in defiance of the law, and when they are then called to account they feel that there is no justification for the application of the law in their case.

In this particular case the officials of the company should be thankful that they did not get a jail sentence. The company began business in January, 1910, and by October the prices of glass had been advanced 70 per cent. During the ten months it has been in business it cleared $1,000,000, making 400 per cent. on its capital stock. That was a species of public plunder for which the directors of the company should be sentenced to prison.

TOLSTOI'S SELF-CONTRADICTIONS

Count Tolstoi's flight into solitude to die is characteristic of his customary acts. He was born a great painter of life and realism, and after writing a few great novels that startled the world, he assumed the role of philosopher, preacher and teacher in which he proved an utter failure.

At one time he made a gross attack upon the sanctity of Christian marriage; at another he set himself up in opposition to Christ in a work bearing the egotistical title, "My Religion and Christ's Christianity."

He condemned all high art, so called, because it demands taste for its appreciation and aesthetic taste is undemocratic. Herein lies one of his eccentric and absurd views, for if high ideals are not cherished even by the ignorant and materialistic, these classes will inevitably sink lower in the intellectual and artistic scale.

Perhaps it is not entirely fair to condemn Tolstoi for his philosophy and his peculiar code of ethics, as he hardly said anything of importance that he did not afterwards contradict, so that the man as he is considered in relation to his works may be regarded as a bundle of self-contradictions.

The fact seems to be with Tolstoi as with many other men who have attained high intellectual eminence—they begin to think that they are too great to accept the doctrine of any authority who preceded them. They affect a self-sufficiency unto themselves and to stand upon a moral ethical plane above that of the moral teachers of the ages.

As in the case of Tolstoi, some of them discover the utter shallowness of their opinions on such matters and so acknowledge to the world before their death; but a considerable number die believing they have left something new to benefit mankind, but as in the case of Tolstoi it is found that unless they build upon a Christian foundation, their structures will speedily crumble and decay. Again and again has it been demonstrated that neither profound learning nor the gift of genius will aid in the least in discrediting the moral law based on the decalogue or in finding any acceptable substitute.

There is proof of this in the fact that Tolstoi in his old age ill-treats his wife who, besides being the mother of a large family, has been his editor, his business manager, and his wise counsellor through the best years of his life. That he has acted foolishly and repudiated not only his domestic but other obligations is due to the fact that he failed to take his wife's advice.

The philosophy and ethics that would justify such conduct at any stage in life is sadly out of joint. That he had a contempt for human nature and for every system of religion explains his failure to find the truth and the hopelessness and helplessness of his declining years.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Henry Clay Barnabee, the veteran singer and comedian, and long prominent in The Bostonians, was 77 years old Monday. Mr. Barnabee now makes his home with his niece, Mrs. Henry Brewer, in Rindge's avenue, Jamaica Plain. He enjoys very good health. His anniversary day was pleasantly remembered in many ways by his friends, among whom are hosts of men and women once, or even now, prominent before the footlights.

President Butler of Columbia has decided to remain on the board of trustees of the National Education association, despite the fact that it had been his intention to resign. In a letter to the secretary of the association, Dr. Butler says that he has yielded to the "urgent and numerous appeals that have reached me from so many of the prominent members of the association."

Henry Arthur Jones, the English playwright, is to superintend the American production of a play he has just finished, and also to deliver two lectures, one at Columbia university and one at the University of Chicago. The lectures will naturally be on the subject of the drama. Mr. Jones was invited to deliver them several years ago, but has not had an opportunity to do so until this winter.

Lord Strathcona, Canadian high commissioner in London, has donated an additional $200,000 to the Strathcona trust fund for the encouragement of physical training of military drill in the public schools of Canada. Lord Strathcona last year gave $300,000 to establish the fund which now gives an annual sum of $20,000 to the Dominion committee in charge.

FINANCE COM.

OF CHARTER REVISION MOVEMENT ORGANIZED

The finance committee of the charter revision committee organized yesterday at a meeting held in the board of trade rooms.

Dr. J. E. Lamoureux was chosen chairman and George M. Harrington treasurer. Secretary John H. Murphy of the board of trade will act as secretary of the committee.

The work of the committee is to devise a means of raising such funds as necessary to carry on a campaign of education in the matter of charter study and the meeting yesterday gave preliminary consideration to the various plans.

On Monday night, after the meeting of the large revision committee, the finance committee will meet again to decide upon the methods to be followed.

ATTACK OF HICCUGHS

BEELMAR, N. J. Nov. 19.—Violent and incessant hiccoughs have so worn down the strength of the Rev. J. W. McLaughlin of this town that physicians in attendance have slight hope of his recovery. Four years ago he had a similar but milder attack, and was only saved with great difficulty.

The present attack began last Tuesday and continued until last evening, when powerful opiates brought it under control.

PUZZLING HAIR QUESTIONS

The questions are how can I make my hair more beautiful? How can I stop it from falling out? How can I prevent the formation of scales and dandruff? The answer is simple. Shampoo your hair frequently with a preparation made of refined soap, which cleans away dirt, dust and germs; Glycerin, which softens and soothes the scalp and is a valuable healing agent; White of Eggs, which removes scaly matter; Coconut Oil, which gives the hair a beautiful gloss and prevents the dry condition which results from using ordinary soaps or shampoos; Salicylic Acid, which is an antiseptic that removes germs, bacteria and disagreeable odors. If these common sense reasons appeal to you, buy a tube of Elok's Head Wash, which is made of all the above described ingredients, and your hair troubles will be at an end. Sold by dept. and drug stores at 25c and 50c.

Pekin Restaurant

CHINESE AND AMERICAN CUISINE
The most beautiful eating place in the city; typically Chinese. Our mode of preparing and serving food cannot be improved upon. 25c course dinner from 11:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. Give us a trial. Prompt service. Open daily from 11:30 a. m. to 1 a. m. Sunday included. 29 Central st. cor. Middle st. Lowell, Mass. Tel. 1055.

Chin Lee & Co

Chinese and American Restaurant
Dining rooms reserved for ladies or private parties. This restaurant is open from 11:30 a. m. to 1 a. m. including Sunday. 117 Merrimack st. near John st. Telephone 1322.

MONUMENTS AND MEMORIALS

of all descriptions in granite, marble and bronze. Our manufacturing plant has the most modern power equipment and every latest saving device.

GUMB BROS.

Cor. Graham and Anderson Sts.
Near Edison Cemetery
Telephone 1517.

DR. EDWARDS'

DANDELION
TABLETS AND PILLS
A Miracle as a Blood Purifier
Say thousands who have used them. A positive cure for Rheumatism, catarrh and Foul Breath. Best remedy for Liver, Kidney and Stomach. Eliminates all poisons from the system. Without gripping. Purely vegetable and guaranteed under Pure Food and Drug Law. Free samples on request. DR. EDWARDS' DANDELION CO., 54 Franklin street, New York. 25 cents a box at JALL & LYON CO., 67-69 Merrimack st., Lowell, Mass.

SPECIALS

Steamed clams, 20c; fried oysters and French fries, 25c; fried clams and French fries, 25c. Call and see us.

LOWELL INN

Busiest place on Central street

ST. THOMAS' SALVE

—FOR—Piles, Old Sores and Skin Diseases

—FOR SALE—
At All Up-to-Date Drug Stores

THIRTY-FIVE CENTS

WOOL SORTERS

Annual Sociable Held in Prescott Hall

The first annual social and dancing party of the Wool Sorters' union was held last night in Prescott hall and the friends of the organization turned out in large numbers. The music for dancing was furnished by Hibbard's orchestra.

The success of the affair was due to the energetic work of the following officers: General manager, Michael J. O'Hearn; assistant general manager, Daniel Kline; floor director, Ben Gagan; assistant floor director, John Clarke; chief aid, Thomas F. McTeague; aids, John J. McQuade, Adelard Boudreau, Frederick Kline, Carl Gracich, John W. Hoyt, Michael Lee, Julius Hoelzel, Joseph Lefebvre, James McTeague, Patrick Connors, Martin Larkin, Thomas Bailey, Thomas McCarty, Michael Duggan, Arthur Short, John Talley, treasurer and secretary.

PLACED ON FILE

REP. O'CONNELL DID NOT INTEND TO VIOLATE LAW

BOSTON, November 19.—Judge Stevens in the superior criminal court yesterday placed on file the complaint against Congressman Joseph F. O'Connell, accused of violating the election law in handing out a card containing the state of the Young Men's democratic club at a booth in precinct 5, ward 20, at the last municipal election.

In his affidavit he says in conclusion: "The defendant asks that the case be placed on file or not proceed because there was no intention of committing any violation of the election law, and inasmuch as he is a member of congress and a public trial of the case will materially damage him in his reputation and profession, although the complaint is but a misdemeanor with a maximum penalty of $20."

In the Dorchester district court the congressman did not appear and the judge imposed a fine of $20. An appeal was taken.

Lowell City Library

WEEKLY LIST OF ADDITIONS

CHESTERBTON, G. K. The Napoleon of Notting Hill $2.50
DAVIS, W. S. The Influence of Wealth in History $2.50
DELAUNAY, H. Boys' Book of Airships $2.50
GILBERT, A. The Great Cleveland $2.50
GREENFELD, W. T. Down to the sea: yarns from the Labrador $1.75
HALL, S. Your Education $1.75
HARRIS, J. M. Nooks and corners of old London $1.75
JACKMAN, A. E. The Diseases of the Nose and Treatment of the Diseases of the Eye $1.75
JOHN, J. C. Law relating to Intoxicating Liquors $1.75
JUDSON, K. B. Myths and legends of the Pacific Northwest; especially of Washington and Oregon $1.75
LOUNSBERRY, C. Gardens near the sea $1.75
MACPHERSON, H. Romance of modern astronomy $2.50
NOLAN, H. de Vergerilles. Les Grands Palais de France $2.50
PARKER, H. C. Handbook of diseases of the eye $1.75
SEIDLITZ, W. Von. History of Japanese colour-prints $1.75
SEWALL, C. L. Lessons in telegraphy $1.75
VILLARD, O. G. John Brown 1800-1859; a biography fifty years after $1.75
WASHBURN, C. C. Pages from the book of Paris. Enchiridion and drawings by Lester G. Hornby $1.75
WILKINS, A. How it is done. The stories of the engineer $2.50

FICTION

BINDLOSS, H. Masters of the Wheat $1.75
BLANCHARD, G. Phil's happy girl $1.75
CHANDLER, A. (Annie Rivers) Pan's mountain $1.75
COYD, H. A. The Frontiersman's tale $1.75
DAWSON, W. The Scourge $1.75
DELAND, The Way to Peace $1.75
DOUGLAS, H. The Man in the mirror $1.75
FRANKAU, J. (Frank Danby) Let the world be true $1.75
HUGHES, R. The gift wife $1.75
JONES, S. C. Out of Drowning Valley $1.75
LLOYD, J. U. The invaders $1.75
LONDON, J. Burning Daylight $1.75
McCARTER, M. H. The Price of the promise: a story of Kansas $1.75
McCONAUGHY, J. W. Madame X: a story of mother-love $1.75
MITCHELL, S. W. The dutiful child and other stories $1.75
NICHOLSON, M. The Siege of the soviet $1.75
SCHWARTZ, M. (Marion) $1.75
SNAITH, J. C. Mrs. Fitz $1.75
STUART, R. M. Sonny's father $1.75
WHITE, S. E. The Rules of the game $1.75
WHITE, W. H. The Crime $1.75
ZOLLINGER, G. The Rout of the foreigner $1.75

Bay State Dye Works

There is such a thing as dyeing and also such a thing as lying. When a person tells you that one dye house is just as good as another, that is lying. There is just as much difference in work done at the Bay State Dye Works as you can imagine. When you have your work done here you can feel sure that you have gone to the best place and will get the best results. That is the truth and we will prove it if you only give us a trial order. Bring in your winter wearing apparel and you will get it when you need it at Lowell's Leading Dye Works.

54 Prescott St. D. J. Leary, Prop.

Dwyer & Co.

PAINTERS, DECORATORS AND PAPER HANGERS

Estimates on all kinds of jobs, large or small, at 47 Answer street.

See Our New Line of

Bags

Suit Cases

LEATHER NOVELTIES, ETC.

FOR HOLIDAY GIFTS

DEVINE'S

124 Merrimack St. Tel. 2150

Repairing, Etc.

A BOLD STEP

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course; pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broad-cast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines.

Thus Dr. Pierce has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits and placed them in a class all by themselves by making them remedies of known composition. By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same.

As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, antversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

LARGE DECREASE

In the Imports From Europe

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Official returns of the foreign commerce of the United States during the 8 months ending with August, 1910, compared with the corresponding months of earlier years, have just been received by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor. They show that imports from Europe decreased from 64 million dollars in the 8 months of 1908 to 54 million in 1910; those from America (chiefly the United States), from 31 million dollars to 17 million; while imports from Asia increased from 22 million dollars to 28 million, and from all other countries chiefly Egypt and Australia, from 5 million to 5 1/2 million dollars. In other words, during the period under consideration European merchandise showed a loss of 16 per cent, American products a loss of 48 per cent, and Asiatic products a gain of 27 per cent, the decrease in the total imports being 3 1/2 per cent. The share which Asiatic merchandise forms of the total imports of that country has risen from less than 40 per cent in 1908 to over 50 per cent in 1910, while Europe's share has fallen from 40 per cent in 1908 to 35 per cent in 1910, and that of America from 19 per cent in 1908 to 11 per cent in 1910.

British India leads all other countries in the value of its imports into Japan, being credited in the eight months under review with 45 million dollars, against 32 million from Great Britain, 27 million from the United States, 16 million from China, 14 million from Germany, 5 million from Dutch East Indies, 4 million from Korea, 3 1/2 million from Kwantung (Liaoning Peninsula), and 3 million from Belgium. These figures represent in each case, save that of India, a decrease when compared with those of a like period of 1908. Imports from Great Britain in that period have decreased 8 million dollars; those from the United States, 13 million; Dutch East Indies, 4 million; and Germany, 3 million, while those from India grew from a million dollars in 8 months of 1908 to 45 million in the corresponding months of 1910.

This large increase in the 1910 imports from India occurred chiefly in raw cotton, due largely to the high prices of cotton from the United States. Japan draws largely upon the United States for raw cotton, though in those years in which prices of American cotton are exceptionally high, the shorter stapled and lower priced cotton of India is drawn upon. The quantity of raw cotton imported into Japan from India in the 8 months of 1910 was 660 million pounds, valued at 44 million dollars, against 77 million pounds, valued at 17 million dollars in the same months of 1908; while that from the United States decreased during corresponding periods from 87 million pounds, valued at 21 million dollars in 1908, to 34 million pounds, valued at 5 million dollars in 1910. Thus the quantity of cotton drawn from India more than doubled, while that from the United States fell off more than one-half. Concurrently with Japan's increased imports of raw cotton have occurred decreased imports of cotton cloths from that country (representing over 20 per cent of the total) having dropped from 5 million dollars in 1908 to 4 million in 1910. In this trade the United States did not share to any appreciable extent.

Under the head of iron and steel practically all the important classes show decreased importations, except those from the United States. Imports of machinery and engines from the United States in the eight months under consideration decreased from 4 million dollars in 1908 to 1 1/2 million in 1910; locomotives and rolling stock, from 1 million dollars to less than 200,000; and rails, from 1 million to $43,000. Iron nails show an increase from 300 thousand to 520 thousand dollars. Decreases occurred in imports of iron and steel manufactures from Great Britain, Germany and Belgium. Kerosene imports from the United States during the eight months under review increased from 2 1/2 million gallons, valued at 3 million dollars in 1908, to 3 1/2 million gallons, valued at 4 million dollars in 1910, while those from Dutch East Indies decreased meantime from 20 million gallons, valued at 2 million dollars, to 13 1/2 million gallons in 1908 to 1 1/2 million in 1910. Flour imports into Japan show a marked decrease, those from the United States which supplied fully 95 per cent of the total, having fallen from 245,000 barrels, valued at 1 million dollars, in the 8 months of 1908 to 128,000 barrels, valued at one-half million dollars in the same month of 1910. Imports of leather goods from the United States decreased from 150 thousand dollars in the eight months of 1908 to 477 thousand dollars in the same months of 1910; while those from British India increased meantime from 118 thousand dollars to 230 thousand.

Exports from Japan in the eight months of 1910 showed a general increase compared with like periods of 1908 or 1909, having been, in the eight months of 1910, 142 million dollars, against 126 million in 1908 and 120 million in 1909. All the grand divisions participated in this increase. Asia from 53 million dollars in 1908 to 62 million in 1910; from 25 million to 30 million; America (chiefly the United States), from 38 million to 42 million; and all other countries, from 3 1/2 million to 5 million dollars.

The principal articles exported to the United States in the 8 months of 1910 are: raw silk, 2 1/4 million dollars; silk manufactures, 1 1/2 million dollars; tea, 4 1/2 million dollars; mats and matings, 1 million dollars; processed and earthenware, 1 million dollars; copper ingots, 2 million, and straw, plait and braids, three-fourths million dollars.

Y.W.C.A. MEETING

STEPS TO REDEEM PLEDGE TO THE BUILDING FUND

A well attended meeting of the Woman's auxiliary to the Young Men's Christian Association was held yesterday. During the early portion of the meeting reports were read. The figures which showed what the auxiliary is doing to pay off their pledge of $5000 were shown on a blackboard. It was voted to hold a rummage sale in the near future. At the conclusion of the business meeting the following entertaining program was carried out: Song, Miss Currier; entertainment by the children, entitled "A Picture Gallery." Gracie Pickering, Curtis Mudgett, Agnes Jaynes, Erol Brown, Gordon Pickering, Eva McCarthy, John Osborne, Charles Stanton, May Garra-

BOY RUN OVER

HE FELL UNDER WHEELS OF BAKER'S WAGON

Edward Garner, aged 11 years and son of Mr. and Mrs. George Garner of Lakeview avenue, while trying to steal a ride on a baker's wagon yesterday afternoon, fell and was run over by the vehicle, the wheels passing over the boy's chest. He was taken to his home and upon examination it was found that there were no bones broken and the superficial examination failed to show that there were any internal injuries.

The accident occurred near the corner of Parker avenue and the driver of the wagon did not know that the wheels had passed over the boy until he heard the scream. He then picked the boy up and carried him to his home.

SPENT 3 CENTS

CANDIDATE FOR OFFICE FILES EXPENSE ACCOUNT

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Although defeated as the independence league candidate for justice of the supreme court in the 8th judicial district, Lawrence Jernam McPartlin has much faith in the integrity of the people of this district.

"I paid no money," says Mr. McPartlin in his statement of election expenses, filed yesterday with the secretary of state.

"To the honor of my neighbors and my people, not one human soul asked me for a cent, a drink or a cigar during my campaign. I'll admit my campaign was not strenuous, but my neighbors and acquaintances are honorable citizens. I spent three cents to get the envelope that encloses this statement."

"You're Well!" Then Keep Well—
Don't wait for a sick spell to come along and prostrate you. Take Schenck's Manly Pills whenever you feel a little dull or out of sorts. They keep the digestion strong, the stomach sweet, the bowels regular, the liver active. Wholly vegetable—absolutely harmless—plain or sugar coated, 25c a box. READ OUR FAMED BOOK on lung, liver and stomach disorders. Your name on a post card gets it.
Dr. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Philadelphia, Pa.

SOCIAL TEN CIGAR
Is a leader and is so acknowledged by all smokers
R. H. HARKINS, Manufacturer
912 Gorham Street
LOWELL, MASS.

Carroll Bros.
PLUMBERS, STEAM FITTERS AND SHEET METAL WORKERS
36 Middle Street Telephone 1650

EX-PRES. ROOSEVELT

Tells Geographical Society About Adventures in the Jungle

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt returned to the national capital yesterday for the first time since his official departure from the White House in March 1909. In the role of sportsman and scientist, he came to relate before the National Geographical society last night his adventures in the African jungle. Fully 5000 persons, including cabinet officers, supreme court justices and members of the diplomatic corps crowded Convention hall and gave him an enthusiastic welcome.

Much interest was manifested whether he would refer to the recent political upheaval or politics in general, but beyond the remark that "every dog has his day but the night belongs to the cats," which he made in jest before the National Press club, where he was informally received yesterday afternoon shortly after his arrival, the colonel evaded mention of politics.

From the moment of his arrival at 4.20 o'clock yesterday afternoon, however, when he was met at the station by his daughter, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, and delegations from the National Geographical society and the National Press club, the colonel kept up a rapid fire of superlatives that evinced the hearty enjoyment he felt at returning to scenes that recalled strenuous days of executive action.

As the colonel stepped into the station from the train the large crowd which had gathered there cheered him loudly, and along the streets through which his automobile passed on the way to the National Press club people lined the sidewalks and shouted a noisy welcome. The colonel waved his hat continuously.

Greeted Newspaper Men
At the National Press club there was a great gathering of newspaper men and their friends.

"My friends," he began, "I am very deeply touched by your kind way of greeting me and I do hope you understand how genuinely I feel it. I do not want to make any comments."

Mr. Roosevelt joined in the laugh that followed and added: "I wish thinking of one, however, that would be sufficiently suggestive. I wish to say that every dog has his day, but the night belongs to the cats."

When the laughter subsided the colonel paid a compliment to the character of the newspaper men of the capital.

There were individuals among you," he said, "for whom I think I was able successfully to dissemble my love. In that respect they rank with some senators, representatives, plutocrats, labor leaders and others."

The colonel closed with a bit of humor that occasioned laughter, when he said:

"And now I am going to have a chance to shake hands with every blessed one who does not think his character will be hurt thereby."

In his lecture at convention hall last night he confined himself entirely to a discussion of the incidents of the trip, and evoked mingled laughter and applause as he told of the habits of the natives, the encounters with wild beasts and the remarkable collection of specimens, which, he declared, he was glad the expedition was able to obtain.

The colonel was introduced by Henry Gannett, president of the National Geographic society, who read a resolution of appreciation adopted by the society of Mr. Roosevelt's services to geographic science. As he sat on the platform the colonel caught sight of many familiar faces. There was Secretary of State Knox, Mr. Jusserand, the French ambassador; Justices Harlan and McKenna.

Confidence in Peary
Mr. Roosevelt mentioned among the achievements of the best photographs of a herd of wild elephants ever taken and the only photographs of live wild rhinoceros. He digressed a moment to mention that he was just about on the equatorial line when news reached him of the alleged discovery of the North pole by Dr. Cook. He said he did not believe it at the time. When he received news a few days later of the achievement of Commander Peary he declared he was confident that the pole had been reached, and added that he was glad of the stand the National Geographic society had taken in defending Peary.

Indirect allusion was made by the colonel to his recent strictures on the supreme court when he related an incident, which, he said, only Mark Twain could have done justice to.

rules even if the heavens fall," he continued. "Captain Smith, the head of the irrigation service in a North Africa town, had been trying to raise vegetables and flowers. One night a zebra came and his gardener killed the animal whereat the district judge promptly fined the gardener for killing."

The audience laughed as the colonel added: "I don't think the most sensitive soul could object to calling that judge 'fossilized.'"

After the lecture Col. Roosevelt held an impromptu reception, many officials pressing forward to greet him. Mr. Roosevelt will spend today here and leave for Oyster Bay Sunday.

GAS EXPLODED

Haverhill Woman Had a Narrow Escape

HAVERHILL, Nov. 12.—The windows and part of the interior of the home of Charles Fecteau at 20 Hillside street were wrecked yesterday afternoon by a gas explosion. Mrs. Fecteau was in the kitchen, but miraculously escaped injury. She turned on one of the gas cocks in the stove and lit it. Then, in turning, her skirt caught on another burner, from which the gas escaped, and when enough of the fumes had been emitted, they caused the explosion.

VANDERBILT GIRLS INJURED
NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Barbara and Margaret Rutherford, daughters of Mrs. Wm. K. Vanderbilt, were slightly injured yesterday when their automobile smashed into a fence just outside the entrance to the Vanderbilt estate, Idle Hour, at Oakdale, L. I.

The young girls had taken the car outside the grounds for the first time. It was a new car and they had been taught to run it by one of the Vanderbilt chauffeurs.

"They had no sooner got out on the public road when the car began to lurch."

There were individuals among you," he said, "for whom I think I was able successfully to dissemble my love. In that respect they rank with some senators, representatives, plutocrats, labor leaders and others."

The colonel closed with a bit of humor that occasioned laughter, when he said:

"And now I am going to have a chance to shake hands with every blessed one who does not think his character will be hurt thereby."

In his lecture at convention hall last night he confined himself entirely to a discussion of the incidents of the trip, and evoked mingled laughter and applause as he told of the habits of the natives, the encounters with wild beasts and the remarkable collection of specimens, which, he declared, he was glad the expedition was able to obtain.

The colonel was introduced by Henry Gannett, president of the National Geographic society, who read a resolution of appreciation adopted by the society of Mr. Roosevelt's services to geographic science. As he sat on the platform the colonel caught sight of many familiar faces. There was Secretary of State Knox, Mr. Jusserand, the French ambassador; Justices Harlan and McKenna.

Confidence in Peary
Mr. Roosevelt mentioned among the achievements of the best photographs of a herd of wild elephants ever taken and the only photographs of live wild rhinoceros. He digressed a moment to mention that he was just about on the equatorial line when news reached him of the alleged discovery of the North pole by Dr. Cook. He said he did not believe it at the time. When he received news a few days later of the achievement of Commander Peary he declared he was confident that the pole had been reached, and added that he was glad of the stand the National Geographic society had taken in defending Peary.

Indirect allusion was made by the colonel to his recent strictures on the supreme court when he related an incident, which, he said, only Mark Twain could have done justice to.

"Any of us who have had dealings with government officials know the type of bureau craft that will keep to the

REV. H. W. HOOK

Will Remain Another Year at St. Paul's

The present pastor of St. Paul's M. E. church, Rev. H. W. Hook, will remain for another year. At a meeting of the second and third quarterly conferences held last night it was voted unanimously to ask Mr. Hook to remain.

The meeting was presided over by the district superintendent, Dr. Rice, of Newtonville. The treasurer reported that the church is in a sound financial condition. All bills are paid and prospects look good for the coming year.

This meeting was followed by a meeting of the official board and was the second official board meeting that was held this week. Much important business was transacted and the increase of interest in the affairs of the church is very encouraging and gratifying.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION
A competitive examination of applicants for inspector of factories and public buildings will be held Dec. 7, 1910.

Applicants will be examined in training and experience, letter writing, arithmetic, handwriting, questions on construction and architectural work and ventilation, safety devices for machinery and elevators, modes of egress in case of fire, devices and appliances for extinguishing fires, simple questions in electricity, etc.

Applicants must be not less than 25 or over 50 years of age, except in the case of veterans, and not less than five feet, seven inches in height in bare feet, and must weigh not less than 135 pounds without clothing.

Special consideration will be given to the subject of training and experience.

Applicants will be given a physical examination. Only citizens of the United States, who have been residents of Massachusetts for the past year, have a right to apply.

LAWYER DIED SUDDENLY

SALEM, Nov. 12.—Patrick J. McCusker, a Salem attorney, died last evening at his office at 246 Essex street. He was taken violently ill, and two friends who were with him in his office sent for Dr. E. L. Peirson, who arrived too late, however, to render assistance.

Medical Examiner Frank S. Atwood said that death resulted from natural causes.

Mr. McCusker was a graduate of Holy Cross. In 1883 he served on the common council of Salem. He owned considerable real estate in Salem and the suburbs of Boston. He is survived by four sisters.

REAL ESTATE

Transactions Recorded During the Week

The following real estate sales in Lowell and the surrounding towns were recorded at the registry of deeds during the past week:

LOWELL

Bertha H. Beharrell et al., to Thomas O. Lyons, land and buildings on Smith and Taylor at $1000.

Walter E. H. Wilson to Henry D. Wilson et al., land on Plain and Manufacturers st., $1.

Sarah E. Clark's admr. to Mary A. Gray, land at corner Chapel and Central sts., $9000.

Alexander Atkin to Ralph T. Cutting et al., land and buildings on Bachman st., $1.

Ernest Dagley's est. to Walter S. Miller, land and buildings at corner Hammond road and Lilly ave., $650.

John J. Gray's est. to James H. McDermott, land and buildings at corner Quebec and Ayer ave., $7500.

Richard H. Hayes to Bridge Riley, land and buildings, $1.

John Sullivan to Eliza J. Jodoin, land and buildings at 21 Stanley street and Stanley ave., $1.

Mary Ellen Lucey to James F. McMenimen, land and buildings on Gorham st., $1.

Thomas E. Prior to Sam Asquith et ux, land and buildings on B. st., $1.

William E. Field to George W. Field, land on Townsend ave., $1.

BILLERICA

Aaron Adelman to George W. O'Brien, land on Broad st., $1.

Geo. H. Shields tr. to Mary McHugh, land at Nutter Lake Park Annex, $1.

Aaron Adelman to Chester L. Woodbury, land on Elm st., $1.

Aaron Adelman to Elizabeth M. McSweney, land on Elm st., $1.

Aaron Adelman to Fred J. Rice, land on Cross road, $1.

CHELSEAFORD

Perry A. Flint to Mary C. Lhuissier, land on Dunstable and Leeds roads, $1.

DUNSTABLE

Clifton R. Lougee to John H. Weston, land and buildings on Main st., $1.

TWICKSBURY

Grace V. Nickerson to Henry W. Schubart, land on Lake st., $1.

Grace V. Nickerson to Dennis E. Crenins, land on Oak and Water sts., $1.

TYNGSBORO

Arthur H. Hestford to James Bayles, land and buildings on road to Dunstable, $1.

Corah B. Bradley's estate by coll. to town of Tyngsboro, land on Nashua road, $1.

Mildred H. Allen's estate by coll. to town of Tyngsboro, land on Nashua road, $24.33.

WESTFORD

Hannah Parsons et al. to Edward T. Hestford, land and buildings on Central st., $1.

WILMINGTON

Frank W. Coughlin to William E. Bishop et al., land on Forest st., $1.

Frank W. Coughlin to Raffaele Silvestro, land at corner Federal road and Forest st., $1.

Margaret J. Wilnot to Ellen E. Spaulding, land and buildings at Pinegrove, $1.

Elizabeth M. Gilbert to Richmond F. Hudson, land on Woburn st., $1.

Union Ice Co. to Fred Manson Stevens, land on Cottage st., $1.

SENT TO PRISON

Men Held Up Manager of Restaurant

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—Three of the young men who held up the manager of a restaurant in Columbus avenue and fired shots at Patrolman Sullivan while escaping were yesterday sentenced by Judge Stevens in the superior criminal court to state prison.

Edward Shize was given from seven to nine years, Joseph D. Bibeau from six to eight and Frank Maher from six to eight. Walter Doyle will be sentenced later, as will John Burke. Doyle was examined by an alienist and found sane. The defendants took $52.45 from the cash drawer. They held up George D. Trustilis, the manager, with a loaded revolver.

The defendants are about 20 years old. Burke and Bibeau were convicted. During the trial Maher and Shize pleaded guilty. Doyle pleaded guilty before trial.

William J. McKecknie and James J. McKecknie, boy burglars, were also sentenced. They entered a store in Brighton on October 23. James was accused also of setting fire to the store. He was sent to the reformatory for five years and one month. James was sent to the reformatory for the usual indefinite term.

The indictment against Julian De Cyszkowski, accused of uttering a forged check, was placed on file with the understanding that the defendant would return immediately to Russia. He claims his mother is an actress in Poland, and his father a baron. Lillian M. Eddington, who was associated with him, was sent back to England a few days ago.

WASHBURN CROSBY'S

GOLD MEDAL FLOUR

FOR THANKSGIVING BAKING

COPYRIGHT 1910 WASHBURN CROSBY CO. MINNEAPOLIS MINN.

TRUNKS SEIZED BARELY ESCAPE

Smugglers Believed to be at Work

BURLINGTON, Vt., Nov. 12.—For the second time within a week a large consignment of goods has been seized by the custom house officials here, and neither time has there been any trace of the consignees or the consignors. The goods are valued at hundreds of dollars, and the persons wishing to claim them will have to put in an appearance at a hearing to be held the first of the year.

The first batch of trunks contained only women's wearing apparel. Smugglers are supposed to be at work.

Three trunks containing pieces of dress goods and wearing apparel for men, women and children, which were smuggled to this country from Canada by way of Albion, N. Y., were taken by customs officers yesterday for non-payment of duties and taken over by the department of justice on a writ of seizure and are now in the custody of United States Marshal Horace W. Bailey of this city. This is considered the largest seizure of this nature ever known to have been made.

A hearing on the condemnation proceedings will be held in this city Jan. 3, 1911. If the claimants on appearing fail to substantiate the claim for these goods they will be forfeited to the United States and sold at public auction to the highest bidder by Marshal Bailey.

ANNUAL SUPPER

Of the First Unitarian Society

The annual parish supper of the First Unitarian society was held last night in the church vestry. After the supper the annual business meeting was called to order by James Gilbert Hill and Mr. Walter Coburn was elected chairman pro tem. The meeting was then adjourned until Monday, Dec. 12, at 7.30 p. m.

The Channing Fraternity annual meeting was then called to order, Mr. Coburn presiding.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Rev. S. T. Billings; vice presidents, Messrs. George L. Hooper and H. R. Fletcher; Mrs. Henry J. Fay, Mrs. D. Dana Bartlett; secretary, Miss Mary S. Nickerson; treasurer, Mr. Albert S. Guild; editor of year book, Miss Mary S. Nickerson; assistant editor, Mrs. Henry J. Fay.

Committee on culture: Rev. C. T. Billings, chairman; Mrs. S. G. Whitfield, Miss Clara Beard, Mr. F. A. Wood, Mr. George L. Hooper, Miss Fannie Mansur, Mrs. J. F. Preston.

Committee on missions: Mr. George Bowers, chairman; Mr. Hamilton Burrage, Mr. Walter Coburn, Miss Minnie Gray, Miss Julia Stevens.

Committee on Country Week: Mr. F. A. Wood, chairman; Mrs. A. M. Paxson, secretary; Mr. J. A. Hunnewell, treasurer; Mrs. F. P. Cheney, Mrs. F. E. Dunbar, Mrs. E. J. Sawyer, Mrs. Ralph Brazier, Mrs. J. J. Kerwin, Miss Kate Burrage, Miss Emma Hosmer, Mrs. A. H. M.

Committee on flower mission: Miss Julia Stevens, chairman; Miss Anna Anderson, Mrs. W. B. Clark, Mrs. Henry J. Fay, Miss Florence Gray, Miss Helen Bowers, Miss Shattuck, Miss Harriet Coburn, Miss Frances Chadwick, Mrs. E. E. Carney, Miss Emma Hosmer, Mrs. George Cummings, Miss Mary S. Nickerson, Miss Rebecca Bartlett, Mrs. Arthur Ferguson, Miss Anna Pevey, Miss Sallie Hobson, Miss Beatrice Jennison, Miss May Brazier.

Auditing committee: Mr. George Harbert, Mr. H. A. Fletcher, Mr. Harbert D. Burrage.

Mrs. A. M. Paxson reported for the Country Week committee. The committee has had over $800 to work with, an unusually large sum, and 155 people have been sent into the country for periods of rest, ranging from one to four weeks, also 1000 street car tickets given by the Boston & Northern Street Railway company, have been used for the benefit of those who could not remain in the country more than one day at a time. The prime need of the work at the present time is to own a home for the children in the country.

Miss Julia Stevens, of the flower mission committee, reported that 1828 bouquets were distributed to hospitals and other institutions, and have given pleasure to many sick people.

Thanks were voted to the Conway Transfer Co. and the Boston & Maine railroad for transportation; to D. L. Fargo for ice cream contributed; and to the Boston & Northern Street Railway Co. for free car tickets.

LOWELL CHORAL SOCIETY
The success of the Lowell Choral society is now practically assured. At the meeting of the organization, held on Thursday night, the membership was increased to 215. The chorus is doing good work, and the soloists are singing in splendid voice.

HAVERHILL MAN

IS HELD ON A CHARGE OF LARCENY

HAVERHILL, Nov. 12.—Wilfred Moran, the local young man who, it is alleged, posed as a telephone inspector in this city and stole rings and watches in a local jewelry store while palming himself off as such and who left the city after his case had been continued in the district court, is in custody again.

After leaving Haverhill Moran, it is charged, stole $80 in Vermont and was arrested in Burlington, from where he will be brought to this city after he has answered to the charges there.

Wood! Wood! Wood!

For kitchen range, fireplace, or furnace. Now is the best time of the year to fill your bins. I carry the largest stock of wood of any fuel dealer in New England. I am my own wholesaler and retailer. I sell in any quantity from $1.00 worth to a carload. All you have got to do is to telephone 1180 or 2480 and tell us what you want. Mail and telephone orders will receive immediate attention.

John P. Quinn

Office and Yards, Gorham and Dix Sts. Telephone 1180 or 2480; when one is busy, call the other.

INK!

Opinions differ so greatly regarding the merits of different makes of ink that we have laid in a stock of ALL THE KINDS. We carry a full line of drawing inks in all the colors used. Look in our John St. Window, old favorites, half pints, pints, quarts, per 7c bottle.

R. E. JUDD

Bookseller and Stationer, 79 MERRIMACK STREET.

Protect Yourself!

AT FOUNTAINS, HOTELS, OR ELSEWHERE

Get the

Original and Genuine

HORLICK'S

MALTED MILK

"Others are Imitations"

The Food Drink for All Ages

RICH MILK, MALT GRAIN EXTRACT, IN POWDER

Not in any Milk Trust

Insist on "HORLICK'S"

Take a package home

AT FOUNTAINS, HOTELS, OR ELSEWHERE

Get the

Original and Genuine

HORLICK'S

MALTED MILK

"Others are Imitations"

The Food Drink for All Ages

RICH MILK, MALT GRAIN EXTRACT, IN POWDER

Not in any Milk Trust

Insist on "HORLICK'S"

Take a package home

AT FOUNTAINS, HOTELS, OR ELSEWHERE

Get the

Original and Genuine

HORLICK'S

MALTED MILK

"Others are Imitations"

The Food Drink for All Ages

RICH MILK, MALT GRAIN EXTRACT, IN POWDER

Not in any Milk Trust

Insist on "HORLICK'S"

Take a package home

AT FOUNTAINS, HOTELS, OR ELSEWHERE

Get the

Original and Genuine

HORLICK'S

MALTED MILK

"Others are Imitations"

The Food Drink for All Ages

RICH MILK, MALT GRAIN EXTRACT, IN POWDER

Not in any Milk Trust

Insist on "HORLICK'S"

Take a package home

AT FOUNTAINS, HOTELS, OR ELSEWHERE

Get the

Original and Genuine

HORLICK'S

MALTED MILK

"Others are Imitations"

The Food Drink for All Ages

RICH MILK, MALT GRAIN EXTRACT, IN POWDER

Not in any Milk Trust

Insist on "HORLICK'S"

Take a package home

AT FOUNTAINS, HOTELS, OR ELSEWHERE

Get the

Original and Genuine

HORLICK'S

MALTED MILK

"Others are Imitations"

The Food Drink for All Ages

RICH MILK, MALT GRAIN EXTRACT, IN POWDER

IN POLICE COURT "CAESAR" IS DEAD

Cash Register Agent Not Guilty on Larceny Charge

Alfred Moehenger appeared before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with the larceny of $10 from Alfred Blouin. The case was tried during the early part of the week but disposition was continued until today in order that the reliability of the testimony of the defendant might be heard. Lawyer James E. O'Donnell appeared for the defendant and after two witnesses had been examined the court found the defendant not guilty and ordered that he be discharged.

The case was brought before the court on the fact that it was alleged that the defendant sold the complainant a cash register, Moehenger claiming to be a representative of the American Cash Register company. It was testified to in court that the complainant gave the defendant a check for $25 and the latter gave the complainant $10 in cash. It is stated that the check was cashed but that the cash register did not appear in Blouin's store.

George S. Knowles, a salesman for the American Cash Register Co., when placed on the stand, said that he knew the defendant and had done business with him. He said that he had had a talk with Blouin after attempting to negotiate for sales in this city.

The court after considering the evidence in the case found the defendant not guilty and ordered him discharged.

He Came Back

John Cushing, who appeared before the court yesterday morning, was back in the dock again this morning, but he will not appear in the dock again for several months for he will spend the next few months at the state farm in Bridgewater. Cushing blew into Lowell, or rather came, in on a train, the day before yesterday and at that time he had $90 in his pocket. The night before last when he was placed under arrest it was found that he had but forty dollars. When he appeared in court yesterday morning he explained to the court that he had been up in northern New Hampshire and promised if given a chance he would leave Lowell, and on that condition he was placed on probation, but it seems that he was so elated over his temporary release that he hurried up against the first swinging door he came across and as a result of what followed he was arrested last night. While he wanted to talk to the court this morning after $11 was found that the prisoner had spent $11 from the time he left court yesterday morning until he was arrested, Judge Hadley decided to send the man away for an indefinite period.

Drunken Offenders

Michael Slattery was charged with being drunk and his wife appeared and testified that he struck and abused her at different times. A fine of $10 was imposed.

Matthew Garrigan was under a suspended sentence, but he violated the provisions of that suspension by getting drunk and this morning he was given a direct sentence of six months in the house of correction.

Placed on Probation

Gaspard Beaudry was charged with trespassing on the property of his brother Severin. He admitted his guilt, but according to what was divulged in court the brothers came to a mutual agreement and Gaspard was placed in the hands of the probation officer.

Arrested in Manchester

John Koehovis, who was arrested in Manchester, N. H., yesterday and who it is alleged knifed Wladyslaw Gownski in Lakeview avenue last Saturday night, appeared in court this morning to answer to a complaint charging him with assault and battery. At the request of his counsel the case was continued till Tuesday morning.

KEPT A SECRET

Brookline Girl Married

Three Years Ago

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—A romance has been disclosed by a letter sent by Augusta McLean from Saskatoon, Sask., announcing his marriage to Pearl Bridges, to whom, in reality, he was legally wed in 1907, at St. John, N. B., but which fact each was so careful to keep secret that the bridegroom recovered his health in the far west.

Nobody in Brookline, where the bride has lived for over four years, knew "Miss Bridges" as she was known, was married, until the explanatory letter was received this week. Then they wanted to know all the ways and wherefore, and Mrs. McLean laid bare the secret she had been withholding from even the relatives with whom she had been living.

In November, 1907, while on her way back from Berlin, F. B. L., where she had been visiting her parents, Miss Bridges married McLean and the couple came to Boston. Then they went to Providence, where they stayed a week. At the end of that time "Miss Bridges" returned to her home, in Brookline, while McLean continued his studies in a Providence business college.

After two years he entered the employ of a wholesale rubber firm as a bookkeeper. Breaking down under the strain of his employment, McLean decided to seek work in the west, where he could regain his health. Before leaving he made a pact with "Miss Bridges" that each should conceal the marriage. Buoyed up by the love of his youthful wife, McLean struggled to obtain a good livelihood in his adopted town. At last health came to him among the mountains and forests of Saskatchewan.

He did not forget his word, but not until yesterday did the girl of his choice hear the good news. Simultaneously with the letter to the Brookline paper she received a message from her husband. Mrs. McLean will go as soon as she can get ready to join her husband.

This is the letter McLean wrote to the local paper:

"Mr. Editor: Please insert the following in your next issue:

"Mrs. Augustus McLean, formerly Miss Pearl Bridges, of 147 Brooks street, Brookline, will shortly leave for western Canada to join Mr. McLean. The couple were married in St. John, N. B., three years ago. It has been kept a close secret until now, owing to the ill health of Mr. McLean, but he has now regained his former health, the western climate having agreed with him.

"Augustus McLean, 'Saskatoon, Sask.'

The romance which surrounds the marriage dates back to the time when Miss Bridges and McLean were attending the village school at Alberton, where they vowed they would be man and wife. Mrs. McLean, as well as her husband, has a host of friends and relatives in Prince Edward Island.

The bride is 22 and the bridegroom is 26. When Mrs. McLean was seen at her home last evening she was overjoyed at hearing the good news from her husband and was making preparations to join him in the far west.

W. A. LEWIS

Steam Dying and

Cleansing Works

FOR MEN AND WOMEN

49 John St. Morris Block

F. W. Cragin & Co.

MANUFACTURERS OF

Cabinet Work of All Kinds to Order

Stores and offices fitted up. Wood turning, jobbing and repairing. Old furniture repaired and finished, new furniture made to order.

40 Fletcher Street. LOWELL, MASS. Telephone

R. J. FLYNN, Auctioneer,

104 Central Street.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF STOCK AND FIXTURES OF THE GROCERY

AND BUTCHER SHOP, LOCATED AT 33 FRONT STREET, ON

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 22, AT 2 O'CLOCK.

I will sell at public auction the stock and fixtures of the above mentioned shop to the highest bidder. The stock consists of canned goods, scales, meat benches, and every necessary fixture and supply of a first-class grocery and butcher shop.

Sale will be held rain or shine.

Per order STANISLAW SURDERSKI, Mortgagee.

DR. TEMPLE'S TREATMENT

For Chronic and Nervous Diseases of Men and Women.

Dr. Temple's Treatment has cured thousands of people; among them were the worst cases of Cancer, Tumors, Catarrh, Chronic Diseases of the Lungs, Nerves, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bladder and Rectum, that it is possible to meet. Unfortunately, suffering people, many who had practically given up all hope of ever being cured, those who had doctored and doctored and were still sick, were cured by Dr. Temple's Treatment.

Acute and Chronic Blood and Nervous Diseases of Men and Women, Hydrocele, Varicocele, Stricture, Kidney, Bladder, Prostate, Piles, Fistula, Discharge, Ulcers and All Rectal Diseases Without the Use of the Knife, Diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat and Skin, Epilepsy and all Nervous Diseases except Insanity.

97 CENTRAL ST., MANSUR BLOCK, LOWELL, MASS.

Hours: Wednesdays, 2 to 5, 7 to 9. Sundays, 10 to 12.

FREE—Consultation, Examination, Advice—FREE.

GREAT DANE "CAESAR" VICTIM OF POISONING.

A Prince Among Dogs Has Been Poisoned

"Caesar," Bob Paradis' big Great Dane, the best known and perhaps most popular dog in Lowell, is dead, as the result of strychnine poisoning, supposed to have been administered by some person who was either afraid of the animal or whose garbage barrel had been upset a few times.

Paradis would give something to learn the identity of the poisoner, but doubtless never will find out who laid poor "Caesar" low.

"Caesar" was one of those dogs, undoubtedly that inspired the celebrated eulogy of Senator Vest, on a dog, for he was a most companionable brute and though one of the largest dogs in Lowell, was one of the most harmless. Children could maul and haul him to their hearts' content and he never showed anger, while he was the beloved of all the cats in the neighborhood, for he protected them from the assaults of other dogs and would never forget his gentlemanly bearing in their presence.

Last Sunday "Caesar" suddenly became violently ill and developed paralytic of the lower jaw. Mr. Paradis summoned Dr. Eaton, the well known veterinary to diagnose the case and the latter after an examination stated that the dog was suffering from either strychnine or phosphine poisoning.

"Caesar" was unable to eat and that was the best evidence in the world that he was ill. He was kept at home and tenderly nursed until Tuesday when he appeared to feel good and was permitted to leave the house. Mr. Paradis supposed that he would make for his down town haunts.

But from the time he left the house, "Caesar" was never seen again alive.

When he didn't appear home that night, Mr. Paradis notified the police and all patrolmen were notified to be on the lookout for him. None ever saw him for it appears that upon leaving home he wandered out into the country. Tuesday evening he appeared in Dunstable running along the road with his head almost touching the ground and the people who saw him imagined that he was suffering with the rabies and gave him a wide berth. He ran into the yard of a man named Curtin. The latter offered him food and something to drink but he couldn't take them and wagging his tail appreciatively started away again in the direction of Peppercall.

On Wednesday evening he appeared in Peppercall at the home of Miss Ruth Wilson. It was seen that the animal was suffering great pain and the members of Miss Wilson's family probably attracted by the unusual size and extreme docility of the dog gave him every attention, remaining up most of the night to attend to him and giving him a good bed and the homely remedies that suggested themselves to them. Thursday morning "Caesar" wagged his tail vigorously at his new found friends and started off through the fields. Later in the day a farm hand found his dead body in the field.

Everybody in Lowell knew "Caesar" and although he was only a dog he was an exceedingly good fellow as dogs go and he will be genuinely mourned and missed by his immediate friends.

"Caesar" was a Great Dane of the fawn type. He was over two years old, and during that time no dog was seen as often or attracted as much attention in Lowell as "Caesar." "Caesar" was sired by "Sport '11" owned by Joseph Gagnon in Dracut.

JUDGE J. J. FEELY

Addressed Company K, Sixth Regiment

The members of Co. K, Sixth regiment held a stag party at the armory last evening that was the most enjoyable affair that has been held there in a long time. A hustling entertainment committee consisting of Corporal S. K. Waller, chairman, Private Ralph Hickey and Private Taylor had full charge of the affair and they "did themselves proud" in arranging the program.

The guest of the evening was Judge Advocate Joseph J. Feely, of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery of Boston who spoke on "The History of the Militia of Massachusetts, Colony and State," and he traced the growth of the organization from the time of its incorporation in 1633 to the present.

Judge Feely spoke of the difficulties attending early efforts at organization and mentioned some of the objections advanced by the opponents of the military idea.

"Too much frolicking," was given as one reason, while a more serious objection to the militia was that noted by farmers and manufacturers that it took up too much time of their employees.

Judge Feely emphasized the fact that the Massachusetts militia has enjoyed the distinction of leading all other states in the Union.

One of the most enjoyable features of the evening was the first appearance of the Co. K's new orchestra, which made a pronounced hit. Co. K probably enjoys the distinction of being the only military company in the state to have its own orchestra. The orchestra consists of Corp. S. R. Waller, leader and piano; Warren White, 1st violin; Priv. Frank Huntley, 2d violin; 1st Serg. Sheldon, fute; Muscillon Jefferson, 1st cornet; Corp. Edgar Luce, 2d cornet; Muscillon W. Carr, drums. Mr. White gave several acceptable violin solos.

A lunch was served.

Judge Feely was present when the members of Company K were put through a drill by Capt. James N. Greig, and at the close of the drill, Judge Feely said the company compared favorably with other companies that he had seen in manual tactics in Massachusetts.

REP. THOMAS RILEY

WILL ADDRESS CELTIC ASSO.

CIATIS TOMORROW

Rep. Thomas P. Riley of Malden, the leader of the democratic minority in the legislature, and who made such a favorable impression in this city as a lecturer before the Knights of Columbus and as a campaign speaker, in the recent Foss railrover, will lecture at the request of the Celtic Association in Matthews hall, Dutton street tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. All are welcome.

LOTUS QUARTET

ENTERTAINED LOWELL TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

The Lowell Teachers association held a meeting in High school hall yesterday afternoon and enjoyed an excellent program by the Lotus Male quartet. This quartet sang at the recent teachers' convention in Boston, and made a tremendous hit. The personnel of the quartet is as follows: Robert Martin, first tenor; William Hicks, second tenor; Nelson Raymond, baritone; Frank Cannell, bass; and Helene Parley, accompanist.

The following program was given, and augmented by many encores:

"Away".....Brackett

"Song of the Soul".....Breil

"The Lotus Quartet".....Arens

"Gloria".....Buzal-Secchia

Mr. Raymond.

INTERMISSION.

"Miserere" (from "Il Trovatore") Verdi

Lotus Quartet.

"Conquered".....St. Quentin

Mr. Cannell.

"Remember Now Thy Creator" Rhodes

Lotus Quartet.

Mr. A. L. Bacheller, who was a delegate from the association to meet with a committee in Boston representing the state federation of teachers, now being formed, recommended that the Lowell teachers' organization join the state federation. The recommendation was accepted.

SEN. ELKINS IMPROVED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Senator Elkins of West Virginia, who was brought here recently suffering from a severe illness, was reported today as being improved. Mrs. Elkins and Miss Katherine Elkins, their daughter, who were with the senator at their West Virginia home, are now in Washington and expect to remain here until there is a change in the senator's condition.

LOST AND FOUND

ROLL OF BILLS containing couple of tens and the remainder in ones and twos, and in all amounting to $33 lost Saturday morning, Nov. 19, between 6th and 7th streets, near the corner of the street. Reward at 679 Gorham st. or tel. 1567-4.

SMALL BLACK POCKETBOOK lost Tuesday night between Gorham st. and 7th street. Reward at 679 Gorham st. or tel. 1567-4.

FOX TERRIER, four mos. old, lost with black head. Strayed from 226 Fletcher st. Reward for its return to F. X. A. Rutledge, 109 Port Hill ave.

FOUND—The place is not your baby carriage thrown out on while you wait. At 265 Bridge st. O. P. Proutis.

QUICK LOANS

To Housekeepers and Workingmen

HOUSEHOLD LOAN CO.

Wyman's Exchange, Cor. Merrimack and Central Sts.

Fifth floor. Take Elevator. Rooms 503 and 505

MON. FRI. AND SATURDAY EVENINGS UNTIL 9 O'CLOCK

$10 and Upwards

Settle Those Annoying Bills

POSITIVELY NO PUBLICITY

GET A LOAN FROM US—

LOWEST RATES

Small Weekly or Monthly Payments Accepted.

Courteous employees. Private rooms for free consultation. If you cannot call we will send an agent.

$5 THE $10 LOANS at

CO. $25

More than any other loan company in Lowell.

MILL OPERATIVES, CLERKS, MECHANICS AND HOUSEKEEPERS MAY BORROW MONEY.

Loaned without security. No waits, no investigations or red tape. Business strictly confidential. Two private offices; most liberal terms of any company in Lowell. Payable in small weekly payments. Office at 45 Merrimack street, on one flight, at head of stairs. Open every evening.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE

FORTE DE FRANCE, Martinique, Nov. 19.—A severe earth shock moving from the north southward was experienced here last midnight. No damage was done.

COUNT TOLSTOI IMPROVED

ASTAPOVA, Russia, Nov. 19.—At noon the physician attending Count Leo Tolstoy issued the following statement: "The condition of Count Tolstoy improved during the night. His temperature is 98.9; respiration good, but the patient continues weak."

ROYAL ARCANUM BOWLERS

The opening game of the Royal Arcanum bowling league will take place next Monday night when Lowell council and Rockham council meet on the Yeopier Boat club alleys. It is expected that there will be a large attendance.

HELP WANTED

TWO EXPERIENCED TABLE GIRLS wanted. Apply Quincy House, 63 Lee st.

THREE DRESSER TENDERS wanted for night work. Apply Musketat, 131 Davidson st.

MAN WANTED on level bed glazing machine. Apply Lowell Leather Co., Lawrence st.

YOUNG LADY or gentleman wanted to work in restaurant near City Hall. Must be neat appearance. Address D. H. B. Sun Office.

FIRST CLASS BOSS STARCHER wanted for a blanchery and finishing work. Must have experience in back filling. Address S. B. Sun Office.

FREE—Handsome 15 piece set decorated dishes. Sell 15 10c bottles Violet Perfume. Address Perfume, Sun Office.

CAUTIONER, brick and stone mason wanted for 4-tenement house. Call or day job. Apply A. M. Torrigian, 125 Charles st.

EXPERIENCED BURLERS wanted on wharf and fence, work. Call or write. Sidney Blumenthal & Co., Mill No. 2, Shelton, Conn.

870 NORTH—Customs, Internal revenue, railway mail clerks wanted. List of spring examinations in Lowell. Free preparation. Franklin Institute, Dept. 144, Rochester, N. Y.

EXPERIENCED GIRL wanted for general housework in family of two; must be a good cook. Apply at Sun Office.

ABLE BODIED MEN wanted for the U. S. marine corps, between the ages of 19 and 35. Must be native born or have first papers. Monthly pay $15 to $20. Additional compensation possible. Food, clothing, quarters and medical attendance free. After 30 years' service cash gratuity with 16 per cent of pay and allowances. Service on board ship and ashore in all parts of the world. Apply at U. S. Marine Corps Recruiting Office, Room 18, Rutledge Bldg., Lowell, Mass.

Wanted

Closers-on, Stayers, Closers, Women's Shops. Millar & Wolfer, Webster Ave., Chelsea, Mass.

WANTED

I WISH TO BUY a good square piano at once. W. F. Trumbull, 101 Westford st., from whom comes all great bargains in high grade upright pianos. Call at once.

WANTED TO BUY all kinds of new and old furniture in large or small lots. Come and see me before going elsewhere. It will pay you. F. J. Green, 12 Middlesex st. Phone 992-1.

SEAMSTRESS—Will go out by the day or take work home. Children's clothes, ladies' underwear and babies' clothing made. Reasonable prices. Mrs. J. C. Crawford, Room 69, Bon Marche block.

SECOND HAND FURNITURE wanted. Highest cash prices paid at F. J. Cusack's furniture store, 468 Central st.

FOR SALE

ONE TWO-SEATED CARRIAGE, a demerit wagon and Concord wagon for sale. Inquire 1403 Lakeview ave.

COMPLETE ELEGANT FURNISHINGS of 5-room modern tenement, bargain, as a whole or by piece. Good rent. Address X-7, Sun Office.

BOARDING HOUSE for sale, 15 chambers, at 93 John st.

LOUNGE HOUSE of 14 rooms for sale; all full; 1000 location; steam heat. Call 231 Appleton st.

RESTAURANT and lunch for sale; the best in the state; 1000 location; doing good business; best location; reasonable offer will buy it. Call 197 Main st., Nashua, N. H.

CUSTOM MADE HARNESSES for sale. Address C. M. H. Sun office.

MONEY TO LOAN

NOTES OF SALARIED PEOPLE and working men, houses and others, bought without security, easy payments. Offices in 66 principal cities. Don't be deceived by misleading advertisements. Investigate actual terms of others, then save money by trading here. D. H. Zelman, Room 49, 16 Merrimack st.

$10 Loans

AND UPWARD

Housekeepers—Workingmen—and Salaried Employees

You will find the AMERICAN a surprisingly different institution from the ordinary loan company you hear or read about. Confidential dealings, quick service, courteous employees, bright cheerful offices, consideration, treatment rates you can afford to pay, make us different. If you have never borrowed, or if your experience with other companies has not been entirely satisfactory, please call on us.

Let us explain the AMERICAN system. It will please you.

Call, Write or Phone 2434.

American Loan Co.

45 MERRIMACK ST.

Room 10, Hildreth Bldg.

THIRD FLOOR.

WHY

Borrow money and pay high rates of interest when you can get any reasonable amount from a reliable company at

ONE PER CENT.

per month on Planes, Furniture, etc.

LOANS

Made on day of application. Quick service and confidential methods.

If so convenient to call, write or phone, and we will have our representative call on you.

Merrimack Loan Co.

Room 5, 51 Merrimack St. or 17 John Street

Hours: 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Monday and Saturday until 9 p. m.

MISCELLANEOUS

SURGICAL INSTRUMENTS, knives and scissors sharpened; steel recut; saw filing and key fitting at HARRY GONZALES, 128 Gorham st., Tel. 953-2.

DRINK GLORIA for health. Sold everywhere.

MOTHERS—Dent's Destroyer kills lice on children, and all insects; cures dandruff and itching scalp; prevents hair from falling out. 26c only at Falls & Burkinshaw's, 415 Middlesex st.

SITUATIONS WANTED

GENERAL HOUSEWORK or kitchen work wanted by middle aged woman. Address N. Sun Office.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

FIVE HOUSE LOTS for sale on Tenth and Mt. Pleasant sts. John Keefe, 215 Tenth st.

Dry

